War Group Holds Magazine Drive On UN Campus

A drive to collect magazines for army camps over the country is being carried on throughout this week by the Student War Council. Individuals and organized houses are all urged to contribute as many magazines as possible. To be handed in at the Union lobby every day at any time this week, magazines should not be more than four months old, should be in good condition and should provide good reading. Students wishing to help with the collecting Friday should turn their names in to the Union office.

The University of Alabama has started a course in communications technology.

Hurlers Get Two One-Hit Decisions

C. Leach, Rice and Garey Yield to Cyclone Batters But Twice in Two Games

By Gene Sherman.
 Excellent pitching combined with timely hitting was enough for the lowly Huskers, as they broke into the win column by taking both games of a twin bill from the highly favored Iowa State team yesterday by the scores of 1-0 and 4-0, respectively. Carl Leach held the usually hard-hitting Iowans to one safe blow in the opener as he vied with Al Strohbehn in one of the best pitching duels ever witnessed on the Nebraska diamond. After allowing the second man he faced to hit, Leach settled down to a masterful job.

Leach Scores.
 Leach also played a great part in the scoring crossing the plate with the winning tally. After opening the last of the sixth with a single, he advanced to third on Pat Boyle's hit, and came across the plate on Bob Heinzelman's single. Due credit must be given to Al Strohbehn of the visitors who held the Huskers to four safeties. Strohbehn was given credit for both of the Cyclones victories in the series at Ames. A close decision at first, in the nightcap, robbed Nebraska's pitchers, Rice and Garey, from a no-hit game as the rejuvenated Huskers made a complete day of it. Clark Rice, starting hurler, ran into trouble in the fourth frame when he loaded the bases on the one Cyclone hit and two free passes. Bob Garey was then rushed into the game to stop the uprising.

Jump On Stater.
 The locals jumped on Willard Mylenbusch for 13 safe blows of which only one was good for extra bases. Big noises in the Husker attack were Bob Heinzelman and Jake Sedlack. Heinzelman had three hits to his credit while Sedlack had a double and a single. The Huskers bring the curtain down on the 1942 season this Friday and Saturday by entertaining the strong Kansas State nine.

Summary first game:
 Nebraska R. H. E. 1 4 0
 Iowa State 0 1 0
 Batteries—Leach and Jackson; Strohbehn and B. Scharnberg.

Second game:
 Nebraska R. H. E. 4 13 0
 Iowa State 0 1 2
 Batteries—Rice, Garey and Jackson; Mylenbusch and B. Scharnberg.

Husker Swimmer . . .

Cliff Lambert Effects Rescue During Early Morning Flood

. . . Monday in Epworth Park

Training received on the University of Nebraska swimming team enabled Clifton Lambert, letterman, to effect a daring rescue Monday morning during the Salt creek flood.

Lambert, a junior this year, tried out for the swimming team in his sophomore year. He did not have too much speed but under the able tutelage of his team mate, Les Oldfield, he began developing.

Swam Distances.
 During the season, he developed into a distance swimmer, competing in the 220 and the 440 free style events. He won a minor letter that year.

Keeping in shape by swimming is his forte. Thru the summer months, he swam most of the time and was ready for the season. In his swimming this season, Lambert captured some important points in his two events.

Families Fled.
 When the flood hit Epworth park in the southeast part of Lincoln early Monday morning, most of the families had to run to escape. Mrs. Edna Yeager was one of the people concerned.

She and her husband along with their children attempted to get out of the flood area in the car but when the water stalled the engine, they had to run. Mrs. Yeager tripped and fell and was caught in the flooding water.

Swept Down Stream.
 Her husband attempted to save her but was unable to do so and Mrs. Yeager was swept along with the raging torrent. She managed to catch a log which supported her for a half mile where she caught a building.

It was about 6 a. m. when Lambert saw her. Since he lives near where Mrs. Yeager was holding on to the building, he was able to help her. He swam out to her in the muddy water and supported her until they were picked up in a boat.

Mrs. Yeager was weak from a blow on the head received while she was being swept down with the water. Cliff maintains he's no hero but his knowledge of swimming and life saving tactics helped him through a big crisis.

N Men Search For Prospects All This Week

Don't forget the N club members on Saturday night. They are the ones responsible for putting on the big N club dance which annually is the hit of the campus.

The reports have it that it isn't safe for spectators to come within shouting distance of an N man, they can't escape his persistent sales plea.

The dance which will be held on Saturday evening will conclude the Big Six track and field championships which will be held on Friday and Saturday. Besides Tony Pastor and his band, the dance will show to the outside world, the choice of the N club for the queen of all queens on the Husker campus.

All members of the club have tickets and will be ready, willing and able to sell them if they just have someone to listen to them.

A complete record of Kent State university housing facilities is being made by sociology students to be forwarded to the war department for use in case of an emergency.
