Favored UM Tigers Meet

Highlighting Homecoming festivities an underdog University of Nebraska Cornhusker eleven takes the field against a tough University of Missouri team in Memorial stadium tomorrow at 2 o'clock.

Hopes for a Husker victory were dimmed as chances for Lyle Kops and Joe Kessler being able to play in the game were still uncertain. Both men have been disabled by injuries.

The Husker team is not alone in suffering as the Missouri team had five players in hospitalization

Dance Ends Homecoming

Climax of UN's annual homecoming celebrations will be the homecoming dance tomorrow night from 9 to 12 in the Coliseum. This dance is one of the few traditional affairs still held since the advent of the war.

Here from Omaha will be Basie Givens and his orchestra to provide the music. Held in the Union ballroom last year, the dance was moved to the Coliseum this year to better accommodate the crowd expected.

Present New Queen.

Feature attraction of the annual affair will be the presentation of the university's 1944 Pep Queen during intermission. The queen was chosen from five candidates in an all-campus vote yesterday, and her identity will not be revealed until the half-way mark in the dance. Just before the presentation of then we queen by Yell King Bernie Urich and 1943 Queen Peggy Larson will come the awarding of prizes to the Nebraska fans will again back men's and women's organized the team with the clang of the houses judged to have the best victory bell at the homecoming homecoming decorations.
