

UN Foundation Lists Chairmen

Student Foundation swung into full action with the announcement of the full list of county chairman yesterday. There are only four counties, Blaine, Arthur, McPherson and Wheeler where the Foundation has no chairmen. Thus far they have no record of any students attending school from these counties, but any which may be here should file for the position at the Student Council office.

Letters have been written to the local papers of each town in each county thus far to secure the cooperation of the editor in publicizing letters about students of the university from each town. Chairmen are now busy contacting students from their section.

Also the foundation is getting in touch with the president of the senior class of each town, asking them to come to Lincoln for their sneak day, when they will be taken on tours of the campus. Several groups already have been conducted around the university, including students from Missouri.

All the county chairmen are asked to contact their district chairmen before 5 p. m. Tuesday. The county chairmen are as follows:

DISTRICT 1—Betty Klingel, Dave Walcott.
Lancaster: Priscilla Mosely.
Cass: Mary Allen.

Filings Indicate Hot Struggle in Election

Campus politicians having put aside their big whips with completion of party caucuses, spring election prospects point to an interesting struggle with the attempts of Barb leaders to overthrow the greek domination of the Student Council.

Major issue to be decided is the proposed amendment to the Student Council constitution, backed by the newly organized unaffiliated faction, the Nebraska Independent association. In the spring election, the proposal was overwhelmingly beaten.

WSSF Drive On UN Campus Ends Monday

The World Student Service Fund drive on this campus will end tomorrow after a two weeks campaign. Committee chairmen will meet the first of next week to report and tabulate the amount of funds turned in and pledged.

The work of the WSSF, in going into camps where Americans are being held prisoners, is the newest part of the program and has developed since the entrance of the United States into the war. The WSSF is the only organization which can go into prison camps with books and send representatives into the camps. All other drives on this campus have been for men in the forces here in this country or for casualties of war.

"This is the only drive for men who have had to leave the U. S. and who after that were fortunate

Music School Gives 'Elijah' in Concert ... On April 26

Concert presentation of Mendelssohn's oratorio "Elijah" under the direction of Dr. Arthur E. Westbrook will be given Sunday, April 26, instead of May 3 as previously announced.

One of the great composer's last works, "Elijah," is considered among his finest creations. Mendelssohn never completed any significant operatic music and seems to have given full expression to his dramatic ability in this oratorio.

The story concerns the life of the caustic prophet of the Old Testament. One of the exciting episodes tells how Elijah challenges the priests of Baal to a showdown on Mount Carmel. They agree that the god who answers their offering by kindness will be accepted as the true God.

Worshippers Sing Hymns.

The Baal worshippers make the first appeal, singing pompous hymns to their forest gods and mountain deities. The offering is untouched. Then in solemn and humble reverence Elijah makes a simple and hushed entreaty to Jehovah. The offering is consumed in flames, and Elijah sings the famous aria, "Is Not His World Like a Fire?"

Featured soloists in the oratorio are Elizabeth Farquhar, soprano; Nina Armstrong, alto; Richard Koupal, tenor, and Cleve Gerzlinger, baritone. The chorus participating in the oratorio is a choral union of the agricultural college chorus, directed by Mr. Altinas Tullis; the University Singers II, directed by Donald Glattly; and the University Singers I, directed by Dr. Arthur Westbrook. They will be assisted by the university orchestra, under the direction of Emanuel Wishnow, Earnest Harrison at the piano and Myron Roberts at the organ.

The program is as follows:

Introduction—baritone—As God the Lord Overture
Chorus—Help, Lord
Duet—soprano and alto—Zion Spreadeth Her Hands of Aid—with chorus
Recitation—tenor—Ye People Rend Your Hearts
Airs—Tenor—If With All Your Hearts Chorus—Yet Both the Lord See Not Recitative—alto—Elijah Get Thee Hence Double chorus—university singers—For He Shall Give His Angels
Recitative—alto—Now Cherith's Brook
Duet—soprano and baritone—What Have I To Do With Thee
Recitative—baritone—and chorus—As God the Lord
Chorus—Baal, We Cry To Thee
Recitative—baritone—and chorus—Hear Our Cry
Recitative—baritone—and chorus—Baal, Hear and Answer

Three ROTC Instructors Get Promotions

Three instructing officers of the military department have received promotions from the war department, it was learned yesterday.

Promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel was Major Walter A. Gardner, director of the field artillery unit. Promoted to the rank of major, were Capt. Edward E. Mutschallat, infantry instructor, and Captain Edward T. Whiting, field artillery instructor.

Unlike last fall when there was no opposition to greek candidates, barb and Union candidates filed for every position, and if rumors concerning progress in the organization of the barbs is true, the races for posts promise to be close.

Dick Harnsberger, phone 2-6693, chairman of the Student Council elections committee, announced yesterday that changes in the names of candidates, their backing or any other revisions in the present lists must be reported to him before Monday when ballots will be printed.

Tuesday is the deadline for the filing of photographs of candidates in the election. Pictures, application size (2"x3 1/4"), must be turned in to Marjorie Bruning at the Daily Nebraskan office for publicity purposes.

Announcements in the Daily which stated that one woman would be elected to the Student Council from bizad college was reported erroneous by Harnsberger, and women filing for the position, were automatically disqualified.

Thirty-eight Teams Enter Union's Quiz

Thirty-eight teams of three members each have been entered in the Union's Bainstormers' Quiz-whiz to be started the latter part of this week or the first of next. Exact dates will be announced later.

Patterned after the popular radio program, Information Please, the quiz-whiz will use questions covering current affairs, art, and topics of general knowledge.

To increase the chances of any one team, members will be allowed a short time to confer upon the question and thus may pool their ideas.

First prize in the quiz will be five dollars in defense stamps apiece for the members of the winning team and two and one-half dollars apiece for the members of the team that places second. Winners will be selected after a series of elimination rounds.

Victory Books Go for Service Men in Nation

Mary Rosborough, chairman of the Victory Book drive, has announced that the books collected on the campus are now being sent to army camps in all directions.

She was notified of the shipment by the city librarian who said they appreciate student contributions making up over a third of the district quota with which student contributions combine.

Student defense committee desires to thank Stephen McCarthy, university librarian, Nancy Haycock, Becky Wait, Laurel Morrison and the others who helped.

Newman Club Hears University Editor's Address

Miss Emily Schossberger, university editor, will discuss "Student Organizations in Pre-War Vienna" at a breakfast meeting of the Newman club Sunday morning at 10:45 in parlors A and B of the Union.

Miss Schossberger was born in Austria-Hungary and has studied and taught at a number of European universities.
