Orchids to UN Civilians--Army

Here at the university we've occasionally heard cries of "dirty politics," or "there's a lack of interest in student government," or similar pet problems of universities all over the country; but there's one department where we feel that Nebraska is doing an outstanding job—and that's in the relations between undergrads and the army units stationed here on campus.

The friendly way in which the students greeted the ASTP and Air Corps men has been very much appreciated by the soldiers. Many schools have come to an impasse over the question of how to bring the military and civilian students closer together, but here the problem was dissolved before it ever arose, thanks to the democratic attitude of the undergrads and faculty.

Participation of the army men in any activities which they have time for has been welcomed, and many school functions have been designed especially for the soldier's entertainment. Th sorority hour dances have received much favorable comment—on both sides. The inclusion of the Military in Union membership certainly was a good idea; once more both sides benefited from the arrangement. The addition of an army page in the Daily and of a military section in the Cornhusker have brought the uniforms and the university closer together, and have made for more interest by the trainees in their adopted alma mater. The number of soldiers who turn out for the coliseum dances, the Union activities, and the 600 army subscriptions for the Cornhusker bear witness to the enthusiasm of the soldiers.

On some campuses the soldiers and the coeds aren't even on very good speaking terms, but there doesn't seem to be much danger of anything like that happening here at Nebraska. The girls have found that all of the fellows here aren't wolves, and rumor has it that the coeds rate pretty high in the soldiers' estimation.

The coeds like the singing of the ASTP and Air Corps men, but feel that a little censoring on some of the renditions might not be a bad idea. The rivalry between the Air Corps and the ASTP was in the rather infantile stage of completely ignoring each other, but steps in the right direction are now being taken to promote a little more friendly rivalry between the two. There are quite a few good basketball players and the rivalry should produce some good games. Civilian spectators, partisan or non-partisan, are welcome to the games every Tuesday evening at 6:30, and on coliseum dance nights directly before the dance—there is no admission charge.

All in all the co-operation between the army and the university has been excellent, with both the GIs and the civilian students quite well satisfied with the way that things are running. We feel that both the university and the soldiers are doing very well with what could have been a rather ticklish situation. So let's continue to pull together—after all, we're in this to the finish—whether we're civilians or soldiers.

Society

By Shirley Kieth.

Howdy, Chillun!

Yes, it was a merry weekend! However, dates and exciting times numbered far too many to be huddled into said society column.

Hither and Yon.

Anyway, among the many we saw, were such couples as Theta Joan Bohrer and ATO Mark Hargraves (now stationed on campus), Shirley Hammond, Gamma Phi, and Noel Willis, Sig Ep. And then there was Alpha Phi Nancy Sutton and Beta Dick Klopp, which couple, incidentally, has been seen but frequently! these past few weeks. Kappas Mary Ralston, Ruth Chatterton, and Judy O'Connor were with ASTP's Ralph Whittaker, Bill Arnold, and Leo Aho. Helen Johnson, DG, and Bud Nelson, Kappa Sig, were headin' for the Kappa Sig barn dance last Saturday. Something strong on the romance side is Janet Gibson, Gamma Phi, and Bill Burns, advanced engineer, who have been dating regularly.

Beta Bob Schulte and Alpha Chi Shirley Staats and Alph Phi Sadie Hawkins and Beta Paul Bonnell were double dating. We saw footballer Jim Chadderton with Sigma Kappa Betty Storejohn, and have seen them together a lot, too. Turnpiking it were several Theta's among whom were Pat Pierce and Bud Johnson, Phi Gam; Marge Hein and Gene Reece, Phi Gam; Max Thomas and Ki Eisenhart, Phi Gam; Jean Dresden and Larry Johnson, ASTP; Barbara Schlater and Bill Gist; Betty Gray Norval and Fred Cassidy; Ed Mathews, ASTP, not only took one, dear readers, but two li'l damsels to dinner, namely Alpha Phi's Joan Martz and Dorothy Huffman. Incidentally, Dorothy gets a weekly telephone call from her Kappa Sig pinmate, Aubrey Pettit, who is now in Fort Benning, Ga.

Steady? ?

