

Huskers Fall to K.U., Sooners

Scare Favored O.U. Before Loss

After dropping a 51 to 27 contest to K. U. at Lawrence Saturday, Nebraska's Cornhuskers came back strong to push a highly-touted University of Oklahoma cage squad to the limit before yielding a grudging 45 to 35 decision at Norman Monday night.

Minus the services of two regular starters and a substitute who saw service at Lawrence Saturday night, the Huskers threw a real scare into the trainee-spiked Oklahomans, out playing and out-scoring their highly favored rivals till Al Artman, Scarlet sparkplug, fouled out early in the last half.

The Huskers were without Tom Dworak, naval dental student who was forced to return to Lincoln Saturday night because of the 48-hour leave restrictions on naval trainees, and Doug Nelson and Elza Kuhlman, both of whom hustled back from Lawrence in time for Monday classes.

Sooners Lead at Half.

The Scarlet out-scrapped the Sooners in the early minutes of the first half, assuming a 9 to 8 lead when big Buzz Hollins tallied twice from the free-throw line. Hollins followed with his lone fielder of the game, a pivot-shot off thepost, and Al Artman caged a southpaw hook-shot to send the Huskers into a 14 to 8 lead.

Allie Paine, high scoring Sooner captain, and Ken Pryor, frosh star, then led a scoring spurt which sent Oklahoma off the floor at the half with a 20 to 17 lead. Paine hit with two one-handers and Pryor, held to a meager five points by the tight-guarding of Max Johns, connected with a two-handed jump shot with five seconds left in the half to send the Sooners off with their slim three-point margin.

Artman Fouls Out.

Far from beaten, the Huskers jumped back into the lead at the opening of the second half, with Rooney tallying on a one-hander and Johns caging a rebound shot to shoot Nebraska into a 21 to 20 lead. The Sooners knotted the count of Landon's free throw, but Hollins dumped in two of his five charity tosses to give the Scarlet a 23 to 21 margin.

Johns led Husker scoring with 8 points, followed closely by Artman with seven tallies. Artman's floor-play was outstanding. Grover Ramsey, giant center, dumped in 14 points to lead Sooner scorers. Allie Paine, Sooner defensive star whom Artman fooled three times with southpaw hook shots, tallied 13 markers.

K. U. Socks Huskers.
At Lawrence Saturday night, Nebraska wilted before a scorching K. U. drive in the second half to drop a 51 to 27 decision to the Jayhawks.

The game was even in the early minutes, with the score tied three times, but the Jayhawks pushed into a 23 to 15 lead at half-time.

K. U.'s pace the second half was blistering, while the Huskers could tally but four free throws during the first 15 minutes of the final period.

Buzz Hollins lead Scarlet scorers with eight points, followed by Max Johns with six. Tops for K. U. was Charles Moffat, who racked up 13 markers.

Half-time score: Kansas 23, Nebraska 15.	Missed free throws: Kansas—Lindhurst, Moffatt, Corder, McSpadden, Stucker, Frank, Barrington 4, Nebraska—Hollins 2, Tangeman, Johns, Leger 2, Swiggert.

Second Guessing

We had the pleasure of seeing the Lincoln Air Base Raiders in action against Company C at the Coliseum Saturday night, and it is our considered opinion that the Raiders are one of the best aggregations, civilian or military, to step on Coliseum boards in recent years.

Led by Pvt. Reece "Goose" Tatum and Pvt. Vic Krafft, both former members of the Harlem Globe Trotters, the Raiders are a mighty smooth outfit, one of the best we've seen in a long, long time. Tatum, a great crowd pleaser, was a treat to watch. His ball handling, shooting, and general floor play far surpass anything seen at the Coliseum this season. "The Goose" had the spectators gasping in the final minutes of Saturday night's game as he toyed with the Company C boys in an almost unbelievable exhibition of trick ball handling and passing.
