Selzer Leads UN To First '44 Win

BY NORRIS ANDERSON

Memorial Stadium, Oct. 28.—Shades of Cardwell, Brock, Rohrig, Francis and Pa Schulte!

A fighting University of Nebraska gridiron crew, which had plumbed the depths of mediocrity in earlier 1944 warfare, scaled the heights here today by upsetting a heavily favored Missouri team, 24-20, before 8,000 hysterical fans. Sunlight that streamed down upon Memorial stadium was no brighter than the performance of "Lew" Lewandowski's youthful crew. Outscored 113-0 by three previous opponents and rank outsiders in any pre-game wagering, the outmanned Scarlet and Cream exhibited the brand of football spirit that has made Nebraska teams a legend in Big Six annals.

Knight Opens Fireworks.

Fiery Chick Knight, a miniature carbon copy of Brother Bus, was the first Husker to show the world that Cornhusker spirit had only been sleeping these past two years. Knight rambled over from the 4-yard line three plays after Lyle Kops had recovered Bill Delastatus' fumble on the Missouri 7-yard stripe. Max Riley, Tiger fullback, leaped high to block Buzz Hollins' attempted placement.

Nebraska 6, Missouri 0.

Sideline quarterbacks reasoned that Nebraska had expended its power for the day. It was the first time they had scored this season, wasn't it?

More to Come.

A bit of defensive brilliancy by Lyle Colerick, Keith Doyle and Frank Hazard forced Missouri to relinquish its ensuing drive with (See FOOTBALL, page 3.)

Union Schedules Recital, Variety Show For Today

A faculty recital from the school of fine arts and the variety show "Flight for Freedom" will be presented at the Union today.

Miles Dresskell, violinist, Donald Glaty, tenor, and Earnest Harrison and Mrs. Miles Dresskell, pianists, will be featured in the faculty recital in the Union ballroom at 3 p. m.

Starring Fred MacMurry, and Rosalind Russell, and Herbert Marshall, "Flight for Freedom" will be the main feature of this week's variety show, presented at 8 p. m., instead of the usual 3 p. m. There will also be a cartoon.

Pep Queen

JACKIE SCOTT.

... introduced as next year's Pep Queen at the Homecoming Dance Saturday night.

Jackie Scott Elected Pep Queen of '45

Stepping out from two white doors topped by a gold crown and Tassel insignia, and with a huge red UN on them, Jackie Scott was presented by Yell King Bernie Ulrich as the 1944 Pep Queen at the annual Homecoming Dance last night in the Coliseum. Miss Scott was elected from five candidates in an all-campus vote Thursday.

The new pep queen, wearing the red and white pep queen cape, after her introduction by Ulrich, was given a bouquet by retiring pep queen Peggy Larson and then danced the first dance with the Yell King.

Miss Scott is a sophomore, member of Alpha Chi Omega, cheerleader, on the Cornhusker staff, and a Coed Counselor. She will reign as queen until the Homecoming Dance next year and will be presented again at the Homecoming game in 1945.

Playing for the crowd of alumni students and visitors at the dance was Basie Givens orchestra. The dance is sponsored each year by Tassels, honorary pep women's organization, and the pep queen is elected from the Tassels by the whole university.

Industries Group Hear UN Faculty Members in Panel

Four University of Nebraska faculty members will be panel speakers at the luncheon session of the annual meeting of the Associated Industries of Nebraska to be held at the Hotel Cornhusker Nov. 1.

Chancellor C. S. Boucher will preside over the panel discussion speaking on the subject "The University Serves the Business Man." Dean O. J. Ferguson of the college of engineering will discuss "The Field of Engineering." "The Field of Chemistry" will be the topic of R. M. Sandstedt, professor of agricultural chemistry, and Dean John D. Clark of the college of business administration will speak on "The Field of Business Management."

Dr. F. H. Tanner Talks at Nu-Med Banquet in Union

Dr. Frank H. Tanner, MD., director of laboratory technique at the Lincoln General hospital, will be the speaker at the Nu-Med banquet in Union parlors XY on Wednesday at 6:15 p. m.

Those planning to attend the banquet should sign up on the bulletin board outside Dr. Otis Wade's office, 318 Beatty Hall. The tickets are 50 cents.

Annual Adds To Queen List

Gamma Phi Beta and Alpha Omicron Pi have been added to the list of sororities selling enough Cornhuskers to entitle them to two beauty queen candidates, Charlotte Hill, Cornhusker business manager, announced Saturday.

