Cornhusker Solicitors Turn in Books Today

Today is the deadline for all Cornhusker solicitors to turn in their subscription receipt books. All books must be in the Cornhusker office before 5 p. m.

be held Monday, January 31, in the Tassel room of the Union. There will also be a regular business meeting held at that time.

Scott Clowns With Music Sunday at 4

Making his second appearance at the university, Henry Scott, musical satirist and pianist, will be heard in a recital of concert and entertainment selections Sunday at 4 p. m. in the Union ballroom.

Last year Scott's performance proved to be one of the best-attended programs of the season. Specializing in mimicing various pianists, he arranges many of his numbers himself.

"Henry Scott brought down the house and broke the curtain call record with one of the greatest if not the greatest programs ever to invade the famous New York Town Hall," wrote Edward H. Dunkum, music critic for Metronome magazine.

Gives Town Hall Program.

Scott, who graduated from Syracuse university's school of music, is at the present time booked for concerts throughout the country.

Among his specialty numbers are such original arrangements as an imitation of "A Great Concert Pianist," "How to Compose a Popular Song," "Sewing on a Button" while playing the piano, and "Mittens on the Keys," in which Scott plays the piano with mittens on his hands.

Covey Speaks On New Medical Advancements

Dr. George W. Covey, in a talk before members of Sigma Xi and their guests, last night discussed the advancements made in nearly every field of medicine in the last 25 years. Dr. Covey is an assistant professor of medicine and has a private practice in Lincoln.

During the course of his talk, he touched upon recent developments in diagnostic methods, bacteriology and X-ray therapy, and findings in the field of vitamins and chemicals. Especially stressed were the changes brought about in medicine by the necessity of treating war casualties.

Anne Wellensiek Receives YWCA Vote for President

As was predicted in the last edition of the Nebraskan, Anne Wellensiek received the unanimous vote of UN coeds to fill the office of president of YWCA.

Anne Wellensiek.

Peggy Larson, ag president; and Laura Burbank, ag secretary.

The new president is a member of the freshman cabinet, freshman commission leader, vespers leader, member of the YW cabinet, delegate at the Estes conference, and the city's YW nominee as delegate to the Wooster conference.

Crib Tells 'Peculiar Requests'

BY GHITA HILL.

Ed, Bob, Rolly, Bernie, Leo, Rush, Nakata, Laverna, and Mary Jane—they are the people who serve in the Corn Crib at the union every day.

They know the menus upside down, but occasionally they meet up with "peculiar requests" or perhaps it is "peculiar customers?"

The fountain help had to hold council meeting one day when a waiter with a puzzled expression on his face, inquired, "What's a demitasse? I've got an order for one."

An unusual demand, to say the least, was the order for "toast buttered around the edges." And then there was the lady who insisted on half a glass of water and if the amount given was over the designated measure, the waiter was asked to take back and pour out the gratis amount.

It's Different!

To ask for a peanut butter sandwich or a tomato sandwich is much too common for some individuals, so in order to vary their favorite food, they ask for a peanut shake or a tomato shake—Variety is the spice of life, they say—no reports were given as to the length of life of these two customers.

"I'll have three beers," was the earnest request one day. (See REQUESTS, page 2.)

Union Dance Honors UN Servicemen

Saturday evening, Jan. 22, will find military trainees and their dates flocking to the Union ballroom to hear Dave Haun and his orchestra swing out from 9 to 12 p. m. in honor of all servicemen stationed on the campus.

Former dances for military units have been held at the coliseum, and this dance will initiate the new idea of holding sessions in the ballroom. Another new feature of the dance this Saturday will be additional hostesses. Formerly, Lincolnettes served as hostesses, but university coeds have been invited to serve in that capacity also.

Military trainees, possessing Union membership cards, and their dates will be admitted free of charge. Any STAR's wishing to attend may do so at 25c a couple.

Union Shows Best French Movie Today

"La Kermesee Heroique" or "Carnival in Flanders," voted the best film in any language for 1936, will be shown by the modern language department today at 4:00, 7:15, and 9:00 p. m. in the Union. For the benefit of those who do not understand French, English captions are added.

Plot centers around the passive resistance of Dutch settlers at Boon to a Spanish duke. Antonine Rosay will play the star role. Thru a study of paintings of that time, a great effort has been made to have the costumes and details of the picture authorized.

In 1936 the picture received the New York Times award for the best foreign picture and also the French grand prize for that year. For the last seven years it has traveled continuously. Before Christmas it was shown in New York City and reviewed by the New Yorker.

Tickets may be purchased from modern language students or at the door for 25c.

UN Alumnus Features '75 Years of History'

January's issue of the Nebraska Alumnus featured "Seventy Five Years of History," which is both a verbal and pictorial review of the university's growth. This article alone caused the sale of over 5,000 additional copies.

"Seventy Five Years of History" traces the university's progress from its one building, U hall and a faculty of seven, to an organization of 33 buildings and a faculty of more than 400.

Shows Four Block Campus.

By pictures it shows the university with a campus of four blocks of prairie surrounded by a fence, four or five boards high, transformed into a city campus of more than 75 acres.

In addition to keeping its civilian program intact, the university has provided instructions for army and navy trainees. Love Memorial Library, like the Social Science building in 1917, was converted into barracks for soldiers of World War II.

Main Events.

Outstanding events since its founding three quarters of a century ago have been: a university museum which by steady growth has won national recognition, 18th university chosen for membership in Association of American Universities, rank of eighth among all state universities in number of alumni in "Who's Who," and in climax of its 50 years of football, the Cornhuskers played Stanford in the Rose Bowl game of 1941.

AWS Board Announces Exam Week Regulations

All freshman and sophomore women are to be in their houses at 9:00 p. m. each night preceding a final examination, the AWS board has announced. This includes Sunday, Jan. 23, and Friday, Jan. 28. This regulation applies only to students who have an exam the following day.

War Council Opens UN 4th War Loan Drive With $2,000 Stamp Goal

"A stamp a day puts a Jap away!"

One ten cent stamp, purchased by all students every day until February 18, will put this university among the list of organizations which have successfully done their part in the national fourth war loan drive, launched Jan. 18.

The War Council has set the goal at $2,000 for this drive. In order to beat the previous semester's total sales in war stamps, $4,000, students will have to go over the top and purchase at least $3,000 in stamps.

If each student buys a ten cent stamp each day or a total of $3 for the entire month, the latter goal can be reached. Three dollars is a small sacrifice for each student to make for their brothers, fathers and sweethearts across the sea.

Semester Total is $1,115.

As a preliminary to the extensive drive, the highest sales this semester for one day was made last Wednesday, when Tassels announced $180.15 had been purchased in stamps by university students. This boosts the semester total to $1,115.90.

Stamp Sold Daily.

Tassels and special-committee students are selling stamps every day this week in Andrews Sosh and the Union. Campus sales will then be discontinued during exams and resumed Jan. 31, the first day of the new semester.

Further plans for the last half of the drive will be revealed in the first issue of the Nebraskan next semester. Posters and slogans concerning the drive are on display in buildings and houses on the campus.
