

W Herald Chooses All Big Six Team

... Schleich at Tackle

Missouri and Oklahoma each placed four while Nebraska, Kansas, and Iowa State placed one each as the 15th Omaha World-Herald Big Six eleven made its appearance last Sunday.

Schleich Chosen.

Victor Schleich, Nebraska's all-American bid, was the only Husker to make the select eleven as he was named to one of the tackle positions. Warren Hodges of Missouri was selected as Schleich's running mate at the other tackle spot.

With a wealth of end material to choose from, Fred Ware and his accomplices named Bert Ekern of Missouri and Oklahoma's Dub Lamb to man the flankers. Jim Tyree of Oklahoma and Marv Thompson of Nebraska were left out surprises.

Good Guards.

The Omaha paper probably couldn't have picked a better pair of guards than Missouri's Mike Fitzgerald and Clare Morford of Oklahoma. Fitzgerald will be playing with the West all stars in the Shriner's classic on New Year's day. Morford still has another year of eligibility.

Jack Marsee, Oklahoma's 175-lb. center, was placed at the pivot spot. Marsee beat out such performers as Jeff Davis of Missouri and Joe Partington of Nebraska.

Evans Places.

Huel Hamm, Ray Evans, Bob Stueber, and Paul Darling round out the backfield. Hamm and Evans both gained national recognition as passers. Hamm was one of the better punters in the Big Six this year.

Missouri's Bobby Stueber was a unanimous choice to the select team. Stueber tallied 121 points during the season to establish a new individual Big Six scoring record.

Besides helping Royal Lohry hold up the Iowa State backfield, Paul Darling took time out to develop into one of the best bone-crushing fullbacks the Big Six has seen in many a moon. Darling's performance against Oklahoma was probably his most outstanding.

Huskers Honored.

Eleven Cornhusker gridsters were given honorable mention. Jack Hazen and Marv Thompson at the ends, tackle Joe Byler, guards Charles Duda, Herb Von Goetz, and Wayne Stranathan, center Joe Partington, and backs Dale Bradley, Roy Long, Allen Zikmund, and Ki Eisenhart.

The following received honorable mention:

Ends—Marshall Shurnas, Missouri; Jim Tyree, Oklahoma; Jack Hazen, Nebraska; Marv Thompson, Nebraska; Maurice Ryan, Iowa State; George Dick, Kansas.

Tackles—Homer Simmons, Oklahoma; Bernard Pepper, Missouri; Stanley Green, Oklahoma; Joe Byler, Nebraska.

Guards—Charles Duda, Herbert von Goetz and Wayne Stranathan, Nebraska; George Gibbons, Oklahoma; Verle Abrams, Missouri; Joe Crawford, Kansas; Edgar McNeil, Kansas State.

Centers—Joe Partington, Nebraska; Junius Penny, Kansas; Jefferson Davis, Missouri.

Quarterbacks—William Campbell, Oklahoma; Harold Adams, Missouri.

Halfbacks—Royal Lohry, Iowa State; Mike Zeleznak, Kansas State; Dale Bradley, Roy Long and Allen Zikmund, Nebraska; Eddie Davis, Oklahoma.

Fullbacks—Don Reece, Missouri; Kirwin Eisenhart, Nebraska.

... In Charity Games

Four Missouri football players and one Oklahoma Sooner so far have been chosen to all-star teams that will participate in charity football games on New Year's day.

Captain Don Reece and Bob Steber, backs and Mike Fitzgerald, guard, all of Missouri, have been named members of the West squad in the annual Shrine game at San Francisco Jan. 1. Another Missouri Tiger, Jefferson Davis, has accepted a bid to play with the Northern all-stars in the annual North-South classic on Dec. 27th.

Dub Lamb of the Oklahoma team will also take part in the East-West game on New Year's day. Lamb will hold down one of the end positions.

By Graduation . . .

Track Mentor Wier Laments Loss Of Big-Six Point Men

Throwing a rather gloomy shadow on the 1942 Nebraska Cornhusker track prospects, Ed Weir revealed the extent the war and graduation had cut into his array in an interview last week.

"We lost 21 points to our armed forces; 21 points thru graduating seniors and have 5½ points back from the 47½ points we scored in winning the Big Six indoor meet last year," Weir stated in discussing the current prospects for a repeat championship performance next month.

"The freshmen rule will help us, especially where we are weak," Weir declared. "Two of our best yearling bets are Creighton Hale of Hardy and Blane Young of North Platte, both middle distance men."

In regard to the new NU building light. Certain defense plants in the city were authorized to keep their lights burning and they served as landmarks in the sea of blackness which confronted the spotters.

Governor Griswold and Mayor Johnson were among the officials who stood in the wet slush of the capitol dome walk to watch the blackout. They were greatly impressed, and congratulated the citizens of Lincoln for their co-operation in making this test "an amazing spectacle."

Said the governor: "As the lights went on again after the blacking-out of the city, it was symbolic of the time for which we are fighting when the lights will go on again all over the world and business will be as usual."

Iowa U. Sophomore Squad Invades Lincoln Saturday

Only three lettermen will be on "Pops" Harrison's University of Iowa basketball team when they invade Lincoln next Saturday evening. However the remainder of the squad will be made up of some of the most promising sophomores seen at the Iowa school in a long time.

Only regular on the team last year which shared second place in the Big Ten is Tommy Chapman, forward who holds several of Iowa's individual scoring records.

Ben Trickey, reserve forward of last year, and Jim O'Brien, sub center, are the other veterans back. Trickey set a new single-game scoring mark last year.

Chapman and Trickey will probably hold down the forward spots when the Iowans meet the Huskers. Both scored over half the points in the Hawk's victory over South Dakota State last week.

At the center position, Dick Kelling, sophomore, is pushing O'Brien. Two other first year men, Theron Thompson and Gene Nesmith have been holding down the back-court assignments so far this year.

covers a body in the basement of the house, Teddy attempts to help him out by digging locks for the Panama canal in which to bury what he thinks is a fever victim.

Elaine Harper, the girl next door, whom Mortimer wants to marry, but is afraid to since he is one of the mad Brewsters, is played by Roberta Burgess. Dr. Einstein, played by Bud Swartz, is the plastic surgeon accomplice of Jonathan's. Glenn Nelson takes the part of Lieutenant Rooney of the police force, and Bill Palmer and Bob Silverman play the two cops. A discouraged policeman, Officer O'Hara, whose ambition is to be a playwright, is enacted by Romulo Soldevilla. Winding up the cast is Bob Black in the role of Mr. Witherspoon, the supervisor of Happy Dale sanitarium. Student director of the play is Carlene Hohensee.

Tickets are on sale in the Temple and season tickets may also be reserved there.
