High School Course Begins on Thursday

... At School of Music

In spite of the curtailment of the means of transportation, the applications for the all-state music course for high school students have already exceeded last year's enrollment of 100 by 25. The course will begin Thursday and run till July 2, according to Dr. Arthur E. Westbrook, director of the school of fine arts.

Instruction will be offered in orchestra, chorus, band, music theory and appreciation. Private lessons will be given in Piano, violin, organ, cello, voice, harp, brass and percussion and woodwinds.

Many prominent musicians of the state will serve on the staff of the course. Walter Olsen, supervisor of music in Fremont schools, will teach woodwinds, brass and percussion and will direct the all-state band. Lytton S. Davis, supervisor of music in Omaha schools, will be guest conductor for the choral groups, and M. H. Shoemaker, supervisor of music in Hastings schools, will be guest conductor for instrumental groups.

Miss Constance Cruickshank, choral supervisor in Alliance, will assist in the recreation supervision and act as girls' chaperone. David Foltz, supervisor of choral music in the Mt. Carroll, Ill., school system, has been appointed recreational director and will also assist in choral programs.

Dr. Westbrook will have charge of the choral work, and Emanuel Wishnow, also of the regular music department faculty, will conduct the high school orchestra.

Each student will participate in two of the three musical organizations as well as classes in appreciation and theory and private lessons. Parties, sports and a complete social and recreational program will be part of the course with all university facilities open to students.

Further information and application blanks may be obtained at the school of music office.

Moritz Is Dean Of Two Sessions

The 48th session of summer school officially opens with registration this morning. Classes will begin Tuesday afternoon, according to an announcement by Dean R. D. Moritz.

As usual, two sessions will again be offered—a long one extending until July 31 and a short course closing July 15. Several visiting instructors from other institutions will be included in the large teaching staff.

A new aeronautics course for science teachers will be included in the summer curriculum in line with courses on this subject being developed in high schools. Prof. H. E. Wise will head the work.

Administrative clinics, found so successful in the summers of 1940 and 1941, are to be continued in 1942. These clinics are intended to assist teachers, ad-

If you have bought A Yearbook, leave Address in office

All summer students that have purchased Cornhusker yearbooks are requested to inform the business manager immediately that they are in Lincoln so that the books will not have to be sent to their home address. The Cornhusker office will be open daily from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Engineering Safety Course Begins June 16

A new evening course in safety engineering will be offered beginning June 16 under the engineering scene and management defense training program.

The class will meet from 7 to 10 p. m. on Tuesday and Thursday for 16 weeks. Its purpose is to present fundamental principles of accident prevention to supervisory employees and to prepare leaders in plant safety in order to conserve manpower in industries with war contracts.

Applicants must be high school graduates or have had years of experience as a supervisor in industrial production. They must be at least 18 years old and in sound physical health, and women as well as men are invited to apply. If the number of applicants exceeds the maximum which can be accommodated, selections will be made June 8.

Application forms may be obtained from Prof. W. L. DeBaufre, director of defense training at the university. No university fees will be charged or credit given, cost of the course being borne by the federal government. A certificate will be given upon satisfactory completion of the training.

Freshmen May Register For Navy Class V-1

All freshmen students admitted to colleges and universities beginning with the summer or fall term of 1942 and wishing to enlist in class V-1 of the navy must do so prior to the end of the semester or quarter in which they are admitted, according to word received by Dr. Nels A. Bengtson, chairman of the University of Nebraska's committee on the armed forces enlisted reserve programs.

Regularly enrolled freshmen in summer sessions will be allowed to enlist in class V-1 during a period equivalent to the regular semester or quarter in that institution.

Students who were freshmen or sophomores during the academic year 1941-42 and who were then eligible but did not enlist in V-1, may do so up to Nov. 1, 1942. In the future enlistment in class V-1 will be open only to students already enlisted in V-1.

Students wishing further information on this subject may consult with Dr. Bengtson.

Arndt Gives Talk At Commencement

Prof. Karl Arndt of the College of Business Administration gave the commencement talk at Scottsbluff junior college May 20.

