

Farmer Paces Hawk Attack Against Two UN Threats

and away from grasping Husker hands. It reminded the quiet Husker of a scene in memorial stadium three years ago where Burkett the sophomore sped 77 yards with an intercepted pass.

65 Seconds Left.

Only 45 seconds remained to be ticked off by the big clock at the north end of the field when the astonishing Farmer wing again struck pay dirt. Passing deep in had fumbled, Farmer pitcher a perfect strike to halfback Ben Trickey. Jim Youel bisected the cross bars and the day's damage amounted to 27-0.

Top husker offensive threat occurred early in the second period.

Combination of Zikmund reverses and Bradley twists carried to the Iowa 18 yard stripe. Fans who thought the Husker machine had started to click were disappointed on the fourth down when Zikmund raced into the clear, then fumbled a Bradley flip.

Iowa demonstrated strongly the value of having a game under the belt. The Hawkeye block was crisp and effective while the Cornhusker line was continually out charged. Only a bright lights in the Husker forward wall were the performances of ends Nyden and Thompson, tackle Vic Schleich, and sophomore pivot, Joe Partington.

Bradley bore the brunt of the offensive burden, tho the charging Hawkeye linemen brokeup play after play. Only Husker casualty was Herb von Goetz, varsity guard, who suffered a broken nose.

Part of New Field House Completed

Despite War Priorities, Football Team to Use Building Saturday

Despite the stoppage of government aid and the shortage of material, the new field house at the north end of the stadium is ready for use for the first home football game Saturday, according to L. F. Seaton, operating superintendent.

Major part of the plant is uncompleted but locker facilities, shower rooms and football equipment rooms are now in use. For the fans a feature of the field house now completed is the new electric game clock and scoreboard on the face of the building.

WPA labor on the building was stopped two months ago but the athletic department has since made the front of the building usable. Steel for completion of the building was on the university grounds, but was returned as it was badly needed elsewhere, Seaton said.

No more work will be done on the field house for the duration of the war, the superintendent emphasized.

Athletic Ticket Reserve Time Ends Tuesday

Ident Cards, Payments Required by Deadline For Group Reservations

With the deadline on student activity ticket reservations only a day and a half away, students or groups who wish to sit together are urged by the athletic office to leave deposits with their ident cards at the coliseum office.

Drawing of seats to UN football games will take place at 12:30 Tuesday in John K. Selleck's office, with Bob Schlater, Daily Nebraskan editor, conducting the drawings. Reservations for seats must be turned in before Tuesday noon.

One member of each group of students, two persons or more, should be present at the drawing. Students or groups who wish to reserve seats may do so by presenting money and identification cards at Selleck's office. Receipts will be given to them and they may obtain the activity books Wednesday.

Price of this year's tickets, tax included, is $5.50, and all athletic events are included for this price.

If there are students or groups failing to place reservations before the deadline Tuesday noon still desiring to make reservations after the drawing, they may purchase them later, but no student will be allowed more than one ticket.

Dean's Group Names Elsie Piper Head

Elsie Ford Piper, university dean of women, was elected president of the Nebraska State Association of Deans of Women and Girls' Advisers at the association's annual meeting at Ellen Smith Saturday morning.

Following the morning meeting, Dr. J. O. Hertzler of the sociology department spoke on "The Clash of Occident and Orient in the Pacific" at a dinner in the Union.

Summarizing Japan's history from the 15th century to the present day, Hertzler stressed its rapid industrialization and rise in population, with the subsequent need for raw materials and food as factors influencing their national outlook since the opening of the country by Admiral Peary in 1868.

Afternoon meetings at Ellen Smith centered around a "Guidance through the duration and post-war preparations" theme.

Scrap Metal Now Sought In UN Classes

Nebraska and Kansas Compete in Metal Drive

A call for old electric fans, waste baskets, or any other metal objects which may be found in classrooms has been issued to students by state salvage officials.

Every building on the campus will be searched for metal that can be added to the Nebraska scrap metal collection, according to university officials.

L. F. Seaton, operating superintendent, announced that custodians of the various buildings will be asked to collect the contributions of instructors and department heads.

The Nebraska collection will be measured with the collection of Kansas to decide the winner of an interstate contest arranged by the governors of the two state in connection with the nationwide drive for scrap-metal.
