

UN Baseball Team Starts 4-Game Trip

Coach A. J. Lewandowski and fourteen members of his 1942 baseball edition will embark this afternoon on a four game road trip which will carry them to the campuses of the University of Minnesota and Iowa State.

A last minute announcement that Al Artman, sophomore first sacker, would be ineligible for the trip left a gap in "Lew's" fast infield. It is probable that Bob Cooper will take over the initial bag during the road trip.

Yesterday afternoon's practice dealt with the ironing out of any detail flaws that might bother the Huskers during the trip.

In an effort to find out how his pitchers will act under fire, "Lew" will carry five hurlers on the trip.

Fourth spot on the team will go to one of these: Murray Crummer, Omaha; Ed Dosek, Lincoln; Glen Elie, Aurora; Edward Lof, Omaha; Tom Uren, Omaha and Don Albin of Lincoln.

There are three varsity tennis lettermen returning: Harry Ankeny, Lincoln; Leon Davis, Hastings, and Keith Howard, Omaha. ## Betas Advance To I-M Softball Finals, Win 8-3

Taking advantage of Dale Weibel's wildness, the Betas advanced to the finals of the intramural softball tourney by defeating the Farm House 8-3.

After holding the Betas in check for two innings, Farm House pitcher Weibel ran into trouble in the third frame when he walked the bases full and then served a three base hit pitch to Tom Hyland. Before the Betas could be retired five runs had come across the plate.

Ernie Smethers, Beta hurler, didn't run into trouble until the Farm House last bats, when he allowed two scores to come in.

Sports Whirl

By Bob Miller

John Selleck, the one who holds the athletic purse strings is still smiling despite the world conditions, financial conditions etc. . . . Selleck announced that the 1941 football receipts have not been touched as yet and that Nebraska finances shine like a rosy red apple. . . That's nice to hear amid all of the talk from other colleges doing away with athletics for the duration. . . And also his pet idea, the field house, is progressing nicely.

The other afternoon, not having too much to do, we wandered through the partially completed structure which is destined to take its place in the Husker athletic fold within the next year. . . The building is being whipped into shape at a pretty fast clip. . . Even the tunnel which is to connect the east stadium dressing rooms with the field house is complete except the final door work. . . It will, if everything goes as scheduled, be ready for next fall's grid-iron wars.

Husker baseball hopefuls will journey to Minnesota for the opening game on their 15 game schedule. . . The first game will be on Friday and another will be held on Saturday. . . Then next Monday and Tuesday, the Huskers will meet Iowa State in the first Big Six test of the current campaign. . . Coach Ad Lewandowski found out that the May 7 game with Oklahoma Aggies will be a night tilt.

IT looks like Boston baseball fans will have something besides their beans if their two baseball teams continue winning ball games as they have been doing. . . The Red Sox finally took over the lead in the American league while the Braves are sharing the leadership in the National. . . Ted Williams feels relieved as he is stepping along the Red Sox bid. . . He was originally classified in 1-A in the draft and then along came the baseball season and a change in his draft status placed him in 3-A.

BILL Lyda, Oklahoma's versatile star, can claim some record or something. . . He is good for any distance from the century to the three mile run. . . He has been consistently in the top of the nation's track men through the indoor season. . . He captured both the 440 and 880 in the Big Six indoor and in the recent Kansas Relays he was one of the sprinters who paced the Sooner sprint team to victory. . . He has a 4:25 mile effort to his credit besides being the second best two miler in the conference.

PETE Watkins, jumping for the Texas Aggies' track team, is rapidly developing into one of the best of the nation's high jumpers. . . In a practice jump recently, Watkins cleared 6 feet 8 1/2 inches to break the existing southern conference records. . . A team mate, Roy Bucek, covered the 220 yard lows in 23 seconds flat this week in an effort that equaled Freddie Walcott's best time for the distance.

JOE DiMaggio is keeping up with Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox Williams in the batting department. . . Duplicating William's feat on opening day, Jolting Joe lambasted one terrific home run, a double and a single in three trips to the plate on Wednesday to keep step with his arch rival. . . We predict a new batting average to be written on the books by the end of the current campaign by either Joe or Ted.