Field Excursion To Emphasize Farm War-Aids

Emphasizing aids to agriculture contributions in the war efforts, the annual crops and soils field day will be held at ag college on June 17. New developments will be highlighted by numerous exhibits, to which the public is invited.

The afternoon will be spent touring the agronomy farm, east of Lincoln and during the morning new crops will be shown. Potted plants of such things as guayle, Russian dandelion, big pod milkweed, dog bane, safflower, flax, rape, chicory, yucca, sage, castor beans and peanuts will be on exhibition.

The newest in the developments of the starch industry in Nebraska will be shown in the exhibits also. There will be samples of waxy corn and sorghum along with a layout of the chemical test required for testing the "waxy" substance which makes the potential industrial starch. Fifteen kinds of different starches will be shown.

Sponsored by the agronomy department, Dr. F. D. Keim presides over the morning session. Dean W. W. Burr is the chief afternoon speaker, preceding the tour.

Nine University Students Receive Awards for '42-43

... During Past Week

Nine scholarships were announced during the past week which have been awarded to university students. Four students in the bizad college received large scholarships, of from $250 to $800 in value and five general scholarship awards for 1943-43 were made.

Oscar Joseph Anderson of Lincoln was awarded the John E. Miller $500 graduate fellowship in business administration. Lyle Edward King of Lincoln has been granted the $250 miller and Paine scholarship in business research for next year. Marian Jean Dienst of Lincoln has been granted an $800 service scholarship in retailing at Northwestern university.

General Scholarships.

Paul E. Toren of Lincoln has been granted the George Borrowman scholarship of $60 established by Dr. Borrowman of Chicago for "a worthy student pursuing work in the department of chemistry or geology." Dr. Borrowman is a former member of the University faculty.

Herbert E. Longren of Sioux City, Ia., has received the Jefferson H. Broady scholarship of $60 established by Dean and Mrs. John D. Clark in memory of the late Judge Broady of Lincoln, former member of the faculty and a prominent Nebraska attorney.

Francis A. Haskins of Republican City has been awarded the William Hyde scholarship of $50.

Robert L. McKenzie of Hebron has been granted the Walter J. Nickel freshman prize of $25 established by the Chicago alumnus for the freshman "who has overcome the greatest difficulties in completing the first year of university education."

Tony F. Nocita of Omaha has received the Edward Lang True Memorial scholarship of $60 to be awarded to a worthy student in any college of the university.

Union, Center of Many Extra-Curricular Events

The Union's many activities and entertainments during the regular school year will not cease with the close of the regular session of school for the Union staff has planned a variety of extra-curricular activities, lectures and other programs for this year's summer session.

Dances, flicker shows, square dances, plays and an all-university men's steak fry at Pioneers park are a few of the weekly and special events highlighting the eight weeks of school.

Matinee dances will be featured every Tuesday at 5 p. m. in the ballroom, and on Friday or Saturday nights Hank Mattison and his orchestra will play for the usual Union dances lasting from 9 to 12 p. m. A juke box will be wound up for the matinee dances.

To furnish variety, swimming will be sponsored in the coliseum pool. And a date for the pool is as cool and comfortable as you can get, boys. It only costs ten cents apiece, too.

Ping Pong and Tennis.

On the sport side, besides swimming, the Union will sponsor both men's and women's ping pong and tennis tournaments. Beginning on Saturday, June 20, registration for the ping pong tournament should be made at the Union checkstand. The contest will begin on Monday, June 22. Registration and playoffs for tennis will take place at the same time.

Leoti Red Seed Promotion Grant Is Accepted

The University has accepted a grant of $3,000 from the General Foods corporation for the promotion and distribution of pure Leoti red sorghum seed, according to announcement Wednesday from the chancellor's office.

The ag college has a program to develop and retain a pure strain of the seed which is very valuable in the manufacture of glue of which there is beginning to be a shortage. The program entails locating suitable Leoti seed sources by having farmers submit samples for chemical analysis by the department of agricultural chemistry, for inspection for trueness to varietal types by the agronomy department, and for complete seed analysis by the state seed analyst.
