Gold Stars . . .

Altho figures are not available at the present time as to how many University of Nebraska men have given their lives in the present war, it seems appropriate that they be given recognition of some kind for their actions as members of the United Nations' forces.

In the last war a service flag was designed and made with stars representing men from this institution who had been called to the service. Naturally this idea is impossible since several hundred have entered the service who attended this school. Some method should be devised to obtain an accurate account of each man killed and suitable memorial made for them.

It is not the job of the Daily Nebraskan to plan this memorial but some student organization such as the Student Council. We offer this as a suggestion, only, and hope that it merits consideration and thought.

The least we who are still in university can do is enshrine the memory of those who die so that institutions of this kind may continue.

Let's Dance . . .

Official university parties will get underway Saturday when Corn Cobs and Tassels sponsor their annual homecoming party. In past years this has been a gala affair and there is no reason to curtail subdued good times on the campus this year.

Parties of this kind in the past have often failed to draw a good percentage of the student body support. If we are to have any entertainment at all this year, it is appropriate that it should be an all school function so that every student who wishes to dance may do so at a minimum of expense.

Big name bands are naturally out but if all students will consider this a war year on the campus and co-operate with groups sponsoring affairs of this kind, the parties should be bigger and better than ever. If other parties during the year are to have the support of the university, it is up to each student to support these and make this first party of the year a success.

Cadet Corps To Feature Fall Parades

University Schedules First Brigade Review On Oct. 27; No Rifles

The customary fall parades of the university cadet corps will be held again this fall, according to an announcement of the military department. The first review of the brigade is scheduled for Oct. 27, the second Nov. 3, and the last for Nov. 11.

Several changes are to be made in the procedure of march on to the field, according to Captain Crabill, adjutant of the military department. Since all rifles have been sent away to training camps, all cadets will march without arms in this year's parades. The dismissal of the old junior battalion will bring about another change in the order of march.

Since classes are meeting a half hour later than previous years, the parades have been scheduled for 5:30, with dismissal at 6 o'clock. The third and last parade falls on Armistice day, at which time the cadet corps will march down town in conjunction with the city of Lincoln celebration of that day. Further plans of the route of march and the formations will be announced at a later date.

Cochran . . .

Before coming to the state university he was superintendent of schools in Kearney and a Montana town. He also was connected with the real estate and insurance business for two years in Kearney.

An interesting fact to note concerning Professor Cochran's life is that he was born on the site now occupied by the university. He had lived his entire life in Nebraska except for a year spent in Montana.

He was well known in teaching circles and thruout the state, being national president of one organization. Professor Cochran wrote many pamphlets, outlines, reviews and pieces of literature during his stay.

Well liked by many, he was known also for his genial manners about the campus and many remember pep rallies that have echoed thruout his class room.

Surviving besides his wife, Winifred, are four children, Winifred, Doris, Lt. Robert Cochran and Roy.

Home Ec Class Buys, Handles Food for Ag

Home economics majors enrolled in home economics 271 are getting some practical experience in addition to theory and study at the ag college.

They are purchasing food for the ag college cafeteria, and handling and dispensing the food supplies. This type of work is designed to aid the students in their study of quantity buying and cafeteria management.

Nebraska is one of several schools in the country offering such an opportunity. Iowa State college has adopted a similar program this year.

The Japanese in America are just beginning to grow up. Iyata pointed out that the average grade of second generation Japs is somewhere in the high school age. Many Japanese-Americans who can read and write their difficult language are now interpreters in the army.

However, most American Japanese can speak only a little of the language of their forefathers. Only a very small percentage can read the difficult language as there are thousands of figures which have to be memorized. The U. S. government is encouraging the loyal American Japs to learn to write this language in the belief that they would learn more readily than other Americans. After the war Mr. Iyata believes his people will be of immeasurable aid in the reconstruction period.

"We at the university are very appreciative of the attitude of the administration and students to we Americans of Japanese descent. We have been treated excellently," Iyata commented. "The article by the editor of The Daily Nebraskan in the Sept. 22 issue was very gratifying."