On Friday night, we saw DG Mary Joe Meyers and ATO Frank Brunning, Pi Phi Kathy Legge and Sig Chi Johnny Bell seem to be off to a good start, as they have been dating pretty much steadily for the past weeks. We saw Alpha Phi Amy Brown both Friday and Saturday with Sig Ep Bob Henderson, and also Alpha Phi Janice Campbell with ATO Steve Cole. Alpha Chi Barbara Stahl seems to be always seen with Sig Ep Gene Dixon. . . . And just as constantly, Pat Beetem, AOPI, sees Bob Hoover, Engineer. . . . As of a week ago, Chi O Anna Atkinson is going steady with AGR Boyd Heck. . . . Remember the steady couple of Jean Guenzel, Kappa, and Beta Johnny Safford? Well, we're beginning to see them again together. Looks like we're going to be seeing another couple around a lot, too, namely Theta Pat Parrish and Roland Finley, ATO, pinmates. You see, Roland is to be stationed here at NU. . . . Something we could have wondered about last Friday was when we saw Wilbur Wiedman not with Alpha Chi Sally White, but with Theta Donna Brough. However, we now see him again with Sally. . . . So? ? ?

Something Added.

First of all we hear tell that Sigma Kappa Elva Richmond re-

We Present . . .

Mary Ellen Sim

Hidden behind harlequin glasses and a "curio" covered desk we found B.A.B.W. president, Mary Ellen Sim hard at work at her "pet job" as reporter in the editorial and publicity department. She's the gal behind the desk, "what does the woik." Mary Ellen immediately described herself as a "negative personality" then began (at our request) to reel off a list of activities long enough to fill the whole column. Now how can a gal who is president of the Student Council, vice president of Theta Sigma Phi, is a member of the A.W.S. executive board, Vestals of the Lamp, was elected to Who's Who and numerous other organizations, be a negative personality? It ain't possible!!

You couldn't guess what her favorite hobby is—why of course it's Bob Dewey (who is incidentally peering from behind a big fat magnifying glass on her desk calendar. Could be that she is counting the days 'til Thanksgiving when her "hobby" will flit back to the old Nebraska campus. She slyly mentioned "Wedding Bells" will be mighty nice—especially if it's a "White Christmas."

To travel around the world and later to do newspaper writing, free lance is brown-eyed, vivacious Mary Ellen's ambition. Even if she does hop around with one shoe off, have a gray streak in her hair, and bite her fingernails it's highly probable that Mary Ellen Sim will achieve her ambitions. Now here's an example of beauty and brains wrapped up in one package.

ceived a Sigma Nu ring from a certain lieutenant commander in Chicago. . . . But then for something really exciting, too, Beta Frank Mattoon, recently stationed here, presented his pinmate, Gamma Phi Treva Muchmore, with one of those beautiful diamonds. . . . And another golden band has been placed on the third finger, left hand, of Sigma Kappa Gertrude Harms. The lucky fellow is Joe Tresh.

Something new in candy passings: Lucena Churchill cleverly revealed her engagement to John Goe, Sig Ep, to Towne Club members Monday night. Messages were tucked into tiny capsules and placed inside tea cakes at dinner. At the same time, the Sig Eps received cigars, of course, from John. The wedding is to be in the near future.

Alpha Phi Mary Newhouse has a standing date every Friday with Sig Chi Bert Nelson, who consistently sends her beautiful gardenias for every date. . . . AOPI Darleen Furois receives telegrams at least twice each week from Lt. Don Gruber.

We hear tell of Myrt Johnson, Alpha Phi, going to Chicago to see a certain Peter. . . . And incidentally, what's this that comes to our ears about Phi Gam Max Mertz and an Alpha Chi pin? You know better than I, Max. . . . Chuck Pearce, Sigma Nu, is here from O.C.S. in Fort Riley to see Alpha Chi Evelyn Lamer.

ATO Perry Fuller is back from the Navy in Pensacola. . . . And for a surprise, dear readers, Paul Toren, Sig Chi, has returned to be stationed in NU, but there has been a seeming severing of relations between Alpha Phi Joan Witt and Paul. In other words, Joan has given back his Sig Chi pin!
