Spring serenades a la love. And we don't mean Love Hall. And speaking of Love Hall, we want to register a plaintive complaint from Northeast Hall over at Carrie Belle along with Love. It has to do with serenades, the fraternity, male kind. These poor little Belles are so far from the front of the building where all serenading goes on that even the noisy voices of the Sigma Nus go unheard. And don't think these girls are unappreciative of serenading either. Just ask the four Betas who were recently showered with cigarettes in return for their enterprising.

Now we don't like Dorothy Dix and her dainty daily column, but can we help it if we're pushed into this thing by the deadeye Delts? We are asked, we are begged, we are implored to get (1) a date with Peg Elliot, Alpha Chi, for Jack Spittler, and (2) another date with Theta Becky Wait for Max Wilson. And please, girls, turn in the results for future publication.

Pin Passing Passes Us.

A pin passing that passed us by was the recent donation that Roy Prochaska added to Joan McCoy's Chi O decorations. Would the lady like orchids? What lady wouldn't?

Let's go to the Delta Sig spring formal way out at the Broadview country club under tonight's luscious lunar lamp. Shall we let Floyd Hewitt and Jean Marie Stewart transport us? Or Warren Jeffery and Barbara True, Tri Delta, or Joe Flammang and his Chi O Gloria Hansom, or Joe Anderson and Alpha Z Delt Peggy Jones. Brother John Castle, cousin of Theta Weezy Lefler's pin-mate of last long ago, is trucking down via a telephone to drag the dame to the aforesaid dance.

Wedding bells and baby rattles. Congratulations to Butch Luther, former football stellar DU, and wife Marion Bowers Luther, who are proud of their new addition to the family in the form of a new baby boy, weight six bouncing pounds. Or do they bounce that young, Marion?

Wedding Bells. . .

The above wedding bells which are soon to ring for Theta Bets O'Shea and Phi Psi Jake Morrow will ring but soon—May 27 to be exact. And today Tri-Delt Kay Duermeyer is getting right into the spirit of things with a shower for the bride-to-be at the Country club. (The shower to be at the club, not the bride-to-be, although of course the bride-to-be will be there.)

Special permission enabled the Alpha Chis and Phi Gams to picnic together tonight at Antelope park. Those who will share potato chips with the bison include Kay Trenchard, with Art Schmale, Frankie Haberman with pin-mate Ray Treinen, who is about to leave her for the coast guards. And to be sure those Buller sisters will be on hand, Myridene with Morrice Dingwell, and Jerry with Fritz Wolfe.

And who is it that Theta Harold "Hoppy" Hopkins, Keppy Sig, is dating tonight? Looks as if it might be vivacious Sheila Wheeler on the receiving end of so many telephone calls lately. Tch, tch, and she is partial to Phi Psi Bill Thornberg, too.

Weekend Stuff. . .

Sailing up from KU will be one Bob LaGree to see—ah, Pi Phi Mary Louise Goddard. This will go on all week end, too. And DU Kenny Newhouse who is disappearing into the army the 15th, is madly playing in preparation. Sunday night he is dining Jean Gettis, Gamma Phi, at the DU house, and allowing Mary Lou Holtz, Alpha Chi, and brother Bud Wehrman to trot along for company.

On the books for Saturday's saga in soup and tails, is the annual banquet and dance of the

Sh-h-h . . . UN Gets Second Dance Mystery at N Club Party . . . May 16

Mystery, like the veil of the sultan's wife, enshrouds the "N" Club's first Queen of all Queens in a cloud of dark glamour as six beautiful coeds vie with each other for the honor of being the first in UN's history to merit the new title.

Selected from a field of 25 campus queens, Beldora Cochran, Betty Marie Wait, Lois Drake, Betty Nichols, Alice McCampbell and Virginia Ford will attend the dance as the queens of queens, and one of them will be presented as THE Queen of ALL Queens.

In order to choose the candidates, N Club men watched the 25 original queens for a period of two weeks and then voted for the six they like best. Next these six were invited to dinner, and after that the members voted on their choice of the Queen of All Queens.

And she is, N Club members assure everyone, a queen. But her name won't be revealed until one week from Saturday, May 16.

when Tony Pastor and his band play for the annual "Fun" party.

With the gals in informal dresses, sweaters and skirts or suits and dancing in high heels, gaiety and comfort will reign at the party. Pastor plays hot songs in an individual style and the drummer of his band, Johnny Morris, was the composer of the song hit of a few years back, "Knock Knock." His latest number is "Paraddiddle Joe," composed in collaboration with Pastor.

Tickets for the dance are priced at $1.50 per couple, and may be purchased from the Student Union office, McGee's, the Uni Drug or from an N Club member.

WAA Presents Four Awards At Ag College

Beverly Kindig and Romaine Ross received WAA scholarships. Ruth Fairley the senior cup and Jean Humphrey Reed the year's activities' plaque at the annual Ag WAA mass meeting Tuesday afternoon from 5 to 6.

Installation of new officers elected at the spring election was held before the awards.

Bad Weather Postpones Band Concert Date

Band concert originally scheduled for Wednesday night was postponed until May 20 because of bad weather.

The concert will be held in front of the stadium as originally planned at 7:15 in the evening. This will provide an hour of entertainment and relaxation from exams that week.

Tickets for Ag Religious Council Picnic Go on Sale

A Religious Council will hold a picnic this Sunday, at 5 in Antelope park, for which tickets are now on sale at 25 cents each.

Leah Jane Howell, president, is in charge of the affair; co-chairmen are Carol Garver, tickets; Lucena Churchill, food; and Bill Heusel, program. This picnic is the last event to be sponsored by the Ag Religious Council this year, and all ag college students are urged to attend.

Pharmacy club. Seen at the Cornhusker that night will be a lot of people and Rosy Rosborough, Theta, with Melvin Gibson.

We close with an ode to the beautiful sun-blond couple cooking Thursday afternoon in the Union, who were very disconcerted when the friend to whom a bus-boy in the "employ" resorted to learn their names told Charline Mullin and Jerry Kaplin they were under observation. Did we say we were feeling poetical? Well, we were, but the words weren't. . .

Tests Show . . . Bad Temper May Be Better Than Good One Say Psych Profs

EVANSTON, Ill. (ACP). "Bad" tempers are often better than "good" ones, but a medium temper is the best of all, conclude two Northwestern university psychologists.

Dr. Graydon L. Freeman and Ernest Haggard tested 20 boys' emotional arousal by playing a game in which, as in professional gambling, they could not win.

Emotional reaction was studied by means of measurements of perspiration on the palms. Muscular reactions also were studied, to determine what sort of action the boy attempted to counteract his losses.

Conclusions: 1. The original nervous perspiration of an individual has no relation to his behavior during periods of anger.

2. In a stressful situation, the person who reacts outwardly—shows a temper—will recover internal stability sooner than a person who remains outwardly calm—has a "good" temper.

3. The person who directs his energies directly toward his problem recovers inwardly faster than either the outwardly calm person or the violent one who does not attack the problem directly.

4. In a stressful situation a person who is emotionally excitable and becomes excessively aroused will "cool off" more slowly than the person who reacts inoderately.
