Student Activities On The Decline

Interest in extra-curricular activities has been on the decline for the past three years. The number of students participating in the activities of the various organizations on the campus is much smaller than it was last year or the year before.

This lack of participation can be seen by looking at the roll call of the men's pep club, Corn Cobs. Each year there are sixteen new members chosen from those working for the club. Right now there are barely enough workers to complete next year's member quota.

This listless participation of students in activities is an unhealthy condition. If there are only a few workers for each organization or publication, the stimulation derived from competition is absent and as a result the general effectiveness of each group is lessened.

The Student Council has taken cognizance of this fact and is initiating a program which it hopes will educate incoming students in the values of participation in student activities. A committee has been appointed to study the desirability of creating an office to be known as the general secretary of student activities.

It will be his job to coordinate all the extra-curricular activities of the university so that duplication of effort will be eliminated. He will formulate a plan by which the incoming freshmen of next year will be acquainted with the various activities in which they may participate.

The Student Council's proposal is a meritorious attempt to renovate student activities at Nebraska and educate students to these activities. But if the activities secretary is to achieve any measure of success, he must be given broad powers and should not be tied by too many strings to the Student Council or to any other organization or society.

"Luscious Lucius" Beebe of Broadway cafe society fame has often been the target of verbal darts in Walter Winchell's syndicated column.

Not "Luscious Lucius" but Duane Beebe is our man; not in cafe society but in ROTC circles is our Beebe well-known. The UN Beebe is a field artillery officer in the ROTC and a leader in Red Guidon, artillery officers' organization.

Beebe Versus Beattie.

At the last meeting of that organization, he was nominated for the captaincy, top position. His opponent for the position was J. G. Beattie. Here was the situation: Duane Beebe versus J. G. Beattie. The setting is laid.

When the two returned to the room after the election had been completed, retiring captain, Howie Zorn of intramural football fame, announced the winner, Beattie.

While Beattie and Zorn stood at the front of the room waiting for the applause to subside, our UN Beebe, who had already reached the back of the room retraced his steps and joined the two facing the group.

B-E-A-T-T-I-E.

"Thank you very much for electing me captain," Beebe began. "I recognize this as a great honor."

Calm, cool Zorn was the first to recover. "There's been a mistake, Mr. Beebe. The new captain is Mr. Beattie, B-E-A-T-T-I-E."

Red Guidon officers says that Beebe's face was as red as any guidon ever made.

Foundation Announces County Heads

Newly Appointed Finance Chairman Also Chosen As Group Outlines Plans

Completed yesterday was organization of the newly formed Nebraska Foundation as John J. Douglass, general chairman, announced the finance chairman and members of the executive committee representing each of the six regents districts.

Chosen were Robert Guenzel, finance chairman; Betty Klingel and David Wolcott co-chairmen, first district including Lincoln and vicinity; Ann Arbitman, second district, Omaha; Ronald Metz, third district, north-western Nebraska; Lila Jean Howell, fourth district, central Nebraska; Polly Ann Petty, fifth district, southern Nebraska; and Preston Hays, sixth district, western Nebraska.

Two representatives were chosen for the Lincoln district because almost one-fifth of the student body is from Lincoln, Douglas declared.

At a meeting last night at the Union, the Foundation committee outlined three lines of endeavor for the near future: (1) High school essay competition; (2) High school assemblies thruout state; (3) Entertainment for high school students at state basketball tournament.

Money is Problem. According to present plans, the Foundation will give a prize to the high school student who writes the best essay on "What I want of the university in these times."

With the main problem of securing money to finance its campaign, Douglass said that the Foundation plans to sponsor assemblies in high schools where representative UN students can speak and answer questions. When high school students come to Lincoln next week for the high school basketball tournament, the Foundation hopes to have an entertainment program arranged for the students.

YWCA Board Holds Dinner For Cabinets

Members of the Y.W.C.A. advisory board entertained last year's cabinets and the cabinets on city and ag campuses at a dessert supper last night at the home of Mrs. W. W. Burr.

Frances Keefe, past president, made a report of the work accomplished during the past year and gave her suggestions to the new officers and cabinet. After her report, members of the cabinet which served under her presented to her a piece of silver.

The meeting of the old and new cabinets is a tradition in the Y.W.C.A. on this campus and has been carried on for many years in the past. Instead of the usual supper, it was decided that a dessert supper would be served this year and the extra money put into the treasury in keeping with every day efforts to conserve.
