Plenty in the Offing

Red Hot and Smooth Is the Innocent's Ball

Mercenary-minded, in this age of regimentation and practicability, the Innocents promise "there is plenty in the offing" at their "Farewell to Arms" ball for the escorts and their dates Friday evening, April 7, at the coliseum.

And that includes "just about everything" from queens to dates, from dreams to Basic Givens band, and from 12:30 nights for coeds to 1 o'clocks for the men.

"Queenies."

Looking at things from the "queen" angle, the Innocents at an undisclosed hour will "tap" six undisclosed 1943 Cornhusker beauty queens, and escort them between two brother members onto the spotlighted stage. Joe Zimmerman, golden-voiced director of the University Players will announce the winners.

The date angle rests with the dean of women and the War council committee on entertainment, and "piperoos" they will be, according to Lois Christie, chairman of the committee. STARS from ag campus have signed their names and heights with Dale Wolf, Innocent in charge of ticket sales on that campus, and the list will be in the hands of Mrs. Verna Boyles by this noon when the fun will begin.

Let's Get Together.

Members of the air crew stationed on the city campus have turned their names to Lieutenant Marshall. All arranged dates will meet at 8:30 in the Union lobby before the dance, and will go on from there.

Speaking of dreams, the Daily refers to the series of mistifying pictures that have run in the paper's columns. Come 9 to 12 p. m. this Friday, prexy Bill Thornburg is going to have a lot of explaining to do. What is it?

Last is Basic Givens orchestra, which is tops on the list of activities for the night. He's a hot, smooth band, one of the few left after the wartime tailoring of all rhythm-minded maestros.

Getting back to the mercenary-minded Innocents, they wish to announce that tickets are $1.10 (tax included) per couple. They also want everyone to come.

Who Is She? . . .

Can it be you, or can it? Well, can it be a de-lovely Cornhusker piece of cheesecake, or can it be the other end of the lip-stick which Norrie Anderson wears upon provocation, or can it be what the boys dream about now that they live in Love? Bob McNutt, innocent innocent, reveals that you'll see this and more if you attend the "Farewell to Arms" ball Friday night. Just what he means, we aren't sure. See you!

WROTC's Meet Today for Drill

The Women's ROTC unit will meet for two hours of drill today instead of one hour of class followed by an hour of drill. Drill will begin at 3 and last until 5. All members are asked to be present. It will be the next to last meeting of the group.

Lovick Wins Annual AIEE Branch Award

Robert C. Lovick, retiring chairman of the Nebraska branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineering was awarded the prize for writing the best technical paper of the year at the annual AIEE banquet held at the YWCA last night celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the organization on the campus.

Charles Stutt was elected new chairman. Other officers are Hervey V. Jensen, secretary; Edgar O. Dixon, treasurer; and Prof. O. E. Edison was named counselor.

I. M. Ellestad, transmission engineer of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company at Omaha, was the speaker of the evening. His topic was, "Effect on Telephone Circuits of Induction Motor Harmonics."

Guests Present.

Among the 40 persons present were several honored guests, including A. W. Savelle, first secretary of the branch; Maurice A. Hyde, first treasurer; Prof. E. E. Brackett and R. H. McReynolds, two of the early members.

Lovick served as toastmaster and Don Davis gave a history of the society. "A Gay Nineties" review was held during dinner.

The AIEE is the oldest campus organization, having been organized in 1893.

Final Curtain Act for Flicker Shows Sunday

Last chance until next semester for the students to view the rollicking old time comedies and melodramas will be this Sunday evening at 8:00 in the Union ballroom. Until next fall old-timers will have to forego peanuts and popcorn (five cents) along with hisses for the villain and cheers for the hero mingled with the tunes of Russ Gibson's piano.

Headlining Sunday evenings picture slate are Mary Pickford and Mack Sennett in "Love Is Mocked" or "In the Train of Justice," a surprise package entitled "Gay Nineties," pantomime artist Charlie Chaplin in "Caught in a Cabaret," and loopy-eyed Ben Turpin in "He Looked Crooked."

Perusal Russ Gibson will simulate the moods in the picture via the piano keys, and the butcher boys will hawk their wares to all comers. Air crew trainees are welcome to attend.

Girl's Dorms Remain Open for Student Use

Residence halls for women at the university will be operated for students during the forthcoming summer session and during the academic year beginning in September, according to present plans.

Chancellor C. S. Boucher, in response to inquiries, said today the university has not received any request for use of the dormitories by the army, the the university advised army officials some months ago that the facilities could be available in the fall if needed.

Have No Requests.

"We have at present no request for the use of these dormitories by the army and have no indication that such a request will be forthcoming," Chancellor Boucher said.

"If the army should find that

Upperclassmen Register for Next Semester in Fall

With the absence of the usual spring registration, university upperclassmen who returned to school in the fall will enroll in first semester courses at the coliseum, according to G. W. Rosenlof, director of admissions.

Fall registration will be held Sept. 20, 21, and 22 for upperclassmen. The procedure will continue as usual. Students will go directly to their advisers at the coliseum, receive their schedules, go thru the assignment committee and pay their fees at this time.

Determine Courses.

New students will validate their credits by examination Sept. 16, 17 and 18. They will be assigned to the junior division and all registration will be handled thru that office.

According to Dr. Rosenlof, the fall registration enables university officials to take more time in determining which courses shall be offered next year. The university contemplates a full schedule for the civilian students.

Change Schedules.

University officials, Rosenlof added, have eliminated the spring registration because of unnecessary expense in setting up administrative machinery, only to have students change schedules and repeat the whole process in the fall. All drop and adds and changes in schedule will be taken up after registration is completed.

Classes for the first semester of 1943-44 will begin Thursday, Sept. 23.

Official Navy Photographs . . . Library Displays Naval Aviation Picture Series in Main Floor Case

. . . Change Exhibit Every Three Days

A photographic panorama of Naval Aviation, strikingly presented in a series of thirty pictures, is on display in the main-floor showcase of the university library. The pictures will be on display for a period of ten days, starting May 5.

Twelve pictures are on display now and the exhibit will be changed every three days so all thirty pictures will be shown.

Made up of official U. S. Navy photographs, the exhibit tells a dramatic story of the pilots, flight crews and planes of the Naval Air Service.

Show Lexington Survivors.

One picture showing the survivors of the first Lexington tells a story of grim determination. The men from the lost carrier were photographed at the technicians school, Navy Pier, Chicago. These men have been under fire, they have lost their ship, and they know what it means to float around in the water awaiting rescue.

Included are African convoy pictures depicting the greatest mass movement of ships, men, and fighting material in history. Eager young pilots aboard a carrier are shown just before going into action.

Cover Creation Program.

The exhibit includes pictures covering many phases of the Naval Aviation Cadet Training program. Before a cadet is designated a Naval Aviator, the government will have spent $27,000 in training him, will have given him 350 hours under his safety belt, and will have been training him for a year and a half. These pictures show a cross section of this training.
