Council Postpones Action on Election

Although presence of unaffiliated leaders indicated a lively Student Council meeting yesterday afternoon at the Union, committee reports were read, and the Council adjourned without doing anything about the spring election, source of most of the interest.

Dale Theobald, acting as chairman because of the absence of Burton Thiel, Council president, said that there were some matters which will be discussed at the next meeting "when Thiel is present."

Date for the spring election was tentatively set for April 21, depending upon approval of the university. Still being discussed informally at the end of the meeting was hours that the polls should be open.

Harnsberger, Barbs Differ.
Barbs asked that the polls remain open until 9 p. m., and Dick Harnsberger, chairman of the elections committee, stated that under the present plans they will be open from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Mary Rosborough, reporting for the "Victory Book" campaign committee, sat down in disgust when none of the men on the Council would volunteer or offer any suggestions for the collection of books from fraternity houses. She announced that a goal of 10,000 books for men in the armed services had been set, and that Becky Wait had been named to collect books from the faculty, Shirley Heldt from sororities.

Boucher to Talk To Uni Women On Education

Chancellor C. S. Boucher will speak on "Education in Emergency" at the general meeting of the American Association of University Women March 14 at the Athletic club in Omaha.

Local educators who will be guests of the association include Rev. Thomas S. Bowdern, S. J., dean of the Creighton university graduate school; Hobart M. Corning, superintendent of schools; Dr. Edgar A. Holt, dean of the college of arts and sciences at the University of Omaha; and W. E. Reed, University of Nebraska regent.

Lutherans Hold Annual Student Day Services

Visiting Alumni Come For Sunday Meetings; Hahn Speaks at Dinner

The annual Lutheran Student Day will be held Sunday at the Union, beginning at 10:45 a. m.

The affair, held annually in collaboration with the visiting alumni, will begin with a regular Sunday morning service in parlors X, Y, and Z, where an address of welcome will be given by Rev. H. Erck, university Lutheran student pastor. The principal sermon will be delivered by Rev. R. W. Hahn of Chicago.

Following the service the group will assemble for a dinner in parlors A, B, and C, where they will be greeted by Mr. O. H. Sunderman of Omaha, who will act as toastmaster for the afternoon's activities. Principal speaker will again be Rev. Mr. Hahn.

Rev. Mr. Hahn, formerly employed as student pastor at the University of Alabama, is the national secretary for student welfare in the Missouri synod of Lutherans. He is making a tour of the midwest colleges and universities, and is currently visiting this campus.

After the dinner, the alumni will assemble for election of officers and a short business meeting.

Two Judging Teams Enter Texas Compet

Two judging teams will represent Nebraska at the Southwestern livestock exposition at Fort Worth, Tex., beginning Saturday, March 21, and lasting through the 22.

A livestock judging team composed of Don Roth, Harold Hansen, Ronald Jerauld, Dwight Sloan and Floyd Pumphrey and their Coach Prof. M. A. Alexander, associate professor of animal husbandry at the college of agriculture, leaves Lincoln Thursday noon. The team will compete Saturday.

Ranking as one of the leading agricultural events in the southwest, the livestock judging contest is expected to draw 17 universities and colleges as participants.

Roth, Hansen and Sloan will be members of a meats judging team which will compete next Tuesday.

UN Committee For Defense Meets Today

All campus organizations are invited to send delegates to the meeting of the national defense committee at the Commuters club of the Union today at 5 p. m.

The invitation is being sent out as a part of the committee's program to give every big organization a chance to participate in university civilian defense.

Recently Organized . . . Foundation Opens Essay Contest in High Schools

Sponsored by the newly formed Nebraska Student Foundation, an essay contest has been opened for high school seniors in the state to stimulate interest and increased registration in the university, as announced yesterday by John Jay Douglass, chairman of the Foundation.

Of 750 words or less, essays are to answer the question: "Why I want to attend the University of Nebraska in these times." Entries should be typed double-spaced, on one side of the paper only, according to the rules of the contest.

As awards will be announced shortly after May 1, entries must be in the office or in room 305 of the Student Union, not later than April 26, to allow adequate time for judging. Essays will be judged on originality, idea, and expression. Judges are Professor R. W. Frantz, Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, and Dr. David Felton, all of the university faculty.

An award of $25 each payable upon matriculation at UN will be given to the winning boy and girl. In addition, thru the courtesy of the "Cornhusker," a copy of the 1942 annual will be given to the six regents' district winners.

Also announced yesterday by the president of the foundation was the recent election of Lila Jean Howell as vice-chairman of the organization. Polly Petty was chosen secretary and Randall Pratt, radio director. Bob Schlater was appointed publicity chairman.

On Ag Campus . . . Block and Bridle Club Elects New Members

By Dale Wolf.

The Block and Bridle club voted in new members at a meeting Tuesday night. The newly elected pledges are: Keith King, Merle Brinegar, Paul Eveland, Sam Wiggins, Vance Pumphery, Dale Wolf, Milton Olson, Robert Oswald, Jack Goodding, Calvin Dahlke, Ivan Madsen, Don Warner, Don Tracy, Rudolph Tomek, Lloyd Jerauld, Willard Visek, Miles Cadwallader, and Lee Biggs.

These men will work as pledges during the Jr. Ak-Sar-Ben and will be initiated in a few weeks.

Other business taken up at the meeting was the discussion of the details of the show. It was decided that Joe Watson would judge the Ak-Sar-Ben. Watson is the present president of the State Agricultural Agents and a graduate of the ag college.

With the critical condition of farm labor, it seems more than likely that more boys from this campus will be journeying home to help their parents on the farm come May 24 than have in the past. Many of these students who have stayed in Lincoln during the previous summer now find it necessary to go home because their brothers have been drafted into our defense program.

This problem will undoubtedly be one that affects the agricultural industry and one that is going to require the aid of every able bodied man.

UN Host as State Cage Meet Begins

Host to 320 high school basketball players, their coaches and fans, the Student Foundation has planned a series of speaking tours on and about the campus to better acquaint them with the university.

In place of the usual dry, formal tour, the foundation will conduct players and coaches thru laboratory classes, quiz sections, and libraries, so that they may see the university in actual operation. Coaches will be asked to encourage players to go on these tours, and to send any questions which might arise to the Foundation.

Upon arrival, guests are asked to register at a special desk for that purpose in the lobby of the Student Union, where every player will receive a free guest card, a free copy of the Daily Nebraskan, an illustrated copy of a university bulletin, and a letter from Burton Thiel, president of the Student Council.

Representing the best teams in the state as decided in the district play-offs, the 320 players make up 32 teams which meet at NU in annual competition for the state championship of their respective classes. The four classes, A, B, C and D, are grouped according to enrollment.

'Happy Daze,' USO Musical To Play Here

Entertaining army students and staff personnel of the Lincoln air corps technical school at Whittier Junior High school Monday night at 8:30 p. m. is "Happy Daze", one of the 12 musical variety shows now making a coast to coast swing of camps and naval stations on the USO military circuit.

There is no admission charge, and the public is invited to attend to hear headliners from the stage, screen and radio including Ade Duval, the Three Rays, Arthur and Morton Havel and Maurie Brennan's band.

The last USO show, the "Sepia Swing Revue" scored a big hit here among service men, townspeople and students, and Monday's show comes with top advance notices.
