

'Whistle' Party . . . Barbs Will Hold Dance at 9 Tonight . . . Start Social Whirl

BY MARJORIE MAY.

No fanfare, no rallies, little publicity and not even an election in sight and the barbs are in the news again.

Coming up with the initiative of organized barb groups on the campus, Interhouse Council will sponsor a "whistle" dance tonight in the Union ballroom for unaffiliated students.

This is the second in a series of such "whistle" parties, the first presented by the NIA in the parlors before vacation. Interhouse Council, an organization to which all organized women's co-ops, the dorm, and Towne Club may send representatives, is holding this month's "whistle" dance—significance of which is a secret—in the Union ballroom. It will last from 9 until 12 tonight.

Dates and Stags Invited.

Master-of-ceremonies at the barb affair will be Jimmie Howe, Brown Palace Co-op man, and members of the Interhouse Council will help in mixing the dancers. Sponsored not so much as date affairs, these parties are given as social events where unaffiliated students may get to know each other better.

Members of the eight or nine co-ops on the campus have been doing most of the work of getting the barb social season started and keeping it going. With the inactivity of the NIA Council as the NIA Council, the task of providing unaffiliated students on the campus with organized parties and dances has devolved to other, supposedly subordinate groups.

Co-op Coeds Group.

Probably the most active of these organizations, the Interhouse Council was started two years ago by BABW so that boarding house coeds might discuss mutual problems and find ways to co-operate. Since then it has functioned unobtrusively with meetings every week or two with speakers, discussion groups, aid to the NIA Council when needed, and planning of various kinds of parties, both for

(See BARBS, Page 2.)

Registration Conferences Begin Monday

Upperclassmen Consult Advisers, Deans Next
 Week; Fees Due Jan. 28

Early registration for UN upperclassmen will begin next Monday and will extend until Saturday noon when dates for seeing advisers will come to an end.

After an adviser fills out a student's tentative schedule, the student must take the paper to the dean of his college for acceptance. Students are urged to arrange conferences with advisers immediately.

All UN students will commence paying fees Monday, Jan. 25, and may pay until the deadline of Jan. 28. As in the past Memorial hall will be the scene of the paying of fees.

Students who do not see their advisers next week will be assessed late registration fees. Changes in registration will not be considered until Monday, Feb. 1.

Library Initiates January Victory Book Campaign

The university library is co-operating in a victory book drive for the month of January. Those who wish to contribute books to the drive were asked to leave their books at the circulation desk in the main reading room of the library or at any of the university departmental libraries. It is stressed that the books contributed be of the type that will be of interest to men in service.

UN Commando Tactics Course Resumes Class

The commando tactics class for junior and senior ROTC students will be resumed tomorrow morning at 8:30 on the coliseum stage, announced the military department.

Under the instruction and supervision of 1st lieutenant Robert E. Adams, the students will continue the subject material begun during December of last year. A brief review and warm-up exercises will be given the first part of the morning, enabling the students to get back into the stride of commando and judo tactics.

The course will continue with weekly meetings hereafter for the rest of the semester unless otherwise announced. All students who participated in the exercises previous to the holidays are urged to report tomorrow morning in an effort to get a good start on training for the rest of the semester.

Enrolment Drop

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (ACP). A survey of the nation's universities and colleges shows a 9½ percent decline from a year ago in the number of full-time students.

The report, covering 667 approved institutions having 746,922 full-time students, was made by President Raymond Walters of the University of Cincinnati and was published in "School and Society," national education journal.

Carolyn Davis Supervises Enlistment of WAVES Here

Advising women to enter enlisted personnel and work up to officer's training, Ensign Carolyn Davis, WAVES officer, is supervising enlistment in the naval auxiliary for Lincoln and surrounding territory in room 805 of the Terminal building.

All women are enlisted in the WAVES as apprentice seamen, and after completion of training, will be promoted to higher rank and assigned to duty in accordance with demonstrated ability. The assignments may be made anywhere in the continental United States, and enlistments are binding for the duration and for six months thereafter.

The following requirements must be met at the time of enlistment: Candidates must be American born or naturalized citizens. Age limits for officer candidates are 20 to 49 inclusive, for enlisted women, 20 to 36; if the candidate is under 21, parental consent must be given. Women married to Navy men and women with children under 18 are not eligible.

