Steuber Leads Mizzou Mates Step Closer Conference Title

BY NORRIS ANDERSON
 Sports Editor.

MEMORIAL STADIUM, Nov. 7.—Missouri's gold-garbed Tigers paraded thru here today on their steady march to the Big Six title, pausing long enough to stave off a brave challenge by a pass-minded Nebraska Cornhusker aggregation.

Living up to advance hulabaloo as one of the top offensive units in the country, the Tigers exploded for three touchdowns in the final two quarters to spell defeat for a Husker team powered gloriously by a one-man gang

Single-handedly did tow-headed Mr. Long spark his mates to statistical equality with the deceptive Tigers. Even more deceptive than the Tigers was the ultimate count of the battle. Nebraska equaled Missouri's 15 first downs and trailed by only 390-325 in the total yards department.

Nine minutes after Referee Dwight Ream had piped an opening salute on his whistle, the Huskers possessed six points. They battered, threatened and passed their way thru the remainder of the game only to fall heir to bad breaks with pay territory within easy sight.

Long presented warning of his coming feats by intercepting Steuber's aerial on the Missouri 40. Two plays later Long winged the leather directly over Jack Hazen's shoulder from the Husker 40. Hazen lunged, grasped the ball, eluded one Mizzou tackler and dove across. Cheering hadn't yet subsided when Vic Schleich missed connections with his conversion. 6-0.

Mizzou Threatens.

A bit of gridiron wizardry by Bob Steuber, by far the most agile "cripple" ever to perform on Memorial sod, accounted for the opening Tiger score. After a previous drive had been repulsed by Marv Thompson's recovery of a Tiger fumble, the invaders opened a fresh drive from their 36-yard stripe. Steuber flipped to Eckern for 26 yards, O'Hara advanced 23 yards in three tries to place the pigskin on the Husker 10-yard line as the first quarter gun popped.

Two lightning Steuber jabs into the line followed by a four-yard

Selleck Assumes Comptroller Job

... As Regents Act

Offices of the University of Nebraska finance secretary and business agent for athletics are to be consolidated and the duties rearranged. Announcement of the change was made Saturday afternoon by Frank M. Johnson, president of the board of regents.

John K. Selleck was appointed comptroller of the university, with duties corresponding to those of the previous office of finance secretary. He will continue as business agent for athletics and manager for student activities. His duties and title as director of athletics are to be assumed by Glenn Presnell, head football coach.

L. E. Gunderson, former finance and corporation secretary, will continue as corporation secretary. In that capacity he will perform a limited number of duties previously performed by the finance secretary.

In making the official announcement for the board of regents, President Johnson said: "In view of the steadily increasing number and complication of duties in the offices of the finance secretary and corporation secretary, and in view of the probable decrease of work and duties in the office of the business agent for athletics and manager for student activities, it seemed advisable to consolidate and rearrange the duties of these offices."

Selleck, a graduate of the university in 1912, has been connected with the institution since 1921, his first position having been with the purchasing department. His association with the business office of the athletic department began the following year. He is a veteran of the first World war.

Mr. Gunderson has been with the university since 1920.

named Roy Long. Final score, 26-6, represents a gross misjudgment of Husker mettle.

School Heads Streamline War Curricula

Nebraska public school administrative officials conferred last week on ways to streamline the high school curriculum in line with war industry and army needs. A way to speed up high school education for youths subject to 18-19 year old draft is indicated, but no definite method has been decided upon yet, the committee reported.

Such a speed-up program might include a 12 month school year, heavier courses, or both. Added emphasis would probably be placed on physical fitness training and subjects related to military service.

Regular four year programs of pupils not concerned in the draft will probably not be disturbed.
