Tassels to Sell Stamps Wednesday This Week

Tassels will be in charge of the weekly war stamp sales, to be held today rather than the regular sales day tomorrow, under the reorganization plan of the War Council.

Wednesday has been designated as war stamp sales day this week by the Tassels and War Council as a tentative experiment. Because more classes are held on Wednesday, these two groups felt more students could be contacted for war stamp sales.

Intensive Campaigns.

During the rest of this semester an intensive war stamp sales campaign will be conducted on both campuses. In order to promote more extensive student sales, Tassels will give war stamp books to every student during the next month whether that student buys a war stamp or not.

In the future war stamp books may be requested with identification cards for admittance to various student activities.

Two Tassels will work at the booths in Social Sciences, MA, the Union and Ag Hall, and two will be stationed in the grill of the Student Union. Stamp sales will be conducted between 9 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. in each of these booths. Delta Omicron, honorary musical sorority, will continue to operate its booth in the School of Music.

Sweden Marks Time; Awaits U.S. War Aid

BY JEAN GLOTFELTY.

"The government's unshakable intention is resistance to the utmost limit." This was the statement made by Dr. Gosta Franzen of the University of Uppsala in Sweden when he appeared before a group in the Student Union yesterday to try to clarify Sweden's position in this war.

Dr. Franzen came to the United States in 1941 to study American education methods, but the war and occupation of the Scandinavian countries prevented him from returning home. He has been teaching Scandinavian languages at the University of Chicago. Recently he started on a tour of the U. S. to promote better understanding between his native Sweden and the U. S.

Swedish Not Neutral.

This article is a review of Dr. Franzen's talk: Sweden has played the part of the misunderstood country ever since she declared her neutrality in the present war. Sweden's neutrality (See SWEDEN, Page 2.)

Theta Sigs Hold Annual Banquet Thursday in Union

... Bill Wiseman to Speak

Speaking on "The Golden Age of Electronics," Mr. Bill Wiseman, promotion manager of WOW, will address students and faculty members Thursday night at 6:30 in the Union ballroom at the annual journalism banquet sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, national journalism sorority.

Also on the program is a half hour variety show to be presented by the radio department of the university, under the direction of Margaret Perkins. The show, featuring 15 minutes of "hit or miss" and a 15 minute variety show, will be broadcast over UNEB.

Discusses Radio Journalism.

Mr. Wiseman will discuss the possibilities of journalism as connected with radio during and after the war. As editor of the Radio News Tower, Wiseman will also speak on the publication and editing of house organs and opportunities in that field.

Tickets are 75 cents and may be purchased at the office of the school of journalism, Union office or from any Theta Sigma Phi.

Don W. Miller Scholarship Applications Due Mar. 15

Announcement that applications for scholarships may be made by students was made yesterday by Dean R. W. Goss, chairman of the Donald Walters Miller scholarship committee. Applications should be in the hands not later than Saturday March 13, and nominations from the respective colleges should be submitted to the committee not later than March 27.

Because of the accelerated program, payments from these scholarships may be made available for the summer session as well as for the regular academic year if the student so desires.

Students who will receive these awards are to be selected from graduate and professional colleges and schools of the university. Freshmen are not eligible for a scholarship. From among these nominations the committee will select those to be recommended to the chancellor and the board of regents for appointments.

Todd To Lead Cast In 'Thunder Rock'

A weird and shadowy lighthouse is the atmospheric setting of the next University Theater production, "Thunder Rock," which opens tonight at 8:00. Unusual sound and lighting effects combined with an outstanding set and the best cast ever gathered together on the Temple stage should make this play a sensation.

As a vivid contrast to the two former comedy hits of the season, "Thunder Rock" is a serious drama portraying the world's sentiment toward the war. It is an analogy illustrating the changing of a common, cynical attitude toward the world at war to a bright hope for the world's future. The analogy is brought about by the experience of one man, Charleston, who was once a newspaper reporter, disgusted and discouraged at the world's turmoil. Giving the world up for lost, he tries to escape by getting a job as the keeper of a lonely lighthouse on Lake Michigan.

Liberal Arts Meet Weighs Effects of War

The place of liberal arts study during war time and likely effects of the war on liberal education in the future are among subjects receiving special attention at the annual conference of the Deans of Liberal Arts Colleges of State Universities of the Middle West which opened Tuesday at the Student Union. The meeting will continue through today.

Sessions are entirely informal and no prepared papers are being presented. Special problems submitted by the members in advance are being taken up in order, but no group action will be taken and no resolutions will be passed, according to Dean C. H. Oldfather of the University of Nebraska.

In attendance are deans from more than a dozen state universities.

Surgical Class Calls For One Hundred Girls

One hundred university women will be called upon to prepare surgical dressings in a class held for four consecutive Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. or from 1 to 5 p. m.

Sponsored by the YWCA in cooperation with the war council, the class will be held at the Red Cross surgical dressing room at 14th and M streets. Quota set for university women is 10,000 bandages, and volunteers will be accepted thru the YW office or at the Red Cross rooms.

YW members in charge of the classes are Ann Seacrest, Rena Forsythe, Rachel Docke and Catherine Wells.

Start Phys Ed Swimming Requirement

New feature of the women's physical education department is the addition of 14 hours of swimming to the freshman physical education requirements. Under the new program the second semester has been divided into three units, rhythm fundamentals, group team sports, and swimming.

Instead of the former schedule of rhythm fundamentals and body mechanics in the first semester, this year the freshman women studied body conditioning and body mechanics.

Freshmen Assigned.

Then in place of being able to choose an elective the second semester, the freshmen are studying group team sports, rhythm fundamentals (See PHYS Ed., Page 2.)

Barbs Hold First Dance of Semester In Union Saturday

An informal dancing party for Barb men and women will be held, in parlors X Y and Z of the Union Saturday from 9 to 12 p. m.

It being the first party of its kind for the second semester, barb authorities are looking for a large turnout. During the preceding semester, similar dances have been held and have been comparatively successful. Music for the dance will be furnished by a jukebox, as has been the custom in the past.

Sponsor of the dance will be the Barb Activities Board for women, with Althea Ware, junior board member, in charge of all arrangements. Admission will be 15 cents per person.

U.N. Makes First Plans On Post-War Building

University of Nebraska faculty members, in line with a movement among universities over the country, have taken initial steps in organization of a council on post-war reconstruction.

Purpose of the organization will be to collect information, conduct research and carry on popular educational work in matters pertaining to the peace and reconstruction. Tentative plans call for regular meetings on the campus, co-operation with the extension division of the university in preparation and delivery of lectures and publication of general information and research materials.

J. E. LeRossignol, dean emeritus of the college of business administration, is chairman of an executive committee which includes K. O. Broady, C. A. Forbes, B. G. Gould, Harold Hamil, W. L. Hill, H. C. Vedeler, G. T. Gray, J. O. Hertzler and Dean O. J. Ferguson.

Students to be recommended "shall be students of either sex who shall have shown special or exceptional ability in their previous studies. Recipients of the scholarships shall be selected not merely upon the basis of their scholastic ability but there also shall be taken into consideration the aims, character, temperament, and financial need of the applicants."

Students may obtain application forms from department chairmen or from the office of the dean of the college in which the student is registered. Applications for graduate students should be filed in the graduate office.

All applications should be accompanied by a letter from the student which should include a more detailed statement concerning his educational and professional objectives than was included in the application blank.
