by Chris Petersen

Sophies will jump and give this aft from half past four til the dinner hour in the Union at ten centavos per head which should mean jangling jeans for octet of class cabinet members. And there's Windjammer Jamieson who puffed 300 balloons full of air for the affair which causes us to say that we'd hate to be in Phi Psi Jim Seizer's shoes if that babe ever game him the aif...

Remember the King?

Pee Phi Fo Fum Louise Ide cut Kappa See keed Jasper Clarke off like last year's bangs Tuesday eve after he dropped the hint that she couldn't resist his poisonality which leaves the field open for Sig New Willy the Horse Stuht and an Iowa laddie... Remember the King of Hearts, Bobby Irwin? He popped back from oblivion, yesteraft to file himself for BDOC which makes him female fodder for sure, oh sure... Phi Delt Bob Gillespie's name pops up at some of the oddest times...

Beauty Queen Lonely.

They say Dorm prexy Frances Drenguis has sliced off dragging deal with Bernard McKean, flying cadet for a geologist... Add Chi Oh Oh beauty queen Lynn Dale to the lonely and true list since Sig Nu Willy Richardson is up in the air for Unk Sam... AOPie Edna Siggins has no time for no one except Allan Canfield who squires her consistently enough to warrant a squib here... Keeping it in the family is Fiji Ding Dingwell who has dropped Delta Delta Delta Ruth Denny for Lyth Osterhaut, a new pledge bundle at that hut.

It's hard to imagine a Dee Gee running from a man but here's one that did. Marty Harrison happened to glance out the window of her room the other eve to see a man's face there. The babe made it downstairs in a second flat only to discover that it was a dummy, a practical joke of sisters... DU brothers got tht missing half of Don Young's mustache... An error, by the shades of truth. Our column of yesterday attributed a statement to Phi Psi Spence Porter when those very words tumbled from the mouth of DU Dunker. We just want to keep our decks clean... We're done now!

Hellzapoppin' ... Anything to Go at Gripe Club Session Next Week ... At Union

Got a gripe? Well, if you haven't someone else will have, and all of you are cordially invited to attend the new Gripes Club session, co-sponsored by, yes, it is—the Student Council forums committee and the Daily Nebraskan. And the chairmen? Of course you could never get this one—

Paul Svoboda and Chris Peterson. As we said before, you are cordially invited and staff members of the Daily and certain council members have promised on their word of honor to see to it that Swab and Chris do not monopolize the conversation.

What kind of gripes are acceptable? Just any kind, just any kind. For instance there is the Student Council or BMOC's. Now that is something new. No one has griped about them in so long that they have grown kind of, well—you come and gripe.

And then there is the Daily Nebraskan. Honestly, they would love to hear any criticisms and you can be sure they will be received in the best of faith.

There may be other things to gripe about, but these two are certainly original so think up something to gripe about and join the throng.

Jayhawker's Ping-pongers Here Saturday

KU Netsters Meet Nebraska in First Semi-annual Compet

University of Kansas Jayhawkers will compete against Cornhuskers Carl Erickson, Harry Ankeny, Marian Mann, and Jane Johnson for a ping-pong trophy to be presented by the Student Union and the KU Memorial Union at the first semi-annual meet to be held Saturday, at 2 p. m. in parlors X, Y and Z of the Union. A return bout will be arranged after the spring elimination tournament of be held at the Union.

In the recent tournament held to determine Nebraska's representatives men's singles champ, Erickson, playing with Ankeny, also captured the doubles title. Ankeny was runner-up in the singles division. Among the women, Marian Mann won the singles laurels, while she and Jane Johnson came out doubles champions.

Eight matches will be played during the afternoon, four singles, two doubles, and two mixed doubles. Students are invited to watch the playing. Leonard Goldstein, chairman of the Union committee on competitive games, will be the referee.

Coeds Advertise To Correspond In Honolulu

(ACP)—Soldiers and sailors, even in Honolulu, read the classified ads, five Westminster College coeds have found.

The girls, in an effort to keep the service men from being lonely at their Hawaiian outpost, inserted the following advertisement in a Honolulu newspaper:

"Five Westminster college girls, New Wilmington, P., would like to correspond with men in the army and navy."

Few of the letters were "mash" notes, most expressed their loneliness, while two sent poems, and one writer mailed a sermon on "helping the underdogs."

The students, unable to answer all the letters personally, have passed them out among other coeds, who will correspond with the senders.

War Retards Students' Plans for Married Life

By Student Opinion Surveys.

AUSTIN, Tex.—College youth, on the threshold of active participation in adult life, is having to postpone its plans for marriage.

How war is taking precedence over the every-day pursuits of most Americans is being seen everywhere every day, and how it is affecting the nation's young people is perhaps the most significant of social upheavals.

Opinions Change.

A national sampling of student opinion surveys of America indicates that while a year ago this month at least half of the students attending colleges and universities hoped to be married within two years after leaving school, today only one-third of them have the same expectations.

Interviewing students of all ages and incomes in a proportional cross section, the surveys placed this question before hundreds of collegians:

"How soon after you leave college do you hope to be able to be married?"

	Men	Women
said.....	1%	1%
Within 1 year	13	17
Within 2 years ...	18	20
Within 3 years ...	9	10
Within 4 years ...	5	9
Within 5 years ...	6	4
Within 6 years ...	7	5
Within 7 years or more.....	6	2
Depends on the war	17	14
Already married...	1	1
Don't know	17	17

Co-eds, it may be noted, are eager to marry sooner than men, but the hopes of all have diminished. Last year, for example, 22 percent more wanted to settle down within a year after graduation; now only 14 percent of both sexes have that hope.

No Rush to Altar.

That the draft created a rush to the altar, the figures tend to indicate, is a myth, at least among collegians. In 1941 only 1 percent declared they were married. This year the figure was identical.

Engagements, on the other hand, appear to be comparatively high. "Would you mind telling me if you are engaged to be married?" interviewers asked.

	Men	Women
Are engaged, said.	7%	10%
Are not engaged..	88.	84
Would not answer question.....	5	6

What constitutes a campus engagement, however, is open to debate. No doubt many fraternity men who have "pinned" a co-ed and many girls who have been "pinned" consider themselves "engaged to be married."

ROTC Officers Apply for New Assignments

Change of senior ROTC officers from their present department to the quartermaster's corps, if qualified at graduation, has been authorized by the war department, Lieutenant Colonel Zeck, of the UN military department, has announced.

If the student's major qualifies him for the quartermaster's corps, he will be given consideration for it upon application. This change is due to the present shortage of qualified men in this division.

Lieutenant Colonel Beck also said that 20 students, 16 from the infantry and 4 from the field artillery, have already taken this opportunity and are now taking preliminary instruction in fundamental phases dealing especially with the quartermasters' corps.

Ayres Injured In Car Crash

Joyce Ayres, former Union director at UN, received chest injuries and bruises from an automobile accident last week when his car collided head on with a truck driven by William Gabler of Grand Island.

The crash occurred on the Platte river bridge five miles south of the city. Traveling directly behind a truck driven by Ed Lukesh of Ord, Ayres swerved to the left preparatory to passing the truck when clear of the bridge and hit Gabler's heavily loaded transport truck coming from the opposite direction.
