

Nebraskans Leave for Service

College Men Cease Worry; Calls Come

It took months of waiting and worrying and wondering, but most of that is over. University men know where they're headed now—or at least they know when they're headed there, to the army.

The ERC has been called up. The air corps has been called up. Selective service men have been drafted, some of them. Left are the naval and marine reserve, who seem fairly certain of completing this semester, and the advanced ROTC students, who are in the same boat.

Nineteen forty-three has been eventful at Nebraska and all over the country. In February 142 air corps reservists were called and this month about 350 Enlisted Reserve Corps men were notified of the date on which they must report.

Following in a list of all men called up this year as compiled by the Daily Nebraskan.
