

Injured Huskers Leave Today

Cooper, Hazen, Schleich, Bachman, Bradley Crippled

Injuries continued to be the main source of worry to the Husker coaching staff yesterday as the Scarlet and Cream underwent their first and last real workout prior to the Pitt game Saturday.

New squad changes indicated that Mentor Presnell is not even counting on the services of Jack Hazen, one of the top pass-grabbers on the roster. Jack viewed proceedings from his crutches and his name was omitted from the roster.

Gelwick Upped.

Loss of Hazen left the varsity left wing post open to Ed Nyden, who performed well against the Tigers. Dean Gelwick, ex-Lincoln high wingster, moved into Nyden's regular second team end slot. Still hobbled slightly was Forrie Bachman, hard-hitting second team pivot. Bachman injured his ankle against Mizzou but should be available for Pitt.

Still hobbled by the ankle injury which benched him for a portion of the Tiger tilt was Vic Schleich, a necessary bulwark in the Husker line. Schleich's possible availability for only part-time duty would hamper line, defensive strength against the Panthers. Dale Bradley, still injured but still as eager to perform, will see only part time action and Bobby Cooper's lame shoulder may stymie his play entirely.

Replacing Cooper in the quarterback regiment provides Presnell's top worry. Roy Long was buried at the third team signal-barking spot prior to his sensational rise. Wayne Stranathan, versatile utility man who is slated to start at right guard, may even be called upon in case Freddy Metheny is injured.

Top Three Teams.

First lineup includes Marvin Thompson and Ed Nyden, ends; Joe Byler and Vic Schleich, tackles; Wayne Stranathan and Charlie Duda, guards; Joe Partington, center; Fred Metheny, quarterback; Roy Long and Mary Athey, halfbacks; and Ki Eisenhart, fullback.

Second team lineup: Jerry Kathol and Dean Gelwick, ends; Bob McNutt and Eugene Sim, tackles; Bill Bryant and Herb Von Goetz, guards; Forrie Bachman, center; Bobby Cooper, quarterback; Dale Bradley and Al Zikmund, halfbacks; and Wally Hopp, fullback.

Third team: Vic Clark and Bob Gillaspie, ends; M. Grubaugh and Chuck Wright, tackles; Gene Wilkins and Frank Hazard, guards; Gene Stranathan, center; Harold Hungerford, quarterback; Howard Debus, Hank Reichel, halfbacks, and George Wright fullback. Stranathan's name at third team pivot prompted one wise griddler to scribble "superman" over it.

Dale Bradley and Marv Thompson will captain the Husker club.

MARVIN THOMPSON DALE BRADLEY

—Courtesy Lincoln Journal

Co-captains at Pitt

Captaining the Huskers at Pitt Saturday will be Marv Thompson, rough-and-tough end candidate for All-Big Six laurels and Dale Bradley, All-Big Six halfback last year.

Itinerary calls for the Huskers to leave tomorrow noon, work out briefly in Chicago Thursday, and then entrain for the battle ground. Enroute home Sunday, the Scarlet squad will be guests of honor at the Green Bay-Chicago pro tussle.

Steuber Ranks Second in U. S.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 10—By scoring 14 tallies against the Nebraska Huskers last Saturday, Bob Steuber, crippled Missouri halfback, became the second leading scorer in the nation.

Steuber's 97 points are only one better than the total credited to James Srest of Rochester.

Sophomore Eddie McGovern of Rose Poly, although he has only played in five contests, leads Steuber with a total of 135 points.

