

Prof. Fullbrook Discusses War Economics at Lecture

—Lincoln Journal
E. S. Fullbrook.

Prof. Earl S. Fullbrook of the economics department will discuss "American War Economics" Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the next lecture of the university's series on "America and World War II."

The public is invited to attend the lecture which will be given in the Union ballroom.

Prof. Fullbrook received his B. A. degree from Morning-side college. He took graduate work at the University of Iowa where he received his M. A. degree in 1918 and a Ph. D. degree in 1921. After teaching at Iowa university, he joined the university faculty in 1920 as assistant professor of marketing. He taught in the summer session of City College of New York in 1937. The speaker is a member of the American Marketing society, and Beta Gamma Sigma, and is the author of several publications.

At Mass Meeting . . . YW Members Make Plans for Next Year

Intended to plan the entire YWCA program for next year, the second mass meeting of the year for all YW members will be held Wednesday, April 22, in Ellen Smith from 7 to 7:45 p. m.

Helen Kelley, president, urges all members to be present, for the group is trying to determine a program which will interest every university woman, upperclassmen as well as freshmen. This will be done by planning interesting and varied staffs for participation next year, and by discussing at this mass business meeting ways of broadening the scope of the YW.

A list of prepared questions will be asked at this meeting of individuals and of the group as a whole to feel the pulse of the university trend and to better qualify

Civil Service Announces New College Exams

The Civil Service Commission is announcing a new examination for college graduates and senior students interested in their Junior Professional Assistant positions. Those who pass the examinations satisfactorily will be eligible to fill positions at $1,440 to $2,000 a year.

This new examination is announced for all branches of junior professional and scientific work, but eligibles are particularly desired in the fields of public administration, business analysis, economics, home economics, library science, and mathematics thru calculus.

Applicants must have completed a four year college course or must be enrolled in the last semester or last quarter of the senior year. Those who meet these and other entrance requirements will be given a written test to measure their general knowledge and aptitudes. The commission is planning to give this test early in May, hoping to establish the eligible lists the first week in June so that appointments can be begun as soon as possible.

Additional information and proper application forms may be obtained at any first or second class post office or by writing to the Washington office. Applications must be forwarded so as to be received in this office not later than April 27.

Support Universal Subscription.

the group to make adequate plans for next year's YW. To be particularly considered at the meeting will be the future financial plans for next year's budget.

Each member will receive an official notice of the meeting which should reach her Monday. Organized houses will be telephoned and reminded before Wednesday night.

Support Universal Subscription.

Delta Sigma Pi Leads I-M Debate List

Results of the first four rounds of the intra-mural debate tournament have been announced by Bert Smith, manager of the tournament.

Out in front with four victories credited to them, is the Delta Sigma Pi team, with victories against Phi Kappa Psi, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Chi, and Phi Gamma Delta. Running a close second

(See DELTA SIG, page 2)

Boucher Calls Armed Forces Committee . . . Bengtson Chairman

A special committee on the Armed Forces Enlisted Reserve Programs has been appointed at the University by Chancellor C. S. Boucher.

Dean Nels A. Bengtson of the Junior Division is chairman of the committee with other members including Deans John D. Clark, O. J. Ferguson and T. J. Thompson.

Programs offered by the navy and army provide for enlist-

—Lincoln Journal
Dean Bengtson
. . . chairman of new committee

ment of college men with promise that the students will be permitted to pursue college programs for at least two years and in some instances to graduation. All such

See BENGTON, page 4)

Twelve Teams Vie for Finals In Union Quiz

Preliminary bouts held yesterday in the Brainstormers' Quiz, a question bee patterned after "Information, Please," and sponsored by the Student Union, find 12 teams left in the running.

Because of the close scores of the first and second place winners it was decided by the Union Competitive Games committee in charge to allow both top teams to enter the semifinals, which will be played off Wednesday or Thursday of this week.

Semifinals and finals will be run in the same fashion as the first round matches in two divisions of six teams. Participants will be notified when to meet, and notices will be placed in the Union building, also.

Two finalists will be chosen, and (See UNION QUIZ, page 2)
Support Universal Subscription.

Navy Proposes Cornhusker Flying Squadron Program

Formation of an air squadron of "Flying Cornhuskers" in the naval reserve is proposed by the naval aviation cadet selection board at Kansas City which is planning a special program to interest applicants on this campus April 27.

Two motion pictures, "Sailors with Wings" and "Eyes of the Navy," will be shown at 5 p. m. in the Social Science auditorium. Lieutenants V. F. Halliburton, G. R. Van Arsdale, and J. M. Ranney will be on hand to explain the naval aviation program.

Set Up Office

On April 28 an office will be set up all day in Nebraska hall to interview any men interested in the program, and a navy doctor will be on hand to give preliminary flight physical examinations.

Squadrons of "Flying Jayhawkers" and

"Flying Wildcats" already have been formed at the University of Kansas and Kansas State college, according to naval officials. The course of training for a commission as naval aviator, known as Class V-5 in the naval reserve, requires about twelve months. General requirements specify that applicants be unmarried male citizens between 19 and 26, and educationally, morally, physically, and psychologically qualified.

Selected applicants will go first to the University of Iowa for a physical conditioning course, then to Gardner, Kansas, for primary flight training, and finally to an advance naval base at Pensacola or Jacksonville, Florida, or Corpus Christi, Texas, before entering upon active duty. It is planned to keep members of any "Nebraska squadron" together through at least the first two phases of the training.

Former UN Student Found Dead at Airport

Private Jerome Long, former university student, was found shot to death behind his barracks at a San Francisco airport yesterday, army air corps headquarters announced.

Long was a member of Kappa Sigma when he was in school and will be remembered by many on the campus. His fiancée, Ruth Grosvenor, received word of his death late yesterday. Long's home was in York, Neb.

Support Universal Subscription.

'Let's Explore Your Mind' Writer Speaks to Students on Abilities

Dr. Albert E. Wiggam, daily columnist of "Let's Explore Your Mind," syndicated for over 50 papers, will speak to university students at a convention in the Union ballroom at 4 o'clock today.

Dr. Wiggam will speak on "Making the Most of Your Abilities." The eminent psychologist will discuss choosing careers, discovering and developing abilities, and the art and science of getting along with other people. Dr. Wiggam will give a unique mental test and demonstrate how intelligence and aptitude tests are made and used.

Not only is Dr. Wiggam an inspiring lecturer but he is also a noted author. In addition to writing four best sellers, the most famous of which is entitled "The New Decalogues of Science," Dr. Wiggam is a constant and popular contributor to "Good Housekeeping," the "Cosmopolitan," and "Reader's Digest." At present he is at work on two books, "Who Shall Inherit America" and "Making Brotherhood Work—the New Decalogue of Democracy in Business, Industry and Education."

Support Universal Subscription.