

'Swing Your Partner, Don't Be Slow' Hold Vespers In Stadium Next Sunday

All Promenade to Dance Festival Saturday Nite at 8 . . . In Coliseum

"Six to the center and back you go. Two kents loop with a Do-so-do. Right hands up and left hands under. Form your threes and don't be slow."

Listen to the chant of the caller of the third annual Folk Festival to be held May 1 at the university coliseum at 8 p. m.

Three hours of square dancing in long cotton dresses and bright colored shirts will feature the Badger Gavotte, Schottische, Heel and Toe Polka and the Rye Waltz. Tickets at Union.

Spectators may watch from the balcony the dancers and demonstrations which will be given by the 13 square dance clubs. Tickets are available at the Student Union and with Ralph Copenhaver on the Ag campus. A committee of university students consisting of Bob Marcotte, Bryce Alberty, Nancy Green, Louise Putney, George Werner and Dave Sanders will also sell tickets priced at 30. Service men are invited to attend.

Bob Black will be the master of ceremonies. Harvey Tookey and Betty June Jensen will demonstrate the Skaters' Waltz.

Meet in Philadelphia.

This will be Lincoln's third festival which is sponsored by the Lincoln Council of Folk and Square Dance clubs. The national festival this year will be held in Philadelphia. Two former University of Nebraska students, Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Meyer, will dance in the national festival with a group from Wilmington, New Jersey. Mrs. Meyer is the former Betty Green of Lincoln.

Mrs. Fred Putney is the chairman of the festival. This square dance offers students a chance to "swing their partners" and celebrate another Nebraska Ivy Day.

Seeley New Drill Officer Of WROTC

. . . Attendance Drops

Drilling under the direction of Third Officer Betty Seeley of the WAAC, the women's ROTC unit met for the fifth time yesterday afternoon.

Since Dr. E. E. Lackey is unable to conduct his map reading classes any longer from 3 to 4 it was decided to have a two hour drill period next Thursday from 3 to 5. Those who are not able to attend both hours of drill should come to the last hour as usual, however.

Lt. Gwendolyn Harvey, who has been drilling the unit along with Lt. Robert Adams, has received a promotion and will no longer be able to come to Lincoln to drill. In her place will be Lieutenant Seeley who is stationed in Lincoln. Along with Lieutenant Seeley were third officer Candace Arsers, staff sergeant Leonard and auxiliary Thibodeaux who will also aid in the drilling of the unit.

Plan Drill Unit Next Year.

There were only 43 present at yesterday's drill which is about one third of those who originally signed up for. Lieutenant Adams expressed the hope that those who have missed a time or two would not think that they could not be in the unit. New girls are still invited to join as the formal organization of the unit has not taken place as yet and will not until next semester.

Plans are being made at present for the WROTC next semester with student commissioned and non-commissioned officers. Any suggestions should be made to Catherine Wells.

Square dancing will last for three hours at the annual festival to be held in the university coliseum.

This week a planning board made up of representatives elected from each of the physical education classes met to discuss the physical education program for next year. Criticisms of the present program were offered and suggestions for next year's program were made. The opinions of the representatives were so varied that it was impossible to draw up any definite plans for next year at this meeting. Another meeting was scheduled for next Tuesday at five o'clock when the board will make more definite plans.

Along the intramural line we find the badminton and baseball tournaments in the second and third rounds of play. Here are the badminton results for this week: Alpha Chi 1 over Raymond 2, Independent 1 over Howard Hall, Alpha Chi 1 over 331 North 13th, Tri Delt 2 over Chi O 2, Independent 1 over Tri Delt, Raymond 1 over AOP 1, and Raymond 1 over Delta Gamma 2.

The tennis courts are not yet fixed and unless the girls who are entered in the tournament are enough interested in playing it off to come over and help fix up the courts, there will probably be no tennis tournament this spring.

Practices for the obstacle races are scheduled for next week. If any of you intramural reps have forgotten to turn in your teams, today is the last day they will be accepted. The oft-n-postponed swimming meet has finally been scheduled for Saturday May 8 from 1:30 to 3:30. Because it is so late in the semester, there will be only one Saturday for the meet instead of two as in former years. The net round of singles and doubles in the table tennis tournament must be played off by the first of next week. If you don't know who your opponent is, go to the WAA office where the pairings are posted.

The annual Orchesis recital is being presented tonight at eight o'clock in Grant Memorial. The dress rehearsal was excellent and the girls have really put forth a lot of effort to make this one of the best recitals yet. The army stays in on Friday nights, but you girls can assure yourselves of a good time by going to the Orchesis Recital.

Need Not Fear Poison War Gas Says Texas Prof

Poison war gases are not the horrible weapons men imagine, Dean C. D. Leake of the University of Texas school of medicine told the American Chemical society recently.

Moreover, he said, the ordinary citizen may easily take care of himself with equipment readily available in every household.

A wet cloth or handkerchief over the nose and mouth makes a fair mask for gas concentrations civilians might encounter.

Kitchen bleach, if soaked into the handkerchief, will destroy most war gases. If eyes, nose or throat are irritated, they should be washed with a solution of a teaspoon of baking powder in a glass of water.

If liquid war gas is spattered on clothing, take it off in a hurry and throw it out of a window.

Hold Vespers In Stadium Next Sunday

An all university vesper service, the first of its kind for several years, will be held Sunday evening, May 2, in Memorial stadium.

Under the sponsorship of various student religious groups and the YWCA and the YMCA, the vespers will include singing, a talk by Dr. Gerald Kennedy, devotions and music by a string quartet. Dr. Kennedy has chosen to speak on "Faith Is Inevitable."

Sit on the Ground.

Everyone attending should come prepared to sit upon the grass at the north end of the stadium. The public will use the northeast entrance, however, if the weather should be such that it is impossible to sit outside the services will be moved to the Temple building.

All university students and air-crowd men are invited to attend this unique vesper service.

Devotionals will be led by Anne Wellensiek and Julia Crom will lead the singing.

Soldier Receives Instruction From Self Writer Text

After the army air corps announced it would train meteorological students at the University of New Mexico, the faculty of the English department prepared for the customary tussle with comma splices, dangling participles, and split infinitives.

Dr. T. M. Pearce, head of the department, outlined the "Written and Oral Communication" courses for the soldiers, and waved before his colleagues a military pamphlet on military correspondence form, mentioning it as one of the textbooks to be used.

A few minutes later Sgt. Clarence H. Grasso approached Dr. Pearce apologetically. "Would it be proper for me to introduce myself?" he asked. "I helped to write the army book you mentioned that we are going to use in class."
