

Prospective Queens Grace Union Steps

BY HELEN GOODWIN.

After the homecoming festivity this Saturday a new Pep Queen will reign over the university campus. Janet Hemphill, Queen of 1941, will relinquish her crown and throne to the new queen. Who she will be, nobody knows.

BETTY BONEBRIGHT.

Candidates competing for the honor are all likely Queens with vim, vigor and vitality. Betty Bonebright, a junior, is blonde with blue eyes, height 5 feet 2 inches and weighs only 96 pounds. Yes, she is tiny, but that doesn't mean—"No pep." Dancing is her hobby and that requires a man—for ballroom dancing at least. About men—Betty isn't particular, but blondes are nice. She is affiliated with AOPJ.

JEAN BROWNE.

Kappa Jeanie Browne is a brunette with blue eyes, weighs 119 and is 5 feet 5 inches. She likes swimming, autumn and football games, dancing, friendly people and kitties. She dislikes eggs and dented fenders. When asked about the kind of man she liked: he must be clean looking, easy to talk to and sincere. Jeanie is a sophomore. It was impossible for her to be in the picture with the other candidates.

FLORA HECK.

Flora Heck, Alpha Xi Delta candidate for Pep Queen, is only 5 feet, weighs 94 pounds, but good things come in small packages. She is a brunette with brown eyes. (See STEPS, Page 2)

Urge Students To Attend Convocation

Schedule for Group
Meetings, Personal
Interviews Set Later

All students and members of the faculty interested or already enlisted in the armed forces reserves are urged by Dean of Student Affairs T. J. Thompson to attend the military convocation at 8:30 tomorrow in the coliseum. All 8:30 classes will be dismissed and the meeting will be over by 9:30, Thompson said.

Officers representing the army, navy, marines, coast guards and air corps will speak concerning the reserve programs. Other guests at the meeting presided over by Chancellor C. S. Boucher will be Gen. Guy H. Henninger, head of the Nebraska selective service system; heads of Lincoln recruiting services, and heads and staffs of local draft boards.

Schedules for group meetings and personal interviews will be announced at the general convocation. The procurement board of officers will remain in Lincoln until next week, but will do no recruiting. Representatives of the services will visit the campus to recruit students for the reserves in about three weeks.

Year's Enrolment Drops 12 Percent; Still More Men

Enrolment at the Ag college has dropped about 12 percent this year. The armed forces have taken their toll as many upper-classmen and potential freshmen have entered some branch of service. Others have found it necessary to remain at home so that they might aid in the "Food for Victory" campaign.

However, despite the labor shortage in the Nebraska rural areas, there are more freshmen men than women enrolled in ag college this semester. Of the 708 students, 385 of them are men.

The coeds showed an unexpected drop in enrolment. They too have turned from education to work in vital defense plants.

UN War Council Begins Planning

. . . For Campus-wide Work

A plan for campus-wide participation in the university war effort was discussed yesterday by the Student War Council at their regular meeting.

According to Laurel Morrison, chairman of the council, this proposed plan will attempt to include as workers not only the present activities groups, but rather the majority of students "who sit around and play bridge" on their free afternoons.

The new plan will appoint a member from each organized house whose duty it will be to see that a certain number of members report for war work. The exact number required, the time when a particular house will be used, and the duty will be determined by the council. Duties will be equally and fairly distributed among the houses and volunteer organizations.

Women Needed.

At present women are needed to do surgical dressings and bandage rolling. Formerly the Y. W. C. A. have volunteered to help with this work, but now find themselves unable to completely fill the quota. Therefore, the war council has offered to enlist the aid of women students, and this project will probably be the basis for the first drive for individual workers.

Also included in the proposed plans brought up at the meeting are the establishment of a service flag or bulletin listing all university men in service, the continuation of the Nebraska newsletter which proved popular with university alums and boys in service last year, and the starting of an all-university war stamp drive.

J. D. Epp Reports . . .

More Jobs Than Students Who Want Them This Year

. . . Have Incomplete Information

Student employment for the first time in many years is more plentiful than are applicants for jobs, according to a J. D. Epp in charge of university employment.

mill hands. Epp emphasized Lincoln employers have always been very co-operative in helping give university students employment.

More than half of the students who have applied for jobs have never given their permanent Lincoln address, and many others have not filed out complete class schedules which makes it very difficult to secure jobs for them, Epp declared.

All over the country the person who is "working his way thru college" has a better situation than ever before. College girls are receiving as much as five and six dollars for teaching Sunday school in some of the large churches in New York City, according to the Associated Press.

Epp who has served the university in his present capacity since 1931 declares the jobs are more plentiful and better paid than ever before in his experience. Wages generally for students are up 20 to 25 percent over last year.

Receive Dollar an Hour.

Healthy college men are also receiving as much as a dollar an hour for submitting to high altitude aviation experiments in decompression chambers. One coed in New York City makes $40 a week selling railroad tickets in Grand Central Station, in addition to carrying full schedule in class work.

Many applicants for jobs this year are very particular concerning the kind of work they would do. Among the jobs not filled are those trained as mimeograph operators, linotype operators and students with experience in dry cleaning and pressing.

Work for Board.

Most common student job is in a dining room with payment in board. Other students work in retail stores; in hotels as bell boys, elevator and switch board operators; as university janitors and as for erection of a sign in connection with the scrap pile.

Business houses in the big city which formerly would hire no part time help now are begging for students to work a few hours a day to help replace employees who have gone into service. Beautiful female college students in New York City are employed as models, chorus girls, and a dime-a-dance girls. The University of Nebraska offers no such opportunity.

Arrangements are being made for a scrap pile directly in front of the Union so that unaffiliated students will have a chance to take part in the drive.

Prize winners will be revealed at the Tassel-Corn-cob Homecoming dance at the coliseum Saturday night.