The scoring leaders, showing player, school, touchdowns, points after touchdowns, field goals and total points:

Small Midwest Conference
Eddie McGovern, Rose Poly	.19	21	0 135
Big Six Conference
Bob Steuber, Missouri	.15	7	0 97
Eastern Sector
James Secrest, Rochester	.16	0	0 96
Southern Conference
Frank Sinkwich, Georgia	.14	0	0 78
Big Ten Conference
Gene Fekete, Ohio State	.9	17	0 71
Pacific Coast Conference
Bob Kennedy, Wash. State	.10	3	0 63
Southern Conference
Harvey Johnson, Wm.-Mary.	.4	21	1 48
Missouri Valley Conference
Clyde LeForce, Tulsa	.2	35	0 47
Big Seven Conference
John Ziegler, Colorado	.6	3	0 39
Rocky Mountain
Ken Moore, Colo. College	.3	8	0 28

Horse Sense

By Norris Anderson
(Sports Editor)

Not since Errol Flynn started his checker-playing tour have we seen an equal to the publicity which Scarlet gridders thrust on their fullback last eve.

It seemed suspicious when Spence Porter, Husker student manager, stomped into this stable at 5:45 with the demand for three Sunday rags. Next came Joe Partington asking for four copies, followed by a procession of his mates. As our Sunday supply dwindled to nothing we commenced to wonder. We continued to ponder until a trek upstairs revealed the mystery.

On every available bulletin board, from Corn Crib to "Men Only" hangouts, we were greeted by cartoons of original key-bird, Ki Eisenhart. One cartoon on the main Union bulletin board carried this inscription: "Above is the kluggy key-bird, Eisenhart. Autographed pictures in the rag office at a dollar per dozen."

To a blushing Mr. Eisenhart went the royal horse laugh as the gridders emerged from their training table to inspect the Partington-Thompson-Grubaugh-ete. mischief.

As the thundering presses start to roll, our boy Sambo dashes in with Gunga Din speed. In his hand he bears a wire which qualifies Nebraska for national repute in at least one department.

"Roy Long, a consistent bench-warmer two weeks ago for the Nebraska Cornhuskers, now holds a nation record. Long's 55 offensive plays against Missouri last Saturday established a mark for the season, according to figures compiled by the American Football Statistical bureau. The previous high was 53 plays by Frank Sinkwich of Georgia against Alabama.

"Husker Roy carried the ball 27 times and threw 28 passes. His total of 243 net yards gained is a new seasonal high for the midwest, topping Ray Evans' 228 yards for Kansas against Texas Christian."

Just like Carton Broderick put it: "It'll be a Long time before Roy'll gather splinters from that bench again!"

Quarter-by-quarter statistics of the plays used Saturday give Nebraska an edge only in the third stanza. Evidence that the show-me club utilized its opportunity can be illustrated by Nebraska's 75-47 lead in the total plays attempted.

	Neb.	Mo.
First quarter	11	17
Second quarter	17	10
Third quarter	27	8
Fourth quarter	20	12

In Barb Touchball . . .

Husker Co-op Wins I-M Crown

Filled with fight, the Cornhusker Co-op's light nine came thru with the yardage to win a 1 to 0 victory over the Bachelors club last night in the finals of the Barb Intra-mural touch football season.

It was a hard loss for the Bachelor's, who had taken the Huskers in a tight game last Thursday with a 7 to 0 score. But the Co-op had its spark-plug, Joe Noble, back again and that was all they needed to hold the fighting Bachelors scoreless. Norman Bristol also stood out in the winner's attack.

0-0 Deadlock.

The regular four quarters of the game ended in a 0 to 0 deadlock. When it was decided to play the four extra downs apiece necessary to determine the victor without another game, the Bachelor's took the ball and made a loss of about ten yards on their first play. On their next plays they failed to carry the ball beyond the scrimmage line and their fourth down ended with a total yardage of negative ten.

Taking the ball with ten yards in their favor the Husker team used an off-tackle run to gain four yards with Noble carrying the ball. On the next two plays, both reverses, they lost six yards but Bowles carried the pigskin again on the last play to gain 15 yards and the Cornhuskers, outplayed for most of the game, took the championship by a score of 1 to 0.

Features Passes.

Feature of the first half of the game was the passing attack of the Bachelor club which several times reached the 5-yard line and failed to go across. On one of these times the Husker team had the ball inside their own 5-yard line. Noble's punt on the fourth down was blocked by the Bachelors' and it would have been a safety for them if they hadn't been off side and a five yard penalty declared.

