Let Mr. Ware rave, rant, and chew his wicked verbal tobacco. As Mr. Ware sat scowling at his typewriter in a home-bound car, a rank presentation of Shakespeare unraveled in the adjoining diner as the Husker gridders rode the rails home from Chicago.

Titled "Shmeegie-Shmeegie, Whose Got the Shmeegie"—the play marked the annual bow of the soph team members before the board lights. Title of the play was inspired by those two shmeegie-eaters—Marv Thompson and Fred Metheny—and "prespired" by practically every member of the soph roster. Brilliant in the cast was Joe (Errol Flynn) Partington who assumed the role of Joe Byler for the production. "Bloody Joe" exhibited all of Flynn's oomph as he exploited the big tackle's famous peeks at the coaching bench, plus several rare Byler witticisms. Al Grubaugh utilized previous experience with the Rising City Theatrical Aces to play the role of Glen Presnell.

A highlight of the production featured Grubaugh, Bert Gissler (as Lewendowski), and Harold Hungerford (as Elmer Holm) in a rendition of the Humpty-Dumpty scene at the Kansas fray. Holm's intense excitement caused him to leap off terra firma, catching a wire on his heel during the leap.

Said wire happened to undermine Mentor Presnell's chair and consequently Presnell & chair flew high and wide. Pantomime by Gissler, Grubaugh & Co. gave the scene all added touches required of bona fide humor.

We can't duplicate here any dialogue from the production without our favorite burlesque interpreter, Slimey Sam Snail. So we must settle this review by saying there was more salt in the play than even our beloved Salt Flats could hold.

What Mr. Ware termed "the weakest team ever to represent Nebraska" can redeem itself Saturday by virtue of a victory over the Iowa Seahawks. Victory over Bierman's boys recalls vividly the David-Goliath tale.

Seahawk record to date consists of victories over such notables as Northwestern, Minnesota, Michigan, and Indiana. Notre Dame handed the Bierman club its sole defeat—but in turn the Bierman club tripped Michigan and Michigan topped Notre Dame. All this sums up the conclusion that the Seahawks can't be ranked lower than fifth among the nation's grid giants.

Included within the Seahawk roster are a flock of "name" performers worthy of attention anywhere. Look 'em over: George Paskvan and Ed Jankowski of Wisconsin; Forest Evashevski of Michigan; Mal Kutner of Texas; Babe LeVoir, Charley Schultz, George Svendson, and George Flick of Minnesota; Dick Fisher, Jim Langhurst and Charley Ream of Ohio State.

Instead of "the painful campaign nearing its unimpressive end" as WaWre affectionately puts it, we're pulling for those Huskers to rally from the depths and exhibit new fire Saturday.

New Backfield Added To Top Husker Weight

Squad changes released yesterday by Mentor Glenn Presnell revealed the most astonishing news of the year in the Cornhusker camp.

In face of the injury epidemic, Presnell "cooked up" an entirely new varsity backfield. Ki Eisenhart, regular fullback, was shifted to quarterback Al Grubaugh, normally a sub tackle, was inserted at right half; Roy Long retained his left halfback post; and Wally Hopp was advanced from second to first string fullback.

New roster:

TEAM 1: Nyden and M. Thompson, ends; Schleich and McNutt, tackles; Duda and Stranathan, guards; Partington, center; Eisenhart, quarterback; Long and A. Grubaugh, halfbacks, and Hopp fullback.

TEAM 2: Gelwick and Clark, ends; Sim and Byler, tackles; von Goetz and Bryant, guards; Bachman, center; Metheny, quarterback; Bradley and Hungerford, halfbacks and Randall Salisbury, fullback.

TEAM 3: Gillaspie and Kathol, ends; C. Wright and M. Grubaugh, tackles; Hazard and Wilkins, guards; Stranathan, center; Cooper, quarterback; Debus and Athey, Zikmund or Reichel, halfbacks, and G. Wright, fullback.

Faurot Chosen To Coach West

San Francisco, Nov. 14—Missouri's Don Faurot headman of the Big Six football champions and Orin "Babe" Hollingbery of Washington State will coach the Western all-stars in the East-West Shrine charity game New Year's day here.

Mentoring the East against the mythical Western team will be Coach Andy Kerr of Colgate and George Hauser of Minnesota.

Faurot replaces "Biff" Jones, former Nebraska headman now in the services. William Coffman, director of the Shrine's annual football contest made the announcement.

Missouri Nears Big Six Trophy

Big Six league play still lacks one week until completion, but there is no longer any element of mystery as to the sum outcome.

By tripping the fifth place Jayhawks of Kansas, Missouri can officially assume possession of the title next Saturday. The Tigers faltered against plucky Oklahoma last week and landed in a 6-6 tie.

Top conference game Saturday is the Cornhusker-Seahawk battle at Iowa City. Iowa State battles point-shy Kansas State at Manhattan, Missouri meets Fordham at New York, and Oklahoma meets Temple in Philadelphia.

Tho failing to tally against Oklahoma, Bob Steuber still "clings" to a 64-point scoring lead.

Big Six Teams Round Up Only League Wins

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 14.—Oklahoma's iron-willed Sooners whipped Missouri's Big Six champions in statistic figures and deadlocked them 6 to 6 in the scoring column in a thrilling conference struggle before 20,000 homecoming fans this afternoon.

Toiling virtually for the full route, the Sooner forwards solved Missouri's combative "T" formation for three consecutive periods but yielded a tie to Steuber and mates as Ervin Pitts rammed the middle for a touchdown in closing minutes. Sooner Bill Campbell secondary whirlwind blocked a Steuber punt late in the second quarter and Eddie Davis bulled over before the half gun for the Oklahoma score.

AMES, Ia., Nov. 14.—Rolling back with a two touchdown second half rally, Iowa State's gridiron Cyclones nipped Kansas, 20 to 13, before 4,000 fans this afternoon.

Scoring twins, Royal Lohry and Paul Darling divided the touchdown blasting with Lohry plunging two yards for the first score, Darling getting the second on a two yard smash and the third on a nine yard end sweep as the Ames prodigies took advantage of Jayhawk fumbles. Ray Evan's sensational 47 yard run on a pass interception and his heave to Ed Lindquist for touchdowns highlighted Kansas play.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 14.—Indiana's Billy Hillenbrand treaded 77 yards on a spectacular touchdown run, to spotlight the Hoosiers rout of weak Kansas State here this afternoon as Bo McMillan's reserves pounded the Wildcats into submission, 54 to 0.

Touchdowns were reeled off in every period but the second with Capt. Bob White leading the wild scoring with two goal dirt blasts.

Huskers Ready For Iowa Hawks

Husker gridmen reviewed plays yesterday as they opened preparations for the oncoming fray with the Iowa Seahawks.

Following the dismal showing at Pitt, the Huskers are determined to come back against the Seahawks. If they top the Iowa part-pro, part-amateur eleven, a miracle will remain in the offing.

Seahawk strength is at a low ebb since Bernie Bierman recently saw half his gridders graduate. However, the crippled condition of the squad demotes any large degree of Husker optimism.
