Jane Dalthorp, Betty Hohf Head Uni YWCA

Members of university YWCA yesterday elected Jane Dalthorp president on city campus for the coming year. Betty Hohf was named vice president.

The new president has been in charge of all YW social service groups, a member of several staffs and has done specialized work in the organization. She is a member of Tassels and Alpha Chi Omega. Miss Hohf was chairman of the membership and finance committee and a delegate to the Estes conference. She is also managing editor of the Cornhusker and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Ag Elects Officers.

Dorothy Anderson was elected president of the ag YW. She has been social chairman of the ag group. Peggy Larson was elected secretary.

Other persons elected to office in the city organization are Lois Hanson, secretary; Dorothy Carnahan, treasurer, and Barbara Townsend, regional representative. The amendment calling for a change in membership fees from $2 for four years to $1 each year was passed. Women who have paid their YW membership to date will not be affected by this change.

The new president will choose her cabinet to be presented to the membership at the first vespers service of the new semester. Old and new cabinets will meet together Jan. 21 at Ellen Smith hall. According to statements from this year's officers, the voting membership was double that of last year.

Gold, who established these keys in memory of his father, will attend the dinners and present these awards.

Prof. Karl Arndt will announce the new Beta Gamma Sigma members. In charge of the program for the banquet are Professors A. B. Carson, G. N. Darlington and C. M. Elliot, who refused to divulge any plans for the entertainment "for fear members of the faculty might fail to appear."

Programs for the bizad banquets are notoriously humorous, according to reports of students attending during past years. The Union catering department revealed that there has been a demand for "two large brown trays—one for each hand" but were in the work as to the purpose of the request.

A crowd of from 200 to 225 is expected to attend the dinner. A committee of students is selling tickets with Roger Houtchens in charge of sales.

Council Elects New Officers, Creates Posts

Two new offices were set up within the War Council at its regular meeting last night. The new office of vice president was combined with that of secretary, and a separate office of treasurer was organized.

Lois Christie, the present secretary of the War Council, was unanimously elected to fill the double position of secretary and vice president. Ronald Metz was unanimously elected to the newly created office of treasurer.

J. D. Clark, dean of bizad college, declared yesterday: "Last year I promised the students that if they would only take the chance, they would find the annual college dinner furnished a very interesting evening. The committee in charge of that affair more than made good my promise. The committee in charge of the banquet this year has assured me that they will at least equal that record."

War Hits Campus . . . 'Oh, Waitress' May Replace 'Hey Waiter' In Union Grill

War has hit the Union in more ways than the limited supply of cokes and the curtailment of the kinds and quantity of ice cream. In the Union as everywhere else women are taking over the jobs formerly held by men.

Next semester girls will be serving in the dining room as well as working in the check stand and taking cash in the grill.

Even the signs used for advertising coming events on the Union calendar will be supplied by feminine artists, as Bob Wilson and Bob Hansen, the two boys who have been doing this work, have been called into the armed services. Successors to them have not as yet been selected but all applicants for the job have been girls.

During the final week girls will be asked to apply at the cashier's desk in the Union for employment as waitresses, check girls, and the like.
