

War Council Stamp Dance Brings 81.55

Reach Half of Goal; Sell Again Wednesday In Campus Booths

Bringing all campus total of war stamp sales closer to the $2,000 goal was the war council's sponsored stamp dance Friday which collected $81.55.

The all campus fourth war loan drive has now reached the total of $982.85. Organized houses will again be contacted, and stamps will be sold all day Wednesday at the booths in the Union, Social Science, and Andrews buildings as well as at ag campus in an effort to collect the remaining $1,017.75 by the end of the week.

The ASTP units alone have purchased $19,568.15 in bonds as of Jan. 31 and it is hoped that students (See WAR COUNCIL, Page 3.)

Radcliff Offers Two Personnel $500 Fellowships

Two fellowships of $500 each are being offered by Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Massachusetts, for the year 1944-1945 to women desiring to prepare themselves for positions in personnel administration.

Training in this field includes courses in the Radcliffe graduate school and seminars in personnel problems given by members of the Harvard graduate school of business administration. Supervised field work, including full-time apprentice assignments in industrial, business, and government organizations is a part of the course.

For further information on the fellowships and the course, interested persons should apply to Anne Hood Harken, director,

Soldier Vote Names Yearbook Beauties

When the votes of over 800 campus military trainees were counted last night, 12 coeds were selected as finalists in the Cornhusker beauty queen contest. The dozen from which the six reigning yearbook queens will be chosen include Ester Blanchard, Marge Heyn, Ginny Malster, Rose Phillips, Janice Campbell, Mary Armour, Joy Laune, Jeanne Dougan, Margaret Hagan, Patty Welsh, Peggy Larson and Elva Richmond.

Crossing the stage in much the same manner as in the Atlantic City Beauty Contest, the 35 candidates were presented, by number only, by Jo Kinsey at 10:00. They were judged on beauty, poise, and carriage.

For the first time trainees chose the Cornhusker beauty queen finalists, voting for the 12 most beautiful. Last year Air Field personnel officers picked the queens and in 1942 John Powers, famous for the "Powers' Models," selected the reigning beauties. In 1941 it was George Petty of "Petty Girls" fame.

In charge of the election procedures were Jo Kinsey and Polly Petty, ref. E. W. Lantz supervised the counting of votes.

Candidates represented every organized house on the campus in proportion to the number of Cornhusker subscriptions sold within each house.

Eddie Garner's band furnished the music and refreshments were served.

Powarp Series On Advanced Education Ends

Rosenlof Heads Meeting Of State Educators

With a discussion of post-war curriculum problems, the conference on post-war adjustments in higher education ended a series of four lectures held at the Union Feb. 3, 4 and 5. Chairman of the committee in charge was G. W. Rosenlof.

Guest of the conference was Dr. Fred J. Kelly, specialist in higher education, U. S. office of education, Washington, D. C. Dr. Kelly, former editor of the Nebraskan, suggested the conference.

The purpose of the conference was to give consideration to certain post-war problems facing higher education in Nebraska. Topics which were selected for discussion were chosen from suggestions made by representatives of Nebraska colleges and universities.

All Colleges Represented

Arrangements were made by a committee representing the church related colleges, the state teachers colleges, the union colleges, the state department of public instruction, the Municipal university of Omaha, and the University of

Coed Counselors Entertain Frosh Thursday at 7:30

Second semester freshmen women are invited to a party given by the Coed Counselor Board. Members of the Board would like to have all new freshmen come and get acquainted.

The party will be held Thursday, February 10 in Ellen Smith Hall from 7:30 to 8:30. Refreshments will be served.

Coed Counsellors is the big sister organization to help freshmen acquaint themselves with the campus and other students. Each freshman has a Coed Counsellor "big sister." Catherine Wells is president of the Board.

YWCA Holds Rendezvous Tuesday at 5

YWCA semi-annual rendezvous will be held Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall. Newly elected officers and cabinet members will be introduced to YW members at that time. All coeds are welcome to attend.

This meeting marks the official opening of the '44 program which will be presented by the leaders of the various study groups.

Anne Wellensiek, president, announced that freshmen will be given the choice of joining commission groups or going into Vesper choir, social service, Estes co-op or the office staff. All of the study groups are open to upperclassmen as in previous years.

Officers Installed Tonight

Officers and cabinet members will be installed at an all candlelight service at 6 o'clock today in Ellen Smith hall. This is the first year an installation service of its kind has been held.

The program was planned by a committee headed by Ghita Hill. The YWCA advisory board has been invited to attend.

Lutheran Students Meet Thursday, February 10

At the last meeting of the Lutheran Student association, members voted to change their weekly meeting night from Wednesday to Thursday from 7 to 8 in room 315 of the Union. Military trainees are invited to attend.

The first meeting will take place Thursday, Feb. 10.

