

Top Tassels Win Free Cornhuskers

Charlotte Hill, business manager of the Cornhusker, today announced the names of Tassels who sold year books to win free copies and an invitation to the Cornhusker dinner in the spring.

Gerry McKinsey headed the list with 65 Cornhuskers to her credit; Vickie Chilquist and Jackie Scott were second with 40 books each, and Barbara Emerson and Joy Hill were next with 36 and 35 year books, respectively. These girls will receive free Cornhuskers and also invitations to the dinner.

Earn Dinners.

A sale of ten books was required to earn tickets to the Cornhusker dinner. A complete list of these girls has not been tabulated, but the present list includes Les Glotfelty, Marie Abraham, Dorothy Caress, Marion Coombs Greenwood, Mary Cox, Eileen

Mentalist Says 'No Un-natural' Mind Powers

BY MARY ALICE CAWOOD.

Stating that his greatest difficulty is trying to live an everyday, normal life, the prominent mental telepathist Mr. Joseph Dunninger assured reporters during a press conference prior to his appearance on the Lincoln Junior League Town Hall series Friday night that he did not possess any super natural powers.

Maintaining that he does not believe in the super natural, Dunninger says that nearly every individual is capable of catching thought waves, just as they are capable of learning to play musical instruments. It takes a lifetime however, to cultivate this ability into a perfected state. Mr. Dunninger has never had any training in his work and says that no one can teach this knowledge because the individual himself must discover and develop it. When he was seven years old he recognized his ability and since that time has developed it to a high degree.

Gets in Mood.

With his soft cultivated voice, Mr. Dunninger explained that he must place himself in a receptive state of mind before he is able to catch and read thought waves.

Strange people often approach and ask him to read their minds. He was once refused a menu because (See MENTALIST, Page 4.)

'Forever Yours' Is Variety Show Feature In Union

Telling the story of a house in London, today's variety show, "Forever Yours," will be presented in the Union ballroom at 3 p. m.

Included in the cast of 78 stars are Charles Laughton, Merle Oberon, Jessie Matthews, Ray Milland, Ida Lupino, Herbert Marshall, Robert Cummings and Anna Neagle. Together they tell the story of a house built in London in 1804 and the story of the people who lived in it down to the present war.

Reviewers say of this production, "Superbly acted and smoothly produced, it shows the mark of the expert craftsmanship which went into it."

Grad Gives Fellowship To Columbia

A fellowship to Columbia University, established thru a $51,000 gift by Professor Harry H. Hollingworth of the department of psychology, Columbia, has been made available to a woman graduate of the university.

Professor and Mrs. Hollingworth were graduated from the university, each with Phi Beta Kappa honors, and were granted honorary degrees in 1938 from the university.

Goes to Grad.

The fellowship is to go annually to a graduate who "is most likely to emulate the character and career of the late Mrs. Hollingworth."

Mrs. Hollingworth, professor of education at Teachers College, Columbia University, won universal recognition through her work in child psychology.

Professor Hollingworth is a distinguished psychologist and author of several research studies. For many years he served as president of the American Psychological Association. A biography of his wife entitled "Leta Stetter Hollingworth" was published by the University of Nebraska Press in 1943.

YMCA Begins Year's Activity Tuesday Night

With an all-campus men's meeting Tuesday at 7:30 in the YMCA lounge in the Temple, the YMCA is beginning its fall program.

Entertainment for the evening will be a discussion of political issues led by Bill Miller, president. Free cider and doughnuts will be served following the discussion.

This hour meeting is the first of a series of monthly get-togethers planned for the coming year. Due to the greatly decreased numbers of men on campus, the cabinet decided at a recent meeting to concentrate its entire program on these monthly meetings.

The YM lounge is located on the first floor of the Temple and is kept open all day for those men desiring to play pingpong or look through its selection of current magazines.

Music Groups Announce 26 New Pledges

Sigma Alpha Iota led the three professional music sororities with 16 of the 26 pledges who became affiliated when the students declared their preferences last week.

Second in the number pledged was Delta Omicron with 9 pledges while Mu Phi Epsilon pledged one.

The pledges for SAT include Betty Ann Albert, Frances Farnsworth, Joan Grankhauser, Doris Chamberlin, Annette Jacobs, Arlene Kostal, Helen Laird, Rita Maginn, Margaret Modlin, Jean Pierson, Dell Thomas, Donnie Wageman, Shirley Walsh, Mary Jean Way, Norma Weir, and Jean Lock.

