

Kosmet Klub Selects Fun Cast for 'Football Crazy'

They'll be widening the aisles of the Temple theater to make room for Kosmet Klub show-goers to roll with laughter in, for Prof. L. A. Martin, director of this year's show, announced a cast yesterday that includes every funnyman on the campus.

Hit of every spring show is the pony chorus, and here are the names of the men in it this year: Jim Shelley, Sheldon Kaufman, Rod Rice, Roger Cannel, Jim Stillwell, Ren Bukacek, Bob Fast and Mike Selzer.

And as singing, dancing, romantic females in the show, "Football Crazy" from the crazy pen of Bob Aldrich will be Bill McBride, veteran of male parts in University Theatre productions, who will be a female glamour girl and Bill Smutz, track star, whose lovely legs reportedly won him the role as oomph coed of the crazy college. They will be wooed by Darrel Peters as Stanley, the male romantic lead.

Fat and talkative, nervous and ambitious, the part of Mrs. Updike, wife of the president of the college, will be taken by Norris Swan. Dick Arnold will be the president, Horace P. Updike.

Like Throttlebottom in "Louisiana Purchase" the part of Maximillian "I'm in corsets" Potts will be taken by George Blackstone who had everybody attending try-outs giggling.

Football players taking parts as football players will be Bob Hyde as Elmer Glutz, Lynn Meyers as "Searface" Rasputin, and Randall Salisbury as Tuff.

Selzer Is Zip.

Non-football players taking parts as football players will be Jim Selzer, Zip O'Hara and Bob Gelwick, Ruff. Active but not playing at the football game will be Spence Porter.

Mrs. Lucille Aron Named In Bogen's Place; Begins Casting of 'Seven Sisters'

Mrs. Lucille Aron, whose appointment as director of the University Theatre and instructor in speech and dramatic art became officially effective yesterday, will replace Paul Bogen who was recently called to duty in the Officers Reserve Corps.

Mrs. Aron comes from Doane college at Crete where she has been director of the theater group for a number of years. She received her A. B. degree from Doane and her M. A. from the Northwestern university department of speech. She has done additional study at the Pasadena Play House and at Columbia university.

Ivy Poem Contest Open To All Coeds

All undergraduate girls are eligible to enter the Ivy Day Poem contest. The winning author will read her poem to the May Queen during the ceremonies the morning of May 2.

The poem must be relevant to Ivy Day and to its traditions. Three manuscripts must be handed into the office of the Dean of Women and no name may appear on any of the manuscripts. Enclosed must be a sealed envelope containing the name of the poet.

The judges will be Drs. France, Wimberly, and Louise Pound. The deadline will be soon after Easter.

Announces Next Play

Immediately upon assuming her new duties, she announced that the next and last play of the University Theatre's season will be Edith Ellis' "Seven Sisters."

This play is a farcical comedy, at times hilariously funny, with the military costumes and the authentic Hungarian setting adding much to the comedy which centers about a tradition.

"Seven Sisters" concerns a mother and seven daughters. It is her task to marry off her daughters, but still keep the tradition of marrying the eldest first. From this tradition comes many complications, with the younger daughters having to play an important part in the attempts to

ROTC Band Will Present Concert at 3

'Battle Scene,' 'Victory Bell' Highlight Program Today in Union Ballroom

Mr. Ward Moore, assisted by Mr. Lyman Lorenson, trombonist, will conduct the university's second ROTC band in a concert at 3 p. m. Sunday in the Union ballroom.

Outstanding selections of the program are Schelling's "Battle Scene" from the "Victory Ball," and Bennett's "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow." Both numbers have a stirring story. "The Battle Scene" tells the tale of marching troops who never falter, regardless of the distractions, but keep on marching to victory. "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" is the musical portrayal of the well-known story of Ichabod Crane, the poor country school teacher. The program will be presented as follows:

If Thou be Near: Bach.
Sunday Morning at Gilon: Bendel.

Following a breakfast Saturday morning at the Union, a business meeting was held at which the Wheaties of Wichita university and the Varsettes of South Dakota, not now affiliated with Phi Sigma Chi, were placed on probation for a year after which they would become eligible for charters in the national organization.

Jean Humphrey Reed, president of Tassels, presided at the business meeting. Discussed was the possibility of equal representation of all sororities in the individual chapters, and also adoption of a more efficient merit system. A news-letter may be published.

Friday night the group attended the Uni Theatre's "Androcles and the Lion" and spent Saturday afternoon at the University club. Next year's convention will be held at Topeka, Kas.

Students are asked to apply as soon as possible to Miss Rutledge at her office near the loan desk on the main floor of the library. The examination will be held in the reserve reading room at 9 a. m.

On Ag Campus... Chance of A Price Boom Is Tug-of-War Proposition

"It looks like a tug-of-war proposition," said Dr. H. C. Filley, chairman of rural economics, in regard to the question of whether or not land prices will boom in Nebraska. On one end of the rope are such factors as the recent increase in prices of farm products, prospects for a return to more nearly normal weather conditions, and the natural reaction to the very low land values of recent years, which tend to shove the prices of Nebraska farm land upward.

Equalizing the pull by the counteracting forces are such things as increased production costs, price ceilings on farm products, and high taxes, which tend to hold land prices down. The large number of farms now held by unwilling owners, such as mortgage bankers and other former mortgage holders, is acting as a brake on land prices. Until those farms are sold, there can be no great competition for land.

Adams Remembers Wars

About 100 years ago, John Adams, second president of the United States, made this statement: "I am old enough to remember the war of 1745 and its end, the war of 1755 and its close, the war of 1775 and its termination, the war of 1812 and its pacification. Every one of those wars was followed by general distress, embarrassment of commerce, destruction of manufacture, and the fall of prices of produce and lands."

Harvard Prof to Speak At PBK, Sigma Xi Dinner

Prof. Lionel S. Marks, professor of mechanical engineering at Harvard university until his retirement in 1940, will address the annual joint banquet meeting of the university chapters of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi April 13.
