

That Quizzical Look . . .

Jim Nicola, Tau-man, is wondering what the brothers will think of that brown sharkskin suit he's wearing. Harvey Bros. tells him that the boys will think the pin check and three button drape are "really fine."

Society...

We crawl silently out of our armored hide-away again to rip off this so called column (at the rate of 2 inches an hour), and to humbly apoloigize to the Tau's collectively and a certain cheer leader individually.

The brightest light shining on the week-end's horizon is the annual fall Kosmet Klub revue. The workers are throwing the usual party for the actives after the show. From the numbers scheduled, it looks like an all around good show.

Swing Shift.

The Towne Club girls are throwing a swing shift party this evening, which will be tops in fun as the name implies. A few of the dates are Dorothy Olson and Sterling Stage; Betty Huston and Ray Griffin; Lola Jean Swann and Jim Barbour; Ruth Sherburn and Jack Peck; Jean Albert and Miles Cadwallader; Eleanor Edison and Bill Green; and then of course prexy Laura Morrison will be on hand with Bob Luebs.

Whitefish Montana is a long way from Lincoln so DG Helen Johnson is going to spend Thanksgiving vacation in Omaha and ATO Sam Sieffert is going down to see that the big town isn't too dull.

Open House Party.

The boys over at the silo house are having another one of their famous open house parties tonight with Hank Mattison and his orchestra furnishing the music. Some pretty likely looking combinations will take in the affair including: Laird Fischer and Alpha Phi Betty Jerner; Dick Hay and Triple Delt Jean Whedon; Johnny Jones and Alpha Phi Jo Kinsey; and Dee Bourne with Irene Hanson.

Another house party coming off this week-end is the one over Alpha Sig way with brothers Hank Buthman and Jimmy Graham on the docket with Gamma Phi Roberta Burgess and AOPi Betty Bonebright.

A trio of Phi Gams will hit the week-end highspots with three Thetas. Merlin James will be with Jo Ackerman, Norrie Anderson with Becky Wait, and Morrie Dingwell with Jean Dresden. Cozy, huh?

And speaking of the Gamma Phis—DU pledge Bob Waite has dates with three of the sisters in two days. Friday night the lucky girl is Jan Babcock, Saturday afternoon Nancy Coe and Saturday night Frances Han. It's a good idea if he can get away with it, but woe be unto him when the sisters start comparing notes.

He's On the Hunt.

Bob Bramson Sammie while musing over a coke the other afternoon in the grill with the boys, decided it was high time he found a woman, so anyone interested please apply at the SAM house.

We hear from the usual reliable sources that the Tau party will be a real beachcomber's paradise and getting in the fun will be Roy Lundgren and Pi Phi Virginia Davidson and Kenny Elson and Judy O'Connor, Kappa both of whom are also taking in the Kosmet Klub show in the afternoon.

These DG-FH combinations seem to be catching, the latest addition to the club is Bob Rauner and Janie Robinson. They were coking in the Crib Wednesday afternoon and are following that up with another date Saturday night.

A Study in Brown . . .

Mink paw chevrons are the basis of this junior size fur coat which little Betty King, Alpha Chi, wears for warmth and smartness. Hovland's feature it in brown with a slight fullness at the back and the new straight shoulder line. Betty's hat is a brown pokebrim felt to offset her baby bob.

Massacre . . .

The latest release from the Cornhusker office announces that such gals as Jeanie Brown, Kay Detweiler, Polly Petty, Myron Colberg, Betty Hoff, Virginia McCulla, Sally Busch, and Mary Russel will start the game in attempt to demoralize the Ragmen. As you know touch football is a game where the players of one team must touch the players of the other team, and the above girls have reputations for not being able to be touched.

Norris Anderson, smoo-o-o-the sports editor of the Daily who also writes a goodly portion of the yearbook, will divide his talents between the two teams. This is one more concession the Rag is making to the yearbook staff.

Probably you readers are getting sick and tired of reading these pre-game write-ups. This is the third one and it will definitely be the last, because as Cornhusker editor Alice Louise Becker puts it, "We've got intestestinal fortitude."

Two Union Dances Slated This Week

Music will float from the Union ballroom this week-end as Johnny Cox and his orchestra play for the students tonight, and the juke-box gives out with rhythm tomorrow night.

Fund . . .

At Oregon the plan received a primary push from $122 netted on a Greek-Independent basketball game and independent groups have added materially to the total. This can be done here, and now with official backing for the proposal, and all that is lacking is student help.

Religious Board Plans for Advisors To Meet Students

Under the direction of the Ag Religious board, opportunity is being provided for ag students to meet their counselors in religion on the campus.

Following a schedule of hours, the religious leaders will hold office hours in the YMCA office at the north end of the second floor, agricultural hall.
