

UN to House Air Corps Training Unit - - Boucher

Expect 300 Cadets

Begin Registration For Coed War Work

Compulsory registration for coed war work will be held through Friday of this week in the Union lobby. Rules governing the registration state that each university woman must have three hours per week of war activity, unless excused by a board of faculty and student members.

Every coed must register the number of hours of class work, employment and extra-curricular activity in which she is engaged. If it is not possible for her to arrange weekly hours, she may be put on the reserve list which will be called upon by the Red Cross for part-time jobs.

To Check Names.

Those who do not register during this period will be contacted by the War Council, sponsor of the plan which has been approved by the dean of women's office and is headed by Catherine Wells.

Latest war activity is the women's ROTC, including one hour of class and an hour of military drill each week. Uniforms will be worn, and the class will be under the direction of Lt. Robert Adams of the military department.

List Activities.

Other activities include surgical dressing groups, first aid classes, Rag tags, war stamp sales and victory speaking.

Surgical dressings groups meet Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. and from 1 to 5 p. m. First aid classes will be offered Tuesdays from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m. Red Cross knitting materials may be checked out at the headquarters.

Parent Unable To Locate Son Thru Feathers

A bundle of feathers was received recently by Mrs. M. Eyen, 1341 A street, from her son, Captain J. M. Eyen, who is stationed "somewhere in the south Pacific."

The feathers obviously were from tropical birds and Mrs. Eyen saw a possibility that they might be a clue that would give a better idea of her son's location than she is able to get from his letters.

She took the feathers to the university museum, but staff members had to admit the evidence was insufficient to establish anything but a very general geographic identity.

Sig Chi's Win Honors In Brainstormers Quiz

... Sunday in Union

Final round of the Student Union's Brainstormers' Quiz ended with the Sigma Chi team, composed of Bob McNutt, Paul Toren and Fred McLafferty, in first place with a score of 44.

The Palladian team, Charles Coale, Marjorie Johnston and Robert Veach, and the Phi Kappa Psi team, John Baylor, Aldis Johnson and Carl Rohman, tied for second place honors with scores of 36. Gordon Margolin, Morris Coff and Don Labovitz made up the Sigma Alpha Mu team which placed third in the quiz in which 21 teams were originally entered.

Each member of the winning team received $5 in war stamps, and the members of the runner-up teams each received $2.50 in war stamps as their prize.

In the final rounds three questions were asked on current events, two questions on arts, one question on history, and one on

UN Medical Degrees Are Given to 73 ... Boucher Speaks

Doctor of medicine degrees were conferred upon 73 graduating seniors of the university college of medicine at commencement exercises Saturday afternoon at Joslyn Memorial in Omaha. The graduates will soon take intern positions at hospitals or join medical divisions in the armed forces.

The degrees were conferred by Chancellor C. S. Boucher, who also delivered the commencement address. The United Nations must fight to an unconditional surrender of the axis powers if there is to be any place on the earth safe for a way of life that is worth living, he said.

Freedom is Lifeblood.

"The very lifeblood of a democracy," he said, "are a free press, a free church and a free school. They must be free to function in a manner that reflects the needs, desires and ambitions of the constituents they serve; free from dictation of policies; free from restrictions on policies pursued; free to make their benefits and services available at all times to all people who wish them."

Candidates for degrees were presented by Dr. G. W. M. Foynter, dean of the college of medicine. Invocations was pronounced by Rev. Walter R. Traub, D. D., pastor of the Kountze Memorial church, Omaha.

Graduates who live at Omaha: James Burns Anderson, Sven Aage Raeh, William Samuel Bivens, Donald Eugene Brewster, Marion Porter Brunsma, Richard William Carroll, Meriel Naomi Frank, Charles Rogers Freed, Louis James Gogela, Joseph Leonard Goldner, Robert Wade Hall, Myron Clinton Johnson, Theodore Henry Konfoot, Jack Gould Lavender, Richard Leroy Lawton, Robert Allison Lehmer, Charles Schia-meeting will be held in parlors X, Y and Z of the Student Union tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 p. m.

