Tight games were the order of the day in class A in the first round of the state high school basketball tournament at the coliseum yesterday, with Creighton Prep of Omaha nipping Lincoln high 25-23, Omaha South victorious over Lincoln Northeast, 24-23, Scottsbluff nudging Hastings, 27-26, and Columbus whipping Kearney, 31-21, for the widest victory margin of the day.

South's victory over Northeast in the final game of the evening was the top tilt of the first round. Down 13-17 at the half, the Packers finished strong in the second half to upset the favored Rockets by a narrow 24-23 count.

Prep Meets Columbus.
 As the teams advance into semi-final games tonight, Creighton Prep is scheduled to meet Columbus, while South tangles with Scottsbluff. Possibility of an all-Omaha final thus arises, for if the Packers and Prepsters win tonight, they will clash in the Saturday night finals on the coliseum court.

ISC Accepts NCAA Invite To K.C. Meet

The Iowa State college athletic council has reconsidered and accepted a bid to compete as a representative of the fifth district in the National Collegiate Athletic association's western playoffs in Kansas City, March 24-25, according to an announcement by Athletic Director George Veenker.

The council had decided Monday to turn down the bid because of the possibility that the Cyclone team could not be held together until tournament time. The offer was renewed by the NCAA selection committee, however, and the council decided to accept the second bid.

J. A. Foster, teacher at Michigan State, recently proved his domesticity to one English class. To fill the dead-pan silence following the words: "Are there any questions?" he explained in answer to questions about his dirty hands that he had peeled a bushel of peaches the night before.