Enlisted women must be graduates of a high school or business college. If not graduated, they must have business or professional training equivalent to a high school education. Training for enlisted personnel is given at the large universities: The University of Wisconsin is the school of radio activities, the University of Indiana handles the storekeeper school, Oklahoma A. & M. has a yeoman's school and Iowa State Teachers' College contains the school for general examination.

All personnel must pass a Navy physical examination.

(See WAVES, Page 3.)

Cast Rehearses 'Red Hot and Blue' Show

Rehearsing for their act in "Red, Hot and Blue," benefit student variety show sponsored by the war Council, is the Delta Gamma swing and blues trio, composed of Pauline Van Horne, Janet Krause and Jean Swarr. Lounging behind the mike is Stage Manager Bob Van Sant.

A brand new campus character shrouded in turbans of mystery, the famed MIRANDA, gorgeous, glamorous three-in-one product of the Gay Nineties, will be introduced Sunday night soon after the opening at 7:30 p. m. of "Red Hot and Blue," all student talent benefit variety show sponsored by the War Council.

Thirteen student houses and a group from the Lincoln Air Base have volunteered their free services to the War Council's latest war effort to raise money to continue sending Cornhusker Rag Tags, Nebraska newsletter, to former Nebraskans now in the armed forces.

Tickets for "Red Hot and Blue" sell at 25c, twenty-three cents of which goes for the benefit, and the other three to the government as tax. At the close of the show, which is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Sunday, January 10, in the Union ballroom, the audience will adjourn to the annual Union New Year's party.

UNEB Makes Plans For Coming Months . . . Hold Weekly Quiz

Greeting the New Year with new plans, station UNEB officially returned to the air last night at 10:30 p. m. after a two week vacation.

The UN station announced that beginning Sunday, January 17, a truth-or-consequences show, "Hit Or Miss," would be staged every week at 8 p. m. in the Union ballroom before a radio audience of approximately eight hundred. In this show, campus men are pitted against campus women in a quiz contest.

Because of the enlargement of the studio staff to approximately 60 persons, station UNEB will be able to carry a larger variety of programs. This staff work will include announcing, dramatics, music, production, direction, script and continuity writing, and technical supervision.

Through its affiliation with the

(See UNEB, Page 3.)

'Red, Hot, Blue' Gives Request Performances

Publicity and widespread comment have resulted in two appearance dates for selected acts from the student talent show soon after "Red, Hot and Blue" has been presented to the university as a war benefit show by the Student War Council next Sunday.

Four or five acts to be selected later will make a half hour show before the Junior Chamber of Commerce weekly luncheon next Tuesday, Jan. 12.

Another group of acts to be selected from "Red, Hot and Blue" will stage a program at the Air Base hospital a week from next Monday, Jan. 13, at the request of the local U.S.O.

Free cokes and brownies will be served in the Pan American room, parlors ABC, and XYZ from 9:30 on. Students must present a food coupon at any of these places which may be obtained before the show and during the party in the Union lobby with an identification card.

Saluting a nation at war will be the Sigma Chi singers in charge of Emerson Jones and Ray Herr. The title of their act is "Serenade Militaire." A second patriotic act is the military tap dance offered by Joanne Kinsey.

Directly following "Rhapsody in Blue," moody piano solo by Jeanne Rotton, will be Sultry Songstress Lenore Beck. Also swinging medleys are Frances Haberman and Jane Johnson, and the Delta Gamma trio, Jean Swarr, Pauline Van Horne, and Janet Krause. Jean Bovard will give out with some original blues, completing the vocal numbers.

The Kappa puppeteers directed

(See RED HOT, Page 4.)

Union Book Nook Reviews 5 Publications

Book Nook, the book reviews radio program sponsored by the University of Nebraska library over KFOR at 4:15 today, will present reviews of five well-known publications.

Heading the list of books to be reviewed is "Barriers Down," by Kent Cooper. Bella Fromm's "Blood and Banquets" will be sketched second.

"Person, Place and Thing," by Karl Jay Shapiro, the third book to be reviewed will be followed by a biography, "Jefferson Himself: The Personal Narrative of a Many Sided American" by Bernard Mayo. The concluding review on the program will be "Suds in Your Eyes," by Mary Lasswell.

Betty Rhodes will act as commentator on the program and Richard Proud will announce. The script for Book Nook will be prepared by Bobette Burke.