

"On Stage"

Noel Coward Comedy Unfolds Tonight at 8

"On stage, everyone!" The familiar call heralding the opening of a play is resounding throughout the Temple theater as "Hay Fever" prepares for its opening tonight at 8 p. m.

When the nine experienced actors and actresses step out on the stage this evening, first-nighters can prepare themselves for an hilarious two hours of fun and entertainment, as Noel Coward's brilliant comedy unfolds before their eyes.

Guest Troubles.

In a charming living room set, with striped walls and hand painted pictures, the story of a well-to-do English family on a typical week end vacation, unravels and poreal entanglement of guest af-ravels up again with an omniscient. The comedy is made more humorous by the oblivion of the family to their guests' confusion.

Main cause for perplexity among the guests is the unique eccentricities of each member of the Bliss family. The mother, Judith Bliss, is a retired actress who has reached the "Billie Burke-Helen Hayes" point in her life, which is a combination that would put the most depressed onlooker in high spirits. Janice Marx becomes a versatile actress by taking the role of Judith, after her last play in which she appeared a serious minded German girl.

Beau-Brummel.

Another deviation from former (See ON STAGE, page 2.)

Ag Presents Traditional Event Tonight

Traditional ag Christmas program will be given tonight at the college activities building.

Thirty-three candles, one for each year of Christ's life, will be lighted by two senior girls, Dorothy Anderson and Marjorie Clancy from the ag executive board. The row of candles will be placed along the front of the stage against a background of greens and flanked by two large Christmas trees on either side of the stage.

The complete program is:

Organ prelude, Myron Roberts.
Candlelight.
Trumpet solo, Julianne Gustafson, "Holy City."
Ag college chorus, "Lead Your Sheep," "Jesu Bambino," "Land of Hope and Glory."
Alto solo, Julia Crom, "He Shall Feed His Sheep."
Soprano solo, Shirley Marsh, "Come Unto Him."
Star Spangled Banner.
Benediction.

The presentation is sponsored by the ag executive board and staged by the ag college chorus under the direction of Mrs. Altinas Tullis. Gwen Row and Max Baird are co-chairmen for the evening with Kay Huston, Julia Crom, and Blanche Reid in charge of the decoration, program and publicity committees.

UN Varsity Team Debates At Omaha U

UN debaters will attend the University of Omaha invitation conference debate tournament Dec. 17 and 18, with three freshman teams and one freshman-junior combination.

Representing the university, the men's teams are: Bob Gillen and Bill Miller and Robert Coonley and Eugene Tedd. Women's teams are: Betty Lou Hoickon and Anne Wellensiek and Maurine Evnen and Joan Gellatly.

Use Frosh Members.

All the participants in the Omaha tournament are freshmen except Anne Wellensiek, who is a junior. An entirely different squad has been chosen from the teams that entered the Iowa competition last month and this will be the first intercollegiate debate for these students this year.

Commenting upon the tournament (See DEBATE, page 3.)

Request Seniors Apply For Degree by Saturday At Office of Admissions

Candidates for degrees or certificates who will graduate in either January or May of this school year should make application for their degree not later than this Saturday noon, according to G. W. Rosenlof, director of admissions. Applications may be made in the office of admissions, room 7, of the administration building.

Dr. Whitney Gives Talk To Sigma Xi

Speaking before an audience of students and faculty members, Dr. D. D. Whitney, of the department of zoology, gave an illustrated lecture last night on the role of environment and heredity —From The Lincoln Journal.

DR. D. D. WHITNEY
... gives illustrated lecture at Sigma Xi meeting.

on the physical traits in man. His talk was a part of the regular meeting of Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific society.

Dr. Whitney showed that the profound influence of environment may be equalled by the influence of environment and heredity. (See WHITNEY, page 2.)

UN Extension Division Displays Activities Tomorrow from 2 to 5

Opening its doors to students, faculty and the general public, the extension division will display the work of the past years from 2 to 5 p. m. tomorrow, Dr. K. O. Broady, director of the division announced.

The quarters of the extension division are on the upper two floors of the former museum building, in the west basement room in Andrews hall, and also rooms 101 and 207 in the social sciences annex. Copies of a guide to the division will be available at each of these places.

Continue Regular Work.

For the most part the regular work of the offices will be carried on during the open house but special exhibits will be arranged. Mrs. Nellie May Schlee Vance will display a junior art exhibit and one of her rural traveling art galleries which has brought her nation wide recognition. Motion pictures for class and community groups will be shown continuously from 2 to 5 p. m. in room 102 of for-

The Daily Nebraskan

Vol. 85, No. 71

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, Wednesday, December 15, 1943

WAVES Explain Training Program at AWS Mixer

AT LAST! - New Student Directory Out

At long, long last it can be told. It is ready, it has been checked and rechecked, it has been bound and tied, the printers ink is dry and now it goes on sale.

For months now the announcement has been forthcoming but it was always coming and now its here after four long months of waiting. It's dressed in a smart cream colored jacket and trimmed with the black letters STUDENT DIRECTORY.

