

Party Line

BY JO KINSEY.

We danced with a guy Saturday night who did something new (to us), the "East Hop." The guy, Bud Freeman, who lives in the boarding house with the pillars, an excellent dancer, seemed unafraid of the comments which might arise. A waltz expert is Mr. John Rokahr, who can waltz to any tune regardless of tempo.

The subject of the types of dancers arose the other day in modern dance class. It was the consensus that very few men wish to venture into the unknown realms of the dance, and attempt the more unusual dance patterns such as the tango, rumba, conga, and waltz. Woe to the man that does. His fellow men ridicule him. He's either a sissy to take such interest in the art, or a complete flop.

Take a Short Step.

From Dance to Love is a very short step. Violet shadows under the brown eyes of Josephine Hazel Martz, newly elected Tassel, are indicative of the latter. Perhaps she is concerned over the arrival of Sam Carroll, former Sigma Chi, now in the Signal Corps, who is on her calendar this week end.

The waiters in the Grill have always intrigued us! Today we were permitted to glimpse into the personal life of one of them, Ralph King. Ralph, the tall, the dark-haired, the former track star, is focal point in the Grill for more than one gal. Friend cashier tells me that among those in attendance are Jean Swarr, DG, and Jane Jordan, Alpha Chi.

We Go on Record.

Place us on record as issuing a general invitation to the students of the academy for a housewarming to be hosted by Peg Miles, Theta, this Saturday night. Peggy, an old high school chum, and much admired for her wit, is now living

'out of this world' and we suggest sturdy, walking shoes to those who plan to accept the invite.

Food or Women?

Al Casey, of the fortress, plans to visit home again this week end. No doubt the food is a greater magnet, than a chance 'skoit' from high school days. Don Papez, a brother, says that he is really going home to Albion just to see the folks.

Dance, Love, Traveling, nothing omitted except our hang out, the Union. A 'they look well together' couple Thursday was Maxine Thomas and Johnny Safford. A 'turn-about nicety' was Polly's ten cent apiece coke treat to Dale Wolf, and Ed Faytinger.

We're stocking up on lavender scented paper, and a poetry book to get ready for the mass evacuation within weeks. Guess it will make letter writers, or flirts of us all.

Red Cross Captains Get Membership Cards Today

All Red Cross captains are to pick up membership cards for all students in their group. Cards will be available Friday and Saturday in room 313, Union.

AWS Sponsors 'Courtin' Party' Saturday Nite

Highlighting the week-end will be the AWS Courtin' party, a novelty dancing party with a novelty orchestra playing during intermission.

The dance will start as soon as the basketball game with Iowa State is over and game fans stream back to the Union for their "ersatz" coke. A juke box will play for the major part of the evening.

Tickets may be secured from any organized women's house, on the campus or at the door. Freshmen women are vending the tickets, selling at 25 cents per couple.

During the dance, war stamps in excess of the $18.75 taken from each ticket purchased will be raffled off. The $18.75 will go to the war scholarship fund.

Ticket holders are urged to put their names upon the tickets which they hold. If no name is upon the ticket, the holder loses his chance at the raffle.

Students Making Surgical Dressings Bring Material

Women students making surgical dressings on Saturdays are asked to bring their own white dresses and other materials to the building. The Red Cross cannot furnish every girl with a dress and head gear.