New officers of the association are: Doris Ulrich, president; Sylvia Antholz, vice president; Edna Huttenmeier, secretary, and Wilma Lamb, treasurer.

Phi Chi Theta Holds Bizad Lecture Series

To furnish a direct relationship between theoretical studies and actual business conditions and to discover the college courses which would best meet the needs and requirements of certain fields, Phi Chi Theta, professional bizad sorority, is sponsoring a lecture series which will be presented every Wednesday from 7:30 to 8:30.

E. E. Beck, personnel director of a local department store, will be the first guest speaker.

Topics Selected.

The series is based on advice given the sorority by prominent business men and faculty members of bizad college. In a poll taken among women in bizad college, personnel, accounting, and advertising were found to be fields of most interest. These fields will be the topics of the first lectures.

In the first lecture, Mr. Beck will speak on personnel. The discussion of personnel will continue with a forum, in which anyone may ask questions, on Feb. 16.

Cover Several Subjects.

Other fields of varied nature will be considered later in the series. These include law, credit management, government service, insurance, banking, aviation, and the diplomatic service.

All university women are invited although emphasis will be placed on business fields.

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, Sunday, February 6, 1944

Three Prominent Nebraskans Speak at Annual Ag Meeting

From Lincoln Journal.

GOV. DWIGHT GRISWOLD

... Presides over First Session of Organized Agriculture Annual Meeting.

Governor Dwight Griswold, William B. Jeffers, and Dr. Edmund E. Lincoln, will speak Wednesday, Feb. 9, at the first evening session of the annual Organized Agriculture meetings.

The Wednesday night meeting will be the high point of the two day Organized Agriculture program which will this year stress wartime food and farming problems. Meetings will begin Wednesday morning and run through Thursday afternoon. The conference will be held on the ag campus.

Griswold Presides.

Governor Griswold will preside at the Wednesday evening program and will introduce Mr. Jeffers and Dr. Lincoln. Mr. Jeffers, president of the Union Pacific and former rubber administrator, will speak on "Agriculture's Transportation Problem in War Time."

Dr. Lincoln is a native Nebraskan who is now employed as chief economist for the DuPont Corporation. He holds degrees from both Oxford university and Harvard and has a broad background of business finance, public utilities, and related affairs. His topic will be "Our Uncommon Heritage and Our Challenging Future."

Thursday afternoon's program will feature three additional speakers. Mr. Frank Rayns of Norfolk, England, will address the general meeting on "War Time Farming in Britain." Dr. John Lee Coulter, economist from Washington, D. C., and former president of North Dakota A. and

WILLIAM B. JEFFERS

... Speaks on Wartime Transportation at Ag Meeting.

M., and Mrs. Raymond B. Sayre, a farm homemaker from Iowa, will also appear.

Small Group Meetings.

The remainder of the two day period will be taken up with group meetings of the various state agricultural associations and departments.

W. H. Brokaw, director of the extension service, announced that the sessions are open to the general public and both farm and city people are invited to attend. He further stated that businessmen and farmers alike are interested in getting together on common grounds to discuss wartime food production.

Former Director Of UN Libraries Goes Overseas

Gilbert H. Doane, who served as director of libraries here for 10 years prior to accepting the same position six years ago at the University of Wisconsin, has been granted a leave of absence from that school to supervise the restoration and conservation of art treasures in occupied countries.

He will go overseas with the adjutant general's office, with a captain's rating in the army.

Several weeks ago Mr. Doane delivered the sermon at St. Andrews Episcopal church in commemoration of the 159th anniversary of the consecration of Samuel Seabury, the first bishop of the church in America.

Union Presents Four Old-Time 'Flickers' Today

Another in a series of old time "flicker shows" will be presented this afternoon at 4 p. m. in the Union ballroom.

Included in the program are such "ancients" as "Desert Rat," starring Franklin Farnum; "Feet of Mud," with Harry Langdon; Charlie Chaplin in "The Champion," and "Flying Elephants," starring Laurel and Hardy.

Peggy Shelley will entertain with piano selections after the show. To add to the atmosphere, popcorn and peanuts will be sold at five cents a sack before the show.

Several of last year's better movies are scheduled later this month, such as "Citizen Kane," with Orson Welles, February 20; and "The Devil and Miss Jones," starring Jean Arthur and Robert Cummings, February 27.

Coed Counselor Penny Carnival Tickets on Sale

Tickets for the annual Coed Counselor Penny carnival this Saturday can now be purchased from coed counselors, or by soldiers, at the Union. They will also be sold at the door during the Carnival.

In connection with the fourth war loan drive, there will be a war stamp booth sponsored by the coed counselor board. A refreshment booth serving hog dogs, cokes, and ice cream, in addition to a booth by each organized house will complete the carnival layout.

The winning booth, which will be picked by special judges, will be presented with a silver cup. Last year's winner was Alpha Chi Omega.