Due to labor and material shortages the directory staff has had a difficult time getting the (See DIRECTORY, page 3.)

Navy life for both men and women will be explained in motion pictures and speeches at a navy mixer, sponsored by AWS, in the Union ballroom this afternoon from 4:30 to 6 p. m.

The WAVE training program will be pictured in the first film, "Women in Blue," and the second movie, "Eyes of the Navy," will show the entire training program followed by naval air cadets. The part the WAVES play in the entire navy program will also be pointed out in the second picture.

Officer, Yeoman Speak.

Ensign Lois Swabel will give a short talk on the "Officers Training Program" and "Enlisted Corps" will be the subject of Yeoman Second Class Virginia Ash's address.

According to a release from the navy department branch public relations office, the WAVES quota for December has been filled in this area, as announced by Lt. Comdr. W. J. Amoss, officer in charge of WAVES Procurement for Iowa and Nebraska. "Young women who enlist in the navy any time this month may be assured of spending the holidays with their families," Lt. Comdr. Amoss stated, "for in no case will they be called to active duty until after Jan. 4, 1944."

The program is another in the series of vocational talks sponsored by AWS under the chairmanship of Mary Lou Holtz.

Ag Home Ec Club, Faculty Sponsor Tea

Annual home economics Christmas tea, sponsored yearly by the home ec club and faculty, will be given from 3:30 to 5:30 Thursday afternoon in the social rooms in the ag home ec building. All home economics students are invited to attend.

Dr. Ruth Staples and Lona Haskins will pour the first hour and Miss Margaret Liston and Frances James will pour the second hour. Miss Margaret Fedde, head of the home economics department, and Monica Ann Albert, acting president of the home ec club will receive the guests.

Christmas Decorations.

Centering the tea table will be a Christmas tree designed by Miss Evelyn Metzgar of the ag art department. The social rooms have been decorated by the YWCA with a large Christmas tree and greens. Gwen Row will be in charge of the Christmas carols and special music.

Mrs. Angeline Anderson and Betty Brown are general chairmen for the tea.

Schooner, English Dept. Open Contest

Prairie Schooner literary contest, which is being sponsored in collaboration with the English department begins today. Manuscripts may be submitted to the office of Dr. L. C. Wimberly until Jan. 30.

The best short story writer will be awarded a prize of $10 and the author of the best poem will receive a $5 award. The winning entries will be published in an issue of the Prairie Schooner. Runners-up will receive a year's subscription to the Schooner.

Professors Judge.

Judging the contest will be professors of English, Miss Louise Pound, Kenneth Forward and Orin Stepanek.

Drive Ends Monday.

Prairie Schooner subscription drive ends Monday, Dec. 20.

About 200 subscriptions have been sold, according to Jo Martz, to whom all subscriptions must be turned by Monday.

Tassels and Theta Sigma Phi, journalism honorary, have charge of the drive.

Tuesday Soldier Art Classes Need Model

A model is needed for the soldier art classes held on Tuesday nights in Morrill hall under the direction of Miss Kady B. Faulkner.

Any coed who is interested in art or would like to help out, should go to Morrill hall any time from 7 to 10 on any Tuesday night. An exhibition of soldiers' drawings is being planned for the near future.

Counselors Fete Frosh Coeds at Tea

Offering an opportunity for freshmen women to become acquainted with upperclassmen, and presidents of campus women's organizations, coed counselor board will hold a tea tomorrow in Ellen Smith from 3 to 5 p. m. All freshmen women, coed counselors, presidents of organized houses, presidents of organizations, and house mothers are invited to attend the tea.

Mrs. C. S. Boucher and Mrs. Verna Boyles will pour from 3 to 4 p. m. coed counselors who will serve during this hour are Phyllis Johnson, Wauneta Ziegler, Betty Albert, Vicky Chilquist, Joyce Crosby, Margaret Dolezal, (See COUNSELORS, page 3.)

Discuss Allied Peace Aims At 7:30 Tonite

Students and faculty will take part in a panel discussion on the differences in the peace aims of the allied powers at 7:30 tonight in the faculty lounge of the Union.

A student will present the aims of each of the powers—Great Britain, China, Russia and the United States, after which the discussion will be opened to other panel members and the audience.

The discussion groups are held monthly under the sponsorship of the international relations club.

—From Lincoln Journal.
DR. K. O. BROADY.
... directs extension division.

mer museum. Each department will display illustrative materials, or charts, maps, or graphs.

Information Given on Courses.

Information will be given concerning evening and off-campus classes and study centers, classes in nursing education, non-credit courses in English and mathematics, correspondence courses on the college level, supervised correspondence instruction in elementary and high school subjects, audio-visual aids for faculty, school and community groups, citizenship education, and university speakers and discussion leaders.

Information will also be available on off-campus clinics, publications, plays available on loan, radio activities, extension activities in the fine arts, and institutes held in co-operation with such organizations as the American Red Cross, the Nebraska Federation of Labor and the Nebraska public assistance department.