

Pink Rag, Jr.
by
Jean Baker

My, what plans a little rain can ruin. Friday's shower not only cut short the rag picnic at Linoma Beach but dampened the playgrounds of the FeeGees and ATOs. Yes, yesterday afternoon's activities had to be postponed for the next two weeks and the dance was held at Antelope park instead of the usual outdoor pavilion back of the ATO house. Down for the dance was Dale Ruser, last year Phi Gam and his pin-mate, Maxine Fuller, Pi Phi from Omaha...Ray Treinen, Phi Gam, and Frankie Haberman, Alpha Chi, spent only a short time at the dance as Ray was off to Chicago to make arrangements with Uncle Sam...

OAPis Soaked.
Several AOPis and their dates really got soaked Friday night when they attempted a picnic in all the downpour. Dripping into the AOPi house came prexy Kay Hanley with Marv Thompson, Phi Gam, Penny McBride and Jack Ranz, also a Phi Gam, as well as Edna Siggins with Allen Canfield from whom she received a diamond recently...Another diamond as yet unreported is the one shining on Helen Kovanda, Gamma Phi's left hand from Lynn Myers, ATO...

The Alpha Chis had their annual May breakfast Saturday morning, despite it still being April, with the juniors acting as hostesses. Guests included the seniors who were all togged out as Mammy Yokum, the sophomores who came as Big Stoop, and the little Freshmen, the perfect pictures of Merrily...Food was plentiful at the varsity band banquet Friday night we hear...Not so plentiful for sure these days, however, is the supply of Coca Cola and the union grill has found a substitute which they call Towne Cola, which is very good, we've found

Coeds Got Horsey.
Helen Gogela, AOPi, had a delightful preview of the big Sigma Nu formal Friday night when she received three dozen red roses from pin-mate, Forrest Buckles, Sig Nu from Iowa...All those who love a good horse show should take in the free one to be given today at the coliseum on the fair grounds in which several sorority girls are riding and showing. Pat Chamberlin, Theta, Janet Gibson, Gamma Phi, and Mary Beeson, Kappa, will be there in all their glory...The Kappa Sigs entertained royalty last night at the Cornhusker with a big banquet and guests from chapters at KU, MU, K State, Baker and Washburn...The Country Club was really a festive scene Friday night with Beta, Sig Chis and Phi Deltas everywhere you looked...Congratulations are due to the fifteen new Corncoobs since Thursday night, and also some notice should be given to the tree-climbing ability of Bob Gritzfeld, Alpha Sig... Come Sunday there is a day of rest then see ya, Tuesday...

If it's laughter you're after, toddle on down to the Stuart and lie in the aisles with Abbott and Costello in RIO RITA. It's sure-fire entertainment.—Adv.
