The Second Candle . . .

The baby of campus organizations, Student Foundation, adds a second candle to its birthday cake this month. It also adds a record for having accomplished more in its short existence than any other organization on the campus.

In two years the Foundation has acquired a staff of 90 students, an office in the Union building, a $2,500 scholarship fund for returning servicemen. It has published its own bulletin to be sent to high schools throughout the state; it has entertained visiting high school students, their parents and teachers; it has sent speaking tours to outstate towns; it has shouldered a load of attempting to supplement the University Foundation in its promotion campaign.

It has received the money to carry out its programs from a commission on caps and gowns rented to seniors by campus bookstores. An active program demands the use of adequate funds. The Foundation, through effective management, has been able to keep its expenses within its meagre allotment. The cap and gown arrangement this year will be more lenient. With the increase in funds should come an increase in efficiency and consequent benefit to the university.

The Student Foundation has an enviable record . . . an example to the rest of the groups on the campus for which a matching record would be a commendable achievement.

Speakers . . .

British army for a time. Later he served with the American army in France.

Lloyd Douglas was past 50 years of age when his first book, "Magnificent Obsession," was printed. He is the author of "Green Light," "The Robe" is his latest publication.

Douglas held pastorates in several states before giving up the ministry for full-time writing. He now lives in Los Angeles.

Lent, Talks, Panel Head Church Notes

Lenten devotions, religious speakers, and a student panel will highlight the church calendar for this weekend. Newmann club will sponsor a social hour Sunday at 4:30 in the Temple building. Lenten services will be held every Wednesday and Friday morning at 6:15 in room 201 of the Temple building.

Rev. Ray Kearns will speak on "Easter—Its Deeper Meaning for Me" at the Roger Williams fellowship at 5:30 p. m. Sunday at the Baptist student house. Myrtle Holler will lead the worship service and Glen Sloan will preside.

Lutherans Meet in Union.

Lutheran chapel services for students and service men will be held at 11 a. m. Sunday in room 315 of the Union with Rev. Henry Erck, university pastor, delivering the sermon, "Christ's fifth word from the Cross: I Thirst."

Communion will be served every Thursday during Lent at the Episcopal church, 13th and R streets at 7 and 11 a. m. Rev. L. W. McMillin will also conduct the Sunday services at 8:30 and 11:00 a. m.

Panel Discusses Armament.

Wesley Foundation student fellowship, which meets at 5:30 Sunday evening at the St. Paul church, will have a student panel discussing "The Problem of Armament." Rev. Robert Drew will hold Lenten services Wednesday morning at 7:15 to 7:45.

Rabbi Harry Jolt will hold services tonight at 8 p. m. Sunday services will be held at the synagogue on 18th and L streets at 11:45 a. m. Following the services the Hillel will sponsor a brunch for trainees and students.

Regular Sunday evening gathering of the Presbyterian students will meet at 6:00 p. m. Rev. Ray Kearns will review the book "Religion on the Campus" by Arnold Nash.

Owen Laattimore of the OWI has predicted that "the China of the future is going to be determined by the Chinese, and not by the imperialism of other countries."

Hell and High Water

By Les Gloffely

Well, elections are over and now the Mortar Boards can get going on the deals for May 6. Congrats to the gals who got in, tough luck to those who missed because elections were close this year, very close, and also tough luck to a few top coeds who got knocked off slates due to some anonymous hell-raising over incompletes.

Incidentally, speaking of those who are in the know, their position certainly hasn't brought them a great deal of dignity. The AWS president and WAA prexy were out rolling, we do mean rolling, in the snow Tuesday night. S'no joke.

In War Council meeting Tuesday night, the committee presented the election slate of candidates. There was present at that meeting Mortar Boards "Cac" Wells and Rae Lock, sitting on the edge of their chairs, waiting impatiently for the voting to get over with. Since those two notables are not frequently in attendance at War Council, regular members knew what they had come for. The funny part was that the slate was only presented, and will not be voted upon until next week. Looks like the chagrined twosome will have to go to meeting again someday.

Christians Hear J. Nelson At YM Tonight

Dr. John Oliver Nelson, director of Life's Work for the Presbyterian Churches of America and editor of the Intercollegiate, will speak before the university's Christian cabinet tonight at 6:00 p. m. in the north room of the YMCA.

Dr. Nelson has been in Lincoln conducting a coaching conference, which is composed of ministers in this area who have to do with enlisting young people in vocation of the church. Twenty men from Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, and Minnesota are representing various Presbyterian groups.

Edits Church Publication.

In addition to his various duties, Dr. Nelson is editor of the Intercollegiate, the publication sponsored by all the churches in the United States.

Dr. Nelson received his AB at Princeton and attended Edinberg university in Scotland and McCormick university in Chicago. He received his PhD at Yale university and has taken work at Oxford university.

Prof. Harold Hamil of the school of journalism, returned yesterday from Fort Crook in Omaha, where he reported for selective service examination.

SID BRADLEY, Sig Alph, is a physical instructor at Camp Hood, Texas.

SECOND LT. STAN MALEY, Sigma Nu, was back last week and left a diamond with Peg Lemon, pinnate. He has taken off for South Carolina.

SECOND LT. DOUGLAS SHARKEY, '42, is back at UN with his AAF wings and commission from Marfa, Texas, where he will be stationed.

JIM ENGLUND, Kappa Sig a year back, has transferred from AST advanced engineering to the Signal Corps at Ft. Monmouth, New Jersey. He was manager of the Union grill. Jim's brother, MERLE, has received promotion to Lt. (j.g.) in the Navy.

BATTLE TALK REHEARSAL!

Split-second communication in warfare calls for instant understanding—that's why it is so necessary to practice up on battle talk. Navy fliers improve their speech by playing back their own voices on the "Mirrophone," a magnetic tape recording reproducer built by Western Electric.

It also helps Army linguists master tongue-twisting languages like Japanese and Burmese. Designed by Bell Telephone Laboratories for speech training of operators and for weather announcing systems, it is another of the many peacetime Bell System developments now aiding our armed forces.