Because of Rally Friday; Hour Dances Set at 8

Since the homecoming rally is scheduled for 7:30 Friday evening, Franklin White, president of Corn Cobs, requests that all organized houses having hour dances scheduled for that evening move the time of starting ahead to 8 p. m. This will help materially in producing a good rally before the important game Saturday, White pointed out.

Mortar Board Revises Loan Fund Ruling

Women Students May Apply for Short Term Loans During Semester

With a revision in the fund rules, Mortar Board announces that women students may apply at any time during the semester for short term loans in the office of the dean of women.

The fund, established several years ago and administered by Mortar Board, was begun in order that women students, incurring expenses such as tuition and books and finding themselves unable to pay them at the time, may meet such obligations.

The average amount of the loans has been $10 to $15, the students may borrow more or less, according to their individual needs. No interest is charged.

Women students wishing to use the Mortar Board should apply in person to Mrs. Ada Westover, assistant to the dean of women.

Glacier Priest To Start Town Hall Lectures

Beginning another in the annual winter lecture series sponsored by the Lincoln Junior League, Father Hubbard, well known "Glacier priest" of Alaska, will speak Monday night, Oct. 12, at Irving Junior high school.

His address will be on the chances of invasion of Alaska. He was an eye witness of the Dutch harbor attack, and has explored the northwest territory for 16 years. At present he is acting as civilian advisor to the Western Defense Command, and has spent this past summer in Alaska gathering latest information.

Single admission tickets to this lecture may be purchased at the Hotel Cornhusker, any time prior to Monday night, for $1.65. Season tickets to the series of four lectures are priced at $4.40.

Other speakers in the series include Ilka Chase, famous actress and author, Cornelia Otis Skinner, also well known in the two fields of sophisticated acting and writing, and Franklin P. Adams, humorous expert of "Information, Please."

Steps . . .

She likes football and people who like music—incidentally, her hobby is music. Concerning men—well, she likes them tall.

HELEN JOHNSON.

Sophomore Helen Johnson, a Delta Gamma, is 5 feet 4 inches, weighs 122 pounds, has raven black hair, brown eyes and freckles, cut ones, tho. She likes steak—subtle hint fellows, the way to live is via stomach—and to dance. It's a good combination too. For her hobby she collects records. Her man, not as a hobby tho, must be fun, good at dancing and considerate

PEGGY LEMON.

Peggy Lemon, a vivacious blonde from the Theta house, is 5 feet 5 inches, weighs 120 pounds, has blue eyes and a keen smile. She is a sophomore, loves fun and sports. Swimming is her favorite recreation. Her hobby is dancing, ballet or tap, and of course ballroom dancing. In fact, she says she would rather dance than eat. The type of man she likes must be fun, a good dancer, and in general an all around good fellow!

CONNIE MCCAULEY.

Connie McCauley, Chi O, is 5 feet 4 inches, weighs 122 pounds, has brown hair and hazel colored eyes. She likes good music and good dancers. Her hobby is scrapbooks. Her man, the kind she likes, must be a good dancer, curly hair. Oh, yes, and red headed, too.

NATALIE NEWMANN.

Gamma Phi Natalie Neumann is blonde with blue eyes, 5 feet 3 inches and weighs 105. She is a sophomore, and not in a slump either. Her favorite sport is tennis. With no pet peeves, outside of being afraid of horses, she has a special type of man in mind. She likes them tall, good looking and blk le.

POLLY PETTY.

Black haired Polly Petty, an Alpha Phi and a junior, is 5 feet 7 inches, weighs 122 pounds. She likes people. A type of man that is appealing to Polly is one that is 6 feet 2 inches, not blonde, not dark, but one that has hair. He must be a good dancer, peppy—and domineering.

BARBARA TRUE.

Last but not least is "Beep" True, tri-Delt sophomore. Beep is 5 feet 4 inches, has brown hair, hazel eyes and dimples. She likes fried chicken and men with convertibles. As a hobby she likes different dance steps. Her one dislike is affected people. The man for Beep is preferably tall, dark, not necessarily good looking, but definitely fun.

The above candidates are vying for the title of "Pep Queen." Look over the personality sketch and be sure and vote for your choice. Voting will be held at the coliseum Saturday night.
