

Huskers Prep For Missouri Tilt Saturday

Nebraska Track Squad Finishes Second at Army Triangular by One Point

Coach Ed Weir's track aggregation turned in a neat performance made up of many individual performances of note as the Huskers finished second to host team, West Point in a triangular meet on Saturday.

The Husker team left New York for the home trip on Sunday evening after an overnight stay in the Metropolis of all.

Meet Tigers Next.

When the Scarlet squad returns their work will be cut out for them as they meet the University of Missouri on Saturday at Columbia.

The Tigers bowed to the superior forces of Notre Dame on the same day that the Huskers were being entertained at West Point by a 67-50 margin. The big noise of this meet was the two-mile effort of Notre Dame's Ollie Hunter.

Hunter Breaks Record.

Hunter broke the tape after his long journey in 9:22.4 to break a two year old record held by Mizsolu's John Munski. Joe Shy, Missouri hurdler, was the high point performer with 11 points to his credit at the end of the afternoon's activities.

He won the 60 yard low hurdles and took second in the high and the 60 yard dash. The meet was scheduled for the outdoor track but due to weather conditions it had to be moved inside.

The duel between Jim Delaney of Notre Dame and Elmer Aussieker of Missouri which began at the past Drake Relays in which the latter took first in the shot put came to a final test.

Delaney finally got his pellet out 50 feet 4 1/2 inches which was plenty good to take first.

Half Was Best Race.

The close race of the afternoon was the half mile in which Richard Tupta of the Notre Dame squad nosed out Ray Rayl of the Tiger clan in 2:00.5. Owen Jaggerst won the 60 yard dash with Shy second for Missouri.

The Saturday match between the Tigers and the Huskers will be both team's final warm-up for the important Big Six championships which will be held at Nebraska on the week end following.

Husker Team See Opponent In Four Sports

Nebraska's athletic teams are in for a busy time this week.

Coach Ad Lewandowski's baseball team will head south on Wednesday afternoon. They will meet the Oklahoma Aggies under the lights on Thursday evening for the first time a Husker baseball team has played under the arcs in the history of the school.

After one game with Coach Hank Iba's A. & M. aggregation, the Huskers will head from Stillwater for the Oklahoma Sooners in Norman where they play two games on Friday and Saturday.

The Sooners are league leaders at this point and are reported to have the best team in the history of the school.

The track squad will square off with the University of Missouri in a duel meet on Columbia cinders. The tennis and golf teams inaugurate their home season, entertaining Oklahoma on Lincoln courts and links, respectively.

The group will sleep in Memorial Hall, at the camp, on cots and equipment remaining from the previous National Guard companies. Breakfast the following morning will be served at 4:30 a. m. Following the breakfast, the tactical problems, begun the previous evening, will again be worked through. The group will arrive back in Lincoln for 9 o'clock classes.

To Become Annual Affair.

"This is the first time Scabbard and Blade has given such a rush party, and we are going to try to make it an annual affair," stated Dick Arnold, newly elected captain of the fraternity. The men who are invited are present active and alumni members of the fraternity and sophomores who will be in advanced drill next fall.

Scabbard and Blade is a national honorary and professional fraternity for advanced drill officers of the senior ROTC units of the country. It is the only military fraternity recognized by the United States Army. The company at Nebraska, Company "C" of the third regiment, has been on this campus since the ROTC unit was established. At present there are 93 companies in the national organization.

Faculty Holds Main Position On New Board

Change Made By Regents To Conform With Big Six Rule in Regard to Control

University of Nebraska athletics soon will be under the control of a new board to be known as the Board of Intercollegiate Athletics and will replace the old Board of Athletic control set up in 1923.

The revamped system which will go into effect on June 1 differs from the old system in that the faculty now will hold voting majority.

According to the rules of the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic association known as the Big Six and the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, athletic control in member schools must be vested in the faculty.

Four Represent Faculty.

Four of the seven voting members will represent the faculty, two will be chosen from the membership of alumni association and one will be from the student membership of the N club.

The faculty members will consist of R. D. Scott, professor of English; John D. Clark, dean of the College of Business Administration; T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs and H. P. Davis, head of dairy husbandry department of the college of agriculture.

Representing the alumni association will be George Holmes, president of the First National bank of Lincoln and John Riddell, York attorney.

Dale Bradley, Husker football star, will be the N man on the board.

Of the new board membership, Professor Scott, Dean Thompson, Holmes and Riddell are members of the existing system. L. E. Gunderson, finance secretary; L. F. Seaton, purchasing agent and John K. Selleck, acting director of

Sports Whirl

By Bob Miller

● NEBRASKA'S track forces did themselves up right back at the West Point triangular on Saturday. . . The Huskers were second to the Cadets by one point with the Columbia team finishing third. . . The final reckoning saw the Cadets first with 78 1/2 to Nebraska's 77 1/2 and Columbia's seven tallies. . . The meet was one of the best ever held at the Military Institute and it certainly boomed Nebraska stock on the east coast.

● OUT of the 15 cinder artists making the trip, 13 scored important points while the other two were handicapped by injury. . . Husker performers left two track records after their invasion and the two records will probably be on West Point books for some time to come. . . Little Bobby Ginn finally hit the stride of which he is capable as he barreled through the half mile jaunt in the good time of 1:54.7 which is plenty good from a standing start. . . He also ran the mile in 4:22 which is keeping pretty good pace with the thought of another half mile staring him in the face.

● SURPRISE of the afternoon to coach and team mates was the showing of the mile relay team composed of Bob Bowles, Al Brown, Bill Smutz and anchored by Bill Conner. . . This foursome got out onto the track and whipped off the mile in 3:21.7 breaking the Cadet track record.

● SOME of the other performances are worth noting. . . Harold Hunt got back up to his 14 foot standard again as he won his event. . . Howard Debus stole a large part of the show. . . He gathered a second in the pole vault with a 13 foot effort and what was the big surprise, he tossed the javelin out 204 feet 5 1/4 inches for second place. . . His cast was the best of his career and outdoes by 30 feet anything that he has accomplished this season. . . Husky Ki Eisenhart took a surprise second in the discus as he followed Edsel Wibbels in the platter event. . . Red Littler returned to his tape-breaking form in the 100 and 220 dashes. . . His times were not too fast but they were good enough to win. . . Bill Conner showed up the best of his career when he captured the quarter-mile dash in 49.7. . . It was quite a meet and quite a trip for the Huskers and they should be cutting some fancy antics come the Big Six meet a week from this Friday and Saturday.

● SHUT OUT, three year old son of Equipoise, is ruling king of the Kentucky Derby after his driving finish in the annual classic held Saturday in Churchill Downs' palatial atmosphere. . . If you can call a grandstand with betting booths doing a two million dollar business in one afternoon and with horses galore intermingled—palatial. . . Eddie Arcaro, tiny Italian jockey, picked the wrong horse for the afternoon. . . After due deliberation Eddie chose to ride Devil Diver from the Whitney stables also with the $7,000 first place jockey money in mind. . . He could have ridden eitherhorse but finally picked Devil Diver. . . The latter finished sixth and it was a chagrined Arcaro who wended his way to the jockey quarters following the race.

● CONNIE WARMERDAM has done it again. . . He has added inches to his outdoor pole vault record. . . In the Pacific association track and field meet Saturday he cleared 15 feet 6 3/4 inches and barely knocked off the bar at 15-9. . . His indoor mark stands at 15-7 1/4.