Professor Hertzler's topic will include discussions on the sociological consideration for the post war planing. Minority groups, primitive peoples and backward populations and their after war status will be part of the subject of his address.

Phalanx Hear Tank Destroyer Officer Speak

Lieutenant Bill Snyder will speak before a meeting of Epsilon Morae of Phalanx Wednesday night. The meeting will be held in Palor "Z" of the Union at 7:15 p. m. Lieutenant Snyder, who was recently graduated from the Tank Destroyer-Officer Candidate school at Camp Hood, Tex., will discuss the organization and duties of the new Tank Destroyer Command. All members are urged to be present for this meeting.

Phalanx will hold its annual spring party Friday, March 19 in the Cornhusker Hotel ballroom. Guests will include all members of Scabbard and Blade and members of the local and national Pershing Rifle staffs, as well as the university military faculty.

"Cadets are requested to be in uniform for the party," stated Phalanx Commander Charles White.

Coeds Vote Thursday For Activity Posts

Annual elections to fill posts in women's activity groups will be held Thursday from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m in Ellen Smith hall and in the Home Ec building on ag campus. Identification cards will be required.

Board members and officers of AWS, Coed Counselors and BABW will be elected at this time. Junior and senior women will vote for May Queen and nominate Mortar Board members.

WAA election will be held in the physical education office in Grant Memorial hall from 10:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. WAA council, members of sports board and intra-mural representatives may vote in the election.

Candidates for the various offices will be announced in Thursday's Nebraskan.

Simultaneously with the inspection of several campus facilities by army air corps personnel came the announcement from Chancellor C. S. Boucher's office of the pending aviation training program to be inaugurated here soon.

Altho contracts still remain unsigned, the chancellor viewed the situation as a probability at the present time which should materialize by the end of this month. According to present information, a detachment of air corps cadets, numbering between 300 and 400, will report here to begin the first pre-aviation program to be taught at the university.

Live in Library.

Plans indicate the cadets will be housed in the new library and fed in the Union. The library for some time since completion has been undergoing changes in reconstruction from its original plans to accommodate living quarters for cadets.

Only the west end of the Union will be used to feed the (See AIR CORPS, Page 4.)

Both Pro and Con ... Girls Argue ROTC

BY JEAN GLOTFELTY.

One hundred and fifty coeds had registered by early yesterday afternoon for the women's war activity program. This means that there are still 1,650 girls to sign up in the four days of registration that remain. "Time for registration has been changed to 1:30 to 4:30," Catherine Wells, chairman of the drive announced. The place is the Student Union lobby.

The first day of the drive indicated fairly even distribution of girls in the different activities. There is equal interest in surgical dressings, Red Cross knitting, Lincolnette dancing, rationing assistance, USO Jr. hostesses, first-aid class, Rag Tags, War tsamp sales, emergency relief work, and women ROTC.

ROTC Beneficial.

The question of whether women's ROTC is beneficial, however, threatens to develop into a battle royal. Everywhere on the campus groups of girls have been heatedly discussing ROTC vs. other war activities. To get some personal opinions of UN coeds on three hours compulsory war work and on the ROTC program, a number of girls were interviewed as they registered. Results of the inquiring reporter follow.

Marje Heyn: "Three hours certainly isn't asking too much of any woman. The fellows are doing their part in a big way so why shouldn't we try to do something. It's a good thing!"

Bonnie Hinrichs: "It's nice to have women's war work organized, but I don't think it should be compulsory. There are a lot of girls who would do war work without compulsion. Some of the girls are a little mad about letting

YWCA Offers Public Classes In Leadership

Upperclass leadership training will be given in a class by the YWCA this afternoon at 4:30 p. m. in Ellen Smith. Open to both students and the public, the class is being held because of its worth to young women both during and after the present war.

A mock meeting conducted by Breta Peterson, former Mortar Board, and members of the present Bortar Board society will be presented to demonstrate the rights and wrongs of conducting organization meetings.

A talk on the qualities of leadership will be given by Mrs. F. D. Coleman, former national Mortar Board president.
