Corn Cobs, YM Act First For War

... Under War Council

According to the reorganization plan of the War Council, the YMCA and Corn Cobs will be the first to take active part in the university war activities when they take charge of the collection of Victory Books Monday afternoon.

Members of these two organizations have been assigned organized houses on both city and ag campuses where they will collect all Victory Book contributions Monday afternoon rather than after dinner so as not to conflict with prom plans. Manpower commission leaders and house presidents are to be responsible for having the books ready at this time.

Ed Faytinger is chairman of the Corn Cob committee which will collect books from the following houses:

Prom Starts Early Provides Full Night

"Make your Prom date for 8:15 because dancing starts at 8:30 sharp."

This was the announcement made by the Innocents today in regard to Monday nights' Junior-Senior Prom. The decision to start the dance one half hour earlier than university parties usually begin was made because of the fact that there are so many things to be done that evening in addition to dancing.

The Innocents will tap their successors in the traditional manner and the other major feature of the party will be the presentation of the Prom Girl who will be elected earlier in the evening by those attending the affair.

17 Piece Band Plays.

Lloyd Hunter and a 17 piece band will play for the party and tickets may be obtained from any Corn Cob or Innocent or may be purchased at Simons, Magee's, Harvey Brother's, Student Union, or Uni Drug at $1.10 per couple.

Candidates for Prom Girl have been chosen from organized houses and dorm by members of the Innocents Society.

War Council Begins New Coed Classes

Surgery Dressing Is New Venture

Taking over surgical dressing activities under the War Council's new reorganization plan, the YWCA has made arrangements for an all university surgical dressing class under the Red Cross. Periods of work at the surgical dressing headquarters in the Telephone building, in which only university girls will participate, will begin a week from tomorrow.

Catherine Wells and Rachel Ann Locke are chairman of this program in which almost 150 university girls may take an active part in war work. Supervision of the work, secretaries, inspection and the actual making of the surgical dressings will be undertaken by students only on Saturdays, which have been designated as University day.

Work for the day has been divided into two sections, morning and afternoon, at which times 60 girls will be needed for each section to make the surgical dressings. The morning period lasts from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. and the afternoon period runs from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Is One Bullet All Students Can Purchase?

War stamps sales missed the $100 mark by 85c in yesterday's drive. A slightly better showing than last week's sales of $7., this week's total of $99.15 for 4,400 students.

According to these figures each student spent 2 1/2c for war stamps, enough to buy one bullet for any army that needs billions of bullets.

Ag campus was again leader of sales with a total of $30.70. Sosh was second with $20.75, and the Union placed as close third with $19.90. The Delta Omicron booth in the School of Music sold $13.60. The Mechanical Arts booth jumped from sales averaging $5 to this week's total of $14.20.

Gray Proposes Post War Planning In Discussions

Planning the post war world will be the subject of a series of faculty discussions planned by Prof. G. W. Gray of the history department, under whose direction the first group of such a series will meet tomorrow at 3:30 in social sciences.

The group would serve as a center of the study and consideration of post war problems concerning the text of peace treaties, reconstruction programs, international trade agreements and plans for prevention of future wars. All faculty members interested in such a discussion group are asked to attend the meeting tomorrow.

Develop Forums.

From this first meeting it is possible that later public meetings, round tables and forums may develop, and it is hoped that interest will be great enough to maintain an active group thruout the year. Such a plan has proved popular in large universities and colleges, and is thought to be a distinct aid to post war planning.

Of the proposed project, C. H. Oldfather, dean of the college of arts and sciences, said yesterday, "Since the government will do what the citizens thing ought to be done, we should be shaping our thoughts on the matter now. A group of this sort is a very desirable thing in which all Americans should take an active interest."

Calls Plan Appropriate.

T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs, expressed himself feeling that such discussions were most

Jam Sessions, Ventriloquism In Union Show

... Sunday Evening

Aid Cadet Johnny Dugan, jam session music, and an action packed movie will appear on the Union ballroom stage in the third Student Union variety show Sunday at 8 p. m.

Air Cadet Johnny Dugan is Bud Levinson, Sigma Alpha Mu, in voice, action and thought, but not in form. Air Cadet Dugan is Levinson's ventriloquist dummy. Johnny and Bud will give a fast, witty dialogue as part of the student talent entertainment in the variety show.

That jam session trio, John Hardy, Delta Upsilon, Dick Buck, Beta Theta Pi, and Hugh Atkinson, Beta Theta Pi, will be back with new hot rhythm in their variety show act.

"Blockade," a stirring film of the Spanish Civil war, stars Madeleine Carroll, Henry Fonda, and Leo Carrillo in the lead roles. Nazism, fascism and democratic opposition form a modern background for this film of mixed human emotions.

Two Sororities Add to Fund

Raising the total amount of contributions to $1,510, Alpha Xi Delta and Sigma Delta Tau donated a war bond apiece to the Student Foundation war scholarship fund.

A "white elephant" auction of personal property was the method used by Alpha Xi Delta to raise their contribution to the drive. Goal of the fund is $2,500.

War Workers Featured In Transportation Series

War workers in American transportation industries are featured in a new series of advertisements for Chesterfield cigarettes.

"They deliver the goods" is the caption for ads concerning the work of the railroads, aviation and the telephone in transporting war materials and aiding in vital communication. Each ad also urges the public to "Buy War Bonds ... Write Letters."

All those who have purchased 1943 Cornhuskers should leave a mailing address in the yearbook office if they will not be here May 1 to pick up the book.

Counselors Sponsor Mercenary Romance

... At Annual Carnival

Pitching hearts and chancing a lipstick kiss are sure ways of spending an entertaining afternoon, according to members of Coed Counselors, sponsors of the annual Penny Carnival, to be held in Grant Memorial hall tomorrow from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m.

Eighteen organizations have entered booths in the yearly affair and will set up games and chances for which visitors will pay a penny.

Part of the proceeds from the carnival will go to the Student Foundation war scholarship fund.

Dancing will be held in the main room all afternoon, and booths will be judged at 4 p. m. Judges will be Nels A. Bengtson, dean of junior division; Pat Lahr, assistant director of the Union and Prof. Karl Arndt. Tickets may be obtained at the door and from any Coed Counselor.