Doris Mae Walth was pledged to Mu Phi Epsilon.

Pledges for DO are Eunice Bracken, Brennie Breck, Norma Clements, Pauline DeBoer, Sue Neathery, Alice Saunders, Joyce Stuve, Jean Thompson and Vesta Zenier.

Nebraskan Workers

Nebraskans for Servicemen workers are to report Tuesday night at 7 to 9 p. m. in the Nebraskan office.

Huskers Go Down, 20-0 As Selzer and Doyle Show Bright Plays Against Jays

For the first time since 1896 the University of Kansas defeated the University of Nebraska Cornhuskers on their home field by the score of 20-0 in a smashing victory. The win was also the first the Jayhawks have made over the Scarlet since 1916. Gaining a 7-0 lead in the first quarter when Reigle picked up a blocked punt and scooted across the goal to score, the Kansans were met on practically even terms by the Huskers during the first half but kept control of the pigskin during the last two cantos during which they marked up two more tallies.

Midway in the first quarter the Huskers found themselves forced to kick and Reigle broke through to block the punt and recover it himself and go on to make the tally. Chesnut's kick for point split the uprights.

Ragged Play Causes Lag.

From here on through the half the ball went back and forth with neither team gaining a score. Ragged play and penalties kept the play under disinterest.

Moffett accounted for the next KU tally that came in the third quarter as he took a pass over the center of the line to score unopposed. Once more the drop- (See HUSKERS, Page 3.)

PBK Meets Nov. 2, Tells Members

Phi Beta Kappa, senior honorary scholastic fraternity, has announced its annual program and the first meeting, scheduled for Nov. 2 at Ellen Smith hall, when the early announcement of new members will be made. Prof. Norman L. Hill will address the meeting on "Can Europe's Territorial Problems Be Solved?"

The next meeting, to be held Dec. 14, will have Prof. Harold S. Wilson, assistant professor of English, as guest speaker. The March meeting will be held in connection with the Nebraska Art association exhibition, at which time Prof. Dwight Kirsch will give a review.

The joint meeting with Sigma Xi will be held the first week in April, headlined by the appearance of Dr. Merle Curti, Pulitzer prize winner in history for 1943, as guest speaker. At this time, the spring announcement of new members will be made by Sigma Xi and Phi Beta Kappa jointly.

Initiation and a reception for new members will be given May 6. The string quartet of the school of music, under the direction of Prof. Miles Dresskell, will entertain with a program of chamber music.

Officers and program committee for the year are: Prof. Lane Lancaster, president; Prof. Luvicy Hill, vice president; Prof. Clifford M. Hicks, secretary; Prof. G. M. Darlington, treasurer; and Miss Lydia Wagner, historian.

J. Dunninger Amazes 4,000 With Telepathy

BY PHYLLIS TEAGARDEN.

Entertaining an audience of 4,000 at the coliseum Friday evening, Joseph Dunninger, famous master mind and hypnotist, proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that thoughts of other receptive minds are no secret to him.

Introducing his program with a few "tricks of the trade," Dunninger demonstrated an experiment which he performed at one time before Thomas A. Edison. A man chosen from the audience was given a deck of cards and told to choose one card in his mind, after which the mastermind proceeded to tell him the exact card. Similar card tricks were shown to delight and mystify his audience, and in the role of magician, Dunninger displayed an "Egyptian grab bag trick," pulling a glass of water from an empty bag while two men were holding his wrists.

Breaks Down Barrier

Explaining that such introductory tricks were used to break down the barrier which arises at the beginning of every performance, and to obtain the confidence of the audience, Dunninger proceeded to demonstrate his skill in reading the thoughts, not the minds, of people who possess the power of concentration and receptiveness.

Writing pads were passed throughout the audience, and people were asked to write down unique numbers and names they had in mind and to concentrate on those questions. Creating an air of mystery in the huge room, Dunninger gave exact serial numbers, initials and names of relatives, telephone numbers, quotations in German, and addresses of soldiers overseas. Those whose questions were asked by Dunninger were requested to stand and identify themselves, thus furnishing proof of his accuracy.

Holding the attention of his audience for approximately two hours, Dunninger completed his performance with a unique demonstration with numbers. Selecting four persons to keep in mind a four digit number, he immediately wrote the total on a slate, checked his total for the audience, and amid rounds of applause, dismissed himself with, "Aren't you glad you came?"

1944 UN Pep Queen Candidates . . .