On the next punt the ball rocketed down the field for 50 yards and from then on the Bachelors were held fairly near the center of the field or on their own side.

Clark Rice, outstanding player for the Bachelors continued to attempt passes, some of which were completed but many knocked down by alert Huskermen. In the last quarter of the game this Cornhusker facility for preventing passes kept the Bachelors well out of the danger zone on many long throws.

Coming out on top for the last minutes of the game, the Huskers also tried a passing attack. Two long passes by Noble to C. D. Massen in the end zone were knocked down, but the Cornhusker spirit carried them through the overtime period to win the game.

Stars on the winning team besides Noble were Bristol and Ralph Beckwith. Looking best for the losers were Frances Rolfe and Bill Green.

Cyclones Plot Net For Evans

AMES, Iowa, Nov. 10.—How to stop Ray Evans of Kansas, the nation's No. 1 passer, will be the important item of instruction for Iowa State football men this week.

That the job is a tough one is borne out in the Kansas figures from passing—154 attempts, 75 completions. Evans has earned his record in spite of the power of opposing teams. Not even the Iowa City pre-flight team, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Marquette, or Washington has come close to halting his hurling progress.

Coach Mike Michalske has hopes of being the first to halt Evans. If the Cyclones are to have a chance to tie the Jayhawks for fourth place they must handcuff Evans.

Paul Darling, Iowa State fullback, was the only cripple added to the Cyclone list in the game at Villanova. Darling bruised a knee but is expected to be able to play against Kansas. Bob Caddock, reserve right end who was left at home last week, is back for practice and will be available Saturday.

Steuber Keeps Scoring Lead

LEADING SCORERS.
(All Games.)

	tds	ep	fg	pts
Steuber, Missouri	15	7	0	97
Bouldin, Missouri	4	0	0	24
Davis, Oklahoma	4	0	0	24
Darling, Iowa State	2	4	1	19
Morton, Missouri	2	6	0	18
Wright, Oklahoma	3	0	0	18
Lohry, Iowa State	3	0	0	18
Hamm, Oklahoma	2	2	0	14
Shanks, Oklahoma	2	2	0	14
Linquist, Oklahoma	2	2	0	13

Mercury-gear Bob Steuber of Mizzou ground-gaining fame continued to pace the Big Six scoring parade at the outset of Saturday's tussels. Big Bob scored 14 tallies against Nebraska to up his season total to 97 points, 73 markers ahead of the nearest opponent.

Behind Steuber in a tie for second place are Fred Bouldin, the Missouri second-string fullback, and Davis of Oklahoma.

Georgia Heads Unbeaten List

Latest gridiron survey reveals that sixteen United States collegiate grid clubs still maintain undefeated slates. Heading the list of big time elevens is Georgia, paced by All-American Frankie Sinkwich.

	G	Pts.	Opps.
Idaho Southern Branch	4	53	0
Georgia	8	280	48
X-Dubuque	8	256	25
Tulsa	7	330	6
Fresno State	7	316	6
Williams	7	250	34
Augustana	7	187	12
Georgia Tech	7	185	32

(X-Season completed.)

RENT CARS

Good cars at reasonable prices. Please minimize deliveries. Thanks. Always open.

Motor Out Company
1120 P St. 2-6819

For Your Coking Rendezvous "on Campus"

BUCK'S COFFEE SHOP

1131 R Street

M. L. Sperling

Here's LUXURY—
Plus ECONOMY in 'HIS'
REFILLABLE
Fine Toiletries for MEN

Powder Refills 35c

Shaving Soap Refills 50c

LUXURY because 'HIS' Toiletries for men are handsomely designed in exclusive masculine patterns and colorings—plus the NORTHWOODS fragrance that men like.

ECONOMY because of the low-cost refill feature of all 'HIS' Talcums, Electric Shave Powders and Shaving Bowls. They are PERMANENT as well as attractive gift sets.

Talcums and Shaving Bowls$1.00 to $1.50

—FIRST FLOOR.

GOLD & CO.

All prices plus tax