Axis Disarmament Will Solve Peace Terms—Norris

Much of the anticipated squabbling over terms of the peace allied nations hope to put into effect can be eliminated by making it a primary requirement that there be complete and final disarmament of the axis nations, former Senator George W. Norris said in his convocation address at the Union last night.

Citing Russian interest in extending her boundaries on the west as one of the issues over which the allies might well disagree, Norris said Russia would not be concerned over this if she could be certain that sometime in the post-war era another armed Germany will not rise to threaten her.

"Many of the little things we would like to see in a treaty will fade away if complete disarmament is carried out," he said.

Successful disarmament of the so-called aggressor nations will be followed by a gradual decline

Sign Contracts For STARS Next Week

Signing of the contract for the inauguration of the STARS, specialized training assignment reclassification school, at the college will probably not take place till early next week, according to Chancellor C. S. Boucher.

Col. J. B. Murphy, commandant of all military personnel assigned to the university said that the STARS is a newly organized section of army student trainees, and is a forerunner to the army specialized training program.

The unit is expected to move into the newly completed foods building on the ag college campus, and will obtain their meals in the home ec building, or in the student activities building, which also is equipped with cooking facilities.

in interest in armaments until there will be world-wide distaste for armaments and threats of force, he added.

"If we are going to get anything of this war it must be perpetual peace," he emphasized. "This dear old world cannot stand a third world war."

Mr. Norris emphasized the importance of preparing to feed the conquered nations and helping them restore decent living conditions. The people of the United States will find that even though great sacrifices are involved there will be great joy in playing the role of Good Samaritan, he said.

The address was sponsored by the university convocations com-

Fighter Pilot Robert Moose Dies in Action ... UN's TopFlyer

Lt. Robert Moose, Nebraska's leading fighter pilot who needed only one more Jap plane to become an ace, has been killed in action in an airplane accident in the southwest Pacific, according to word received yesterday from the war department.

Last February, Lieutenant Moose received the air medal for "meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flights in the southwest Pacific area from Oct. 24 to Nov. 30, 1942.

A letter to the flyer's mother from Lt. Gen. George C. Kenny, who decorated him, said that Lieutenant Moose had taken part in more than 25 operational flight missions during which hostile contact was probable and expected. The flights included interception missions against enemy fighters and bombing planes and aided considerably in the recent successes in this theater.

Downs Four Jap Planes.

Last February, Lieutenant Moose won the air medal after he had shot down one Japanese plane off New Guinea. Then, in March, he won new honors in his P-40. With other fighter pilots he turned back a Jap raid on New Guinea, and shot down three enemy planes in four minutes. Whether he added to his score before he died is not known.

Lieutenant Moose is the first member of Nebraska chapter of Phi Kappa Psi to lose his life in the war. He was also a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and served

Judge Delehant Talks at Dinner

... On Judicial Procedure

Undergraduate members of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary, and Sigma Xi, national scientific honorary, will be announced at their annual dinner Tuesday, April 13, at the University Club.

Judge John W. Delehant will address the joint meeting on "A Discussion for the Layman of the Pre-Trial Conference in Judicial Procedure." Prof. Dwight Kirsch, president of the Nebraska chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, will preside.

Morris Names Group.

Undergraduate members elected in the second semester and one faculty member of Phi Beta Kappa and undergraduate associate members of Sigma Xi will be announced by Prof. F. W. Morris, secretary of Sigma Xi. Prof. C. M. Hicks, secretary of Phi Beta Kappa, will introduce the new members.

Since 1907 the two honoraries have held a joint meeting, open to the public, and since 1932 have announced selection of new members at this meeting. Members of both organizations, the not attached to the university, are invited. Reservations for guests must be turned in to one of the officers by April 12.

Hold Judging Meet on Ag Tomorrow

Ag college students will compete in their annual livestock judging contest tomorrow, it was announced by Harold Stevens and Don Roth, co-chairman for the event.

Sponsored by Block and Bridle, animal husbandry organization, the contest will start at 7:50 a. m. in the horse barn. Any student interested may compete.

Two Competing Classes.

Fifteen classes, including four each of beef cattle, hogs, and sheep and three of horses, will be judged. As in the past there will be a junior division, and a senior division for those with advanced livestock judging training. Due to the shortage of student help, reasons in placings will be given this year.

Kosmet Klub Folds for Duration

Kosmet Klub, men's dramatic honorary founded in 1911, met death for the duration today as Max Laughlin, president of the group, announced cessation of activities until to the end of the war.

With the cancellation of the annual spring show and the Interfraternity sing, Kosmet Klub will become extinct until "a post-war period when it will rise to unprecedented heights of activity."

Lack of males, according to Laughlin, has forced the Klub to discontinue the Ivy Day sing contest.

"A spring show," he said, "would be impossible because of the rule against women participants."

The Klub was originated by six junior men with the purpose of producing an annual musical comedy. The first show, "The Diplomat," was written by Prof. R. D.

Scott and presented May 3, 1912. With the exception of a period during the first World war, shows have been given every year.

A fall revue, at which Kosmet Klub presents the Nebraska Sweetheart and Prince Kosmet, has been another production given by the group. Normally, the spring show has been a musical comedy written by students. Membership is limited to 15 junior and senior men.

Select Works for UN Gallery

Lincoln Sunday Journal and Star

SPANISH SOPRANO BY KUNIYOSHI.

Eleven art works have been recommended for purchase for the Hall collection housed in Morrill hall as a result of the Nebraska Art association's annual exhibition which closed Sunday.

Included in the number are three major works, two oils and a bronze, whose authors have gained national fame from metropolitan exhibits. Two small oils, two watercolors, three drawings and a lithograph complete the list.

Valued at $100,000

Pictured here are Spanish Soprano, an oil, and Speaker of the House, a lithograph. The oil is an example of Yasuo Kuniyoshi's color and blend of oriental line. The lithograph was done by William Cooper, a noted caricaturist.

The Hall collection is valued at approximately $100,000 and includes 87 items of American art. A bequest was made from the Hall estate 15 years ago and interest on the estate has been used in the purchase of the works.
