Medical and pre-medical students not in the ERC—If inducted under Selective Service prior to the end of the first full semester or substantially corresponding academic period that begins in 1943 will be placed on inactive duty to continue such course until the end of that semester. They will then be called to active duty at which time they may be detailed for further medical or pre-medical training under the Army specialized training program or assigned to other military duty.

Fourth-year students taking advanced ROTC—will be ordered to active duty upon graduation or upon completion of the first full semester that begins in 1943, whichever is earlier. Upon entering active duty they will be ordered to their respective branch schools and commissioned upon successful completion of the course.

Third-year students in the ERC pursuing technical engineering courses—will continue in an inactive status until the end of the first full semester that begins in 1943 and will then be called to active duty. Those selected at the completion of their basic military training for further technical training will then be detailed for such instruction under the army specialized training program.

Third-year students pursuing technical engineering courses, not members of the ERC—will, if inducted prior to the end of the first full semester that begins in 1943, be placed on inactive duty while continuing such technical engineering course until the end of that semester. They will then be called to active duty. Those selected at the completion of their basic military training for further technical training will be detailed for such instruction under the army specialized training program.

All other ERC students—will be called to active duty at the end of the current semester and upon completion of basic training will be eligible for selection for training under this program or for other military duty.

Sigma Chi Celebrates Sixty Years on Campus With Dinner

. . . Dancing This Week-End

It was just sixty years ago this winter that the Sigma Chis held their first dinner which has become what is now called the annual Sigma Chi dinner dance.

It all began in 1883 when it was held to celebrate the founding of the Nebraska chapter which was the only fraternal organization on this campus at that time. For the first few years it was only a banquet and the dancing was added sometime later. In the chapter scrap book, invitations to the affair date back to 1895 when it was held at the Lincoln Hotel as it will be this year. In early years it was held in the chapter house which was located at 13th and "O" streets.