Chi Omega, Sigma Nu Take First in Decoration Contest

Chi Omega and Sigma Nu were presented with the first place cups for their outstanding Homecoming decorations last night by Ghita Hill, War Council president. The displays were judged Friday evening and the War Council-sponsored awards were given to the winners prior to the 1944 Pep Queen presentation at the annual Homecoming dance in the coliseum last night.

Taking second place money for the women's organized houses was Alpha Xi Delta, which won the competition last year. Among men's houses, Phi Gamma Delta took second. Five dollars in war stamps was given to each second place group. Gaining honorable mention were Sigma Kappa and Pioneer Co-Op.

Pick Lilies.

The cup-winning Chi Omegas used the slogan, "Pick off those Tiger Lilies," with a giant football player pulling up tiger lilies in their yard. "Muff Missou" was the watchword for Sigma Nu, whose display featured the conversion of tigers into harmless muffs. Decoration expenditures

UN Varsity Band Performs At Half For Homecoming

Using Hallowe'en as its theme, the university varsity band, under the direction of Don Lentz, presented a half-time drill at the annual homecoming game yesterday.

The band welcomed Missouri visitors by forming an "M" and playing "Old Missouri." After reforming, the band made the outline of a large pumpkin and played "Peter, Peter, Pumpkin Eater."

To the music of "Pussy Cat, Pussy Cat," the pumpkin changed into a black cat. The next design was a ghost, after which a pumpkin was formed again, changing into a huge bat. The band completed its drill with the final formation of a pumpkin, accompanied by appropriate music.

Experienced Actors Star in First UN Play

BY SHIRLEY JENKINS.

Gloria Beaumont and Harold Marer, the leads in the University Players' production of "Wingless Victory," by Maxwell Anderson, on Nov. 2, 3, and 4, have both had varied experience in stock companies and little theaters.

Harold Marer, a freshman, is portraying the part of Nathaniel McQuestion, the New England sailor who married a Malay princess on a voyage and brought her back to New England. Harold has appeared in the well known Omaha Central high school "road shows" for three years. The "road shows" are acts and skits put on by the students each year and are an annual event in Omaha. For three years he was also in the fall plays staged by Omaha Central.

Played in Stock.

Harold was a member of a stock company formed in Okoboji, Ia., which staged such plays as "Ever Since Eve," "Seven Sisters," and for each house were limited to seven dollars this year.

Judges of the decorations were C. C. Wiggins, professor of horticulture ag, L. B. Smith of the department of architecture, and Mrs. Clara M. Allen of the department of art.

Dorothy Weyer Wins Columbia Scholarship

Dorothy Claire Weyer, 22 year old Hastings woman, was the recipient of the $1,000 Gilbert M. Hitchcock scholarship to the graduate school of journalism at Columbia university. She is the fourth woman to receive the award.

The scholarship was established by Mrs. Gilbert M. Hitchcock in memory of her husband, who was former senator from Nebraska, and publisher of the Omaha World-Herald. This award has been given annually to a resident of Nebraska or Nebraska college graduate since 1934.

Formerly the editor of "Powder Keg" at the naval ammunition depot at Hastings, Miss Weyer was graduated from Hastings college, magna cum laude, editor of the campus weekly, college yearbook, and women's editor of Hastings Daily Tribune.

Previous winners of the Hitchcock scholarship include three women and seven men. The women are M. Elizabeth Kelly of Falls City, Evelyn M. Simpson of Omaha, and Kittie Mills, Omaha.

Five of the seven male winners are in the armed forces. They are Lt. Howard G. Allaway, USNR; Lt. George H. Pipal, USNR; Lt. Nick Papa, army signal corps; Lt. Leonard U. Kreuger of Beatrice, bombardier, and Lt. Leo Grimes.

Other winners include William McGaffin of Polk and Burton W. Marvin of Lincoln.

"There's One In Every Family."

A speech major, Harold has been on radio programs for stations KOYL and KOWH in Omaha.

With theater experience since she was six years old, Gloria Beaumont has been chosen to play Oparre, the Malay wife of Mathan McQuestion. Gloria is a transfer student from UCLA, where she appeared in several plays during her freshman year, including "Goodbye Again."

Little Theater Player.

Her most valued experience came from her years of being a member of a little theater group in the Depot Playhouse. Organized by a retired actor, the little theater group took over an old railroad depot, built a stage, and named their theater the Depot Playhouse. At its peak, the Playhouse was known throughout California. Laraine Day, Hollywood actress; Byron Scott, congressman from California, and Frank Goss, radio announcer for (See ACTORS, page 4.)
