

New Cream Cosmetic Gives Glamour Glow

BY HELEN GOODWIN.

Your skin, if clean and free of blemishes, can be made to glow with beauty if the use of proper makeup foundation is employed. Experimenting with several formulas may be necessary before determining the foundation which will do most for your type of skin—but the result is worth the effort.

Making its debut most timely for the chapping weather is a new triple-duty formula, it is a luscious, liquid cream which is tinted in a pearly flesh, and spreads on the skin easily. It provides a perfect base for blending paste cheek rouge or for powder and then powdered rouge. As a lubricant and protective it also serves to keep your make-up looking nice for many hours. This inexpensive cosmetic will help the co-eds who make up in the morning and not again until late afternoon.

A make-up foundation which comes in cake form serves for normal skins, or slightly oily one. This is applied with a piece of dampened cotton all over the face and neck and then blended with the fingertips. Your skin has a lovely film and your beauty is enhanced. Pat powder over it rather generously and then even it with a powder brush to whisk off any excess.

The coed who has a dry skin may use this lasting base, but she should first use a bit of light cream on her skin for the product is slightly astringent. This base is obtainable in four exquisite complexion shades that accommodate nearly all natural skin tones.

Polish is Lighter.

As in years before the coeds will notice that there is a tendency to more natural lipstick and rouge and nail polish shades. Deep true roses, pink-fleshes shades seem to

UNEB Receives Bulletin on War Aid Broadcasts

Station UNEB will soon begin direct co-operation with the Army and Navy in broadcasting new programs of particular military interest. The Collegiate Station announced this after receiving a special bulletin from the Inter-collegiate Broadcasting System of New York City.

All eighteen college radio stations affiliated with IBS will co-operate in a nationwide program of assisting the War Department and aiding the war effort.

Specific details as to the exact nature of the military programs are not yet available.

Chesterfield Begins New Advertising Campaign Theme

Urging its readers and listeners to send cigarettes regularly to men in uniform, Chesterfield is opening its 1943 advertising campaign with a series of ads with a "buy war bonds-write letters-send Chesterfields" theme.

The advertisement is illustrated with the picture of an attractive young woman dressed in the uniform of the American Women's Voluntary Services. In one hand she holds a sheaf of war bonds and stamps and in the other a letter and a carton of cigarettes.

be high in favor. For evening beneath artificial lighting, some of the more exotic make-up is worn.

When buying make-up, buy it assembled—that is with lipstick, rouge and nail polish from the same firm. These harmonies are carefully planned. If you shop wisely, you will discover three make-up sets of different shades that will harmonize with everything in your wardrobe. There should be no clashing of colors then and glamour you will have!

Trinity May Admit Women

Trinity college, Hartford, Conn., is debating a proposal to admit women for the first time to counteract the drain on the student body growing out of selective service. A poll taken by the Trinity "Tripod, college weekly, reveals that undergraduates and instructors are almost evenly divided on the idea.

Urge Journalism Schools to Speed Training of Coeds

A plan whereby journalism students could be fitted for jobs in as short time as one year to relieve the critical shortage of trained newspaper men who have entered the armed services was recently suggested by the national council on professional education in the journalism field.

The council, which represents the "big five" newspaper associations, urged the nation's journalism schools to inaugurate "concentrated" courses in journalism in a new "speed-up" program. The plan contemplates that these students—mostly girls—would return to complete their journalism courses at the end of the war.

Prof. I. L. Sharfman, chairman of the department of economics, has been named Henry Russel lecturer at the University of Michigan for 1942-43.

Time To Sponsor Student's Current Event Quiz Here

... Register at Union

Character identification, multiple choice, map identification, quotations—no, it isn't a final in history. It is Time magazine's semi-annual current events quiz.

Time's current events quiz—a contest—will be given on the campus Sunday afternoon, January 24, to a limited number of contestants. Fifty undergraduates or graduate students may enter this contest on world affairs by registering at the Union check stand before January 19. If the limit of fifty contestants is reached and any organized house does not have a representative in the contest, that house may enter a contestant even after the limit is reached.

The contest covers only present-day current event questions on world affairs with a few questions on current literature, art, and science. Questions will include character identification, multiple choice, map identification, quotations, and picture identification.

Replacing the team system which was used last year in the contest, individuals will work separately on the written questions during the hour required for the quiz.

A contest suggests prizes. Winner of the quiz will be entitled to receive either a world globe or any $5 book he may choose. The runner-up will be given a $2.50 book he may pick out.

ROCT Status ...

Army Specialized Training Program is initiated at UN these students will be called to active duty and will continue their studies here until graduation in May. After graduation they will be sent to their respective branch schools and then be commissioned.

Present juniors in advanced drill in the ERC, like the seniors, will be called to active duty when UN begins its Army Specialized Training Program and will remain in school until the end of next semester.

Receive Commissions.

After this, they will be sent to replacement centers and will receive training corresponding to senior advanced drill. Officer candidates school are next on tab and after successful completion of training they will receive their commissions.

Details for the actual induction of those senior and junior advanced ROTC students who are not in the ERC are being worked out between the university and the state selective boards. After induction they will follow the same procedure as ERC students.

Regarding courses for next semester Dean Thompson advises students to follow prescriptions outlined in the joint agreement of the Army and Navy in its joint ERC program. There are no course requirements for those in the Army reserve.

Transfer Later.

The Army plans to discharge students pledged to the Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard so that they may enlist in the branch of their choice. The actual transferring will occur when such groups are called to active duty. These students must follow course prescriptions.

Those in V-1 of the Navy must have one year of college math, including trigonometry, and a year of physics. There are no require-

College Coeds Aren't So Dumb Census Reveals

One out of every seven Americans over 25 years old—10,104,000 of them—are "functionally" illiterate, according to the 1940 U. S. census—more than three times the number of college graduates.

The definition of "functional" comes from army standards which require the equivalent of a fourth grade education and the ability to read a daily newspaper for the admission of selectees. By this definition, the illiterates are barred from the army, have a restricted usefulness in war industries and cannot fulfill their duties as citizens.

The largest number of illiterates come from states with the greatest population: New York, with more than 1,000,000; Pennsylvania with 696,000; Texas with 642,000; and Illinois with 462,000. By races, the breakdown is 7,300 whites, 2,700,000 Negroes and 100,000 all others. Of the white total, 4,200,000 are native born and 3,100,000 foreign born.

ments for Naval Air Corps reservists in V-5. Those in V-7 must complete two semesters of math, including trig. Marine reservists must take courses leading to graduation and obtaining of a degree.

Col. J. P. Murphy stated no more contracts to new advanced course students will be let. However, next semester students may take advanced drill courses, he added. Those pre-med students in the ERC will probably have taken screening tests, but their status has not definitely been decided.
