Panhel Places Ban on Sorority Participation in K-Klub Revue

After two weeks of discussion in advisory board meeting, university Panhellenic association announced last night that a ban would be placed upon sorority entrance in Kosmet productions.

Previously, the board had offered two alternatives to the men's dramatic society: Paying the cost, limited last year by Panhellenic, of the sorority skits; or giving one-third of the profits to some war charity.

—From Journal.

According to Max Laughlin, president of the club, either of these plans would necessitate the spending of more money than the organization takes in, and would completely do away with the possibility of adding to the Klub's $1,000 scholarship fund, which is now half-way completed.

Panhellenic advisory board then decided that it would not be in keeping with the war effort to continue participation in the show, and house presidents were informed last week. A vote was taken in meeting yesterday and all houses present decided in favor of the board's decision.

Objections to the entrance were untimeliness of such a show and adverse publicity for sororities created by their participation. (See REVUE, Page 4.)

Marvin Reveals Physics Class Enrolment Up

Government Encourages College Study of Physics

Physics, generally considered by students as one of the hardest subjects in the curriculum, shows an increase in enrolment this year over last, probably greater than any other department. Well over 500 students are enrolled in the department compared with an estimated 360 last year, according to H. H. Marvin, chairman of the physics department.

Reasons behind the large upswing in enrolment, Marvin said, were the facts that the army, navy and marine reserves are encouraging or requiring reserve students to study physics. In addition the war effort requires many engineers, who, of course, (See ENROLMENT, Page 3.)

Marriage Flies High in a Cloud

You've heard about marriages being up in the air but now you can be sure of it!

A notice was carried in Sunday's Daily coming straight from the powers-that-are in campus YWCA. This notice read, "YWCA marriage group will meet tomorrow at 4:30 in room 315 U hall."

That means that yesterday afternoon at 4:30 the University of Nebraska eds and coeds contemplated marriage along with the ducks making their annual southern flight.

Reason for making the statement is that since the top of University hall was removed some years ago, there has been no room 315, in fact there has been no 215.

Perhaps, the topic of "Campus Relationships of Men and Women" was adequately covered in the basement, room B15.

Mistakenly Scheduled . . . UN Debate Meeting Last Night Ends in Argument . . . Hold Another Tonight

One by one, students filed into Temple 203 last night to attend a meeting for all those interested in debate. They took chairs, waited, L. T. Laase, university debate coach, never arrived, but ambitious debaters ended their meeting in an impromptu argument.

Due to a mistake in scheduling the meeting for all interested in debate was announced for Monday night when Professor Laase has a class in speaking for businessmen and many students have fraternity and sorority meetings. The meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 in room 203 of Temple.

Center in Conference.

Debate at Nebraska in this war year will feature as much or more competition as in years previous, but will be centered in conferences where many teams will meet for several days of forensic activity rather than in trips where only two teams compete.

Women's debate, organized last year at the university, will continue this year with a varsity women's team that will compete with women's teams from other colleges.

A program of freshmen debate will be organized after the first six weeks of school. Freshmen may attend the meeting tonight if they desire, Laase said; but a special meeting will be arranged for them later.

Tryout dates for the varsity debate team have been definitely scheduled for next Tuesday night, Oct. 26.

Five University of Nebraska faculty changes have been approved by the board of regents and were announced today.

E. L. Reichart of the dairy husbandry department has been given a leave of absence for work with the agricultural marketing administration in Washington.

E. J. Marmo of engineering mechanics has been granted leave for naval service, and George D. Stephens of the English department has been given leave for military service.

Mrs. Marie H. Cripe has been appointed assistant instructor in physical education for women.

Dr. J. E. A. Alexis has been appointed a new member of the student loan fund committee to take the place of the late R. E. Cochran. Dr. Alexis is chairman of the modern languages department. Other members of the committee are C. E. Mickey and L. E. Gunderson.

Gunderson Reveals New Plan Of Aiding Technical Students

Government loans to students within 24 months or two years of graduating in engineering, chemistry, medicine, and pharmacy have been announced by L. E. Gunderson, finance secretary.

Participating in a national governmental program to help finance students majoring in vital technical subjects thru school, UN students may secure application forms for loans at the finance secretary's office.

Includes Tuition.

Loans to students will include an amount not exceeding tuition and fees plus $25 per month for each month of participation in the accelerated program subject to a further maximum by June 30, 1943, of $500, it was announced but funds, except for tuition and fees, are not to be paid to students for more than one month in advance.

These loans are granted with 2½ percent interest to be paid back in one-quarter amounts. The notes provide that one-fourth of the principal, together with interest, is due one year after discontinuance as a full-time student in an approved accelerated program.

C. A. Decrow, Custodian, Dies

Charles H. Decrow, 68, a University of Nebraska custodian for 23 years, died Saturday. He was known by a great majority of the engineering students as he was stationed in mechanical engineering building. He had been ill for a long time before his death.

one-fourth after two years; one-fourth after three years and the remaining fourth after four years, with the option of prepayment of all or any part of the loan.

Dates Extended.

In case a student is ordered into the armed forces the due dates of all future payments of the loan shall be extended so as to date from the time of discontinuance of such service. This, however, does not apply if a student volunteers.

Both men and women are eligible for a loan under this law. Only the signature of the student is required to secure a loan, but the institution which he attends is expected to administer the program so as to provide adequate safeguards to the loan. The university must investigate and (See STUDENTS, Page 4.)

Freshmen Choose Activities at Mart . . . October 31

Annual AWS activity mart for freshman women will be held Oct. 31 from 2 to 4:30 in the afternoon in the Student Union ballroom, it was definitely announced today by the AWS board.

The mart is held primarily for freshman women to introduce them to the various activities on the Nebraska campus. It is especially pertinent this year as freshman women have not been permitted to enter into any activities before the first six weeks. Janet Curley, graduate, said yesterday.

Activities Represented.

Activities which will be represented at the mart will be AWS, YWCA, WAA, Coed Counselors, Tassels, Student Union, Daily Nebraskan, Cornhusker year book, Prairie Schooner, Student Foundation, War Council, and also some booths from ag campus.

Each of the above listed activities will sponsor a booth at the mart and will have a representative stationed in that booth to answer questions and in general give information concerning the activity. The presidents and boards of the various organizations will be present.

Counselors as Ushers.

The tables will be arranged around the side of the ballroom and coed counselors will act as ushers. Contrary to the practice in previous years, women will sign up for only those activities in which they are especially interested and not for every activity. The signing will be done after a complete tour of the rooms, at the booths.

Refreshments will be served to those attending the mart by members of the AWS board. Mary Jo Latch is general chairman.
