

Cornhuskers Continue To Take It Easy

Nebraska's Cornhuskers continued to take it easy during practices the latter part of this week with an open date Saturday providing the vacation from usual work-out chores.

Still much remains to be done before the Huskers will be ready to meet Kansas State's much improved Wildcats here one week from Saturday. The Aggies play the Olathe Naval Air Base Clippers Saturday. This should give the Scarlets more of an idea of what to expect of the Wildcats as they have been playing inconsistently all season.

One Large Gap.

Two large gaps remain noticeable in the Scarlet and Cream lineup, these being at the two guard posts. Former incumbents were Frank Hazard and Bernie Kasdan. Hazard became disgusted and quit the team last week while Kasdan is suffering from a broken leg bone. Probable replacements will be Stevenson and Grundmann, tho neither is as dependable as the former pair.

judges. The short-winded person picks himself from the floor, and carefully distributes the remaining portions of his anatomy in the nearest chair, and tries holding his breath again.

The tempo of the music picks up, and here comes our second contestant, Sexy Texie. The one holding his breath explodes, and is gone forever from our midst. One of the boys just returned from two years in the south Pacific goes mad, and starts digging a foxhole. Our eyes finally reach the sage, and wow! Sexy has long black hair, the kind the fellows love to run thru barefoot, and the kind of a figure the fellows love . . . to look at.

The crowd is thrown into hysterics, the south Pacific boy reaches China, the judges go out for a smoke, and the rest of the candidates go into a dance for the crowd.

Results of last week's predictions:

8 right—2 wrong—1 tie—849.

Oklahoma over Kansas—There should be no question about the Sooners taking this but one can never tell what those Big Six teams will do.

Iowa Seahawks over Missouri—The Tigers are without a good fullback let alone Bill Dellastatious. It looks like a big day for the cadets.

Kansas State over Olathe Naval Air Station—Kansas University took the Clippers and Kansas State beat Kansas. That's enough.

Iowa State over Drake—Drake will drop off the unbeaten list after they meet up with the Cyclones.

Michigan over Wisconsin—The Badgers have been thru a rough season and deserve a lot of credit for holding up under all the knocks and bruises. But that still doesn't mean they can beat the Wolverines.

Ohio State over Illinois—The Ohio Boys are opening their ears for a bowl bid already. If that's the case they must be good.

Notre Dame over Northwestern—The Irish should come out of their hole. The hole that Army buried them in.

Army over Pennsylvania—You can't stop the Army. Not even if you're from Pennsylvania.

Navy over Purdue—Next in line to the Army, the Navy hadn't ought to lose their top-flight standing.

When Demand exceeds Supply

The fairest way we know to ration travel is to tell the American people the truth, and let them divide the supply fairly between them—as they always have when there is less than enough to go around.

Today, on some routes, there is a very real shortage. Gas, tire and a very real manpower shortage restrict us from giving all the service we would like to give.

Bus travel is a weapon. Use it economically as you conserve food, paper, rubber and tin. When our service is not up to our peacetime standards, please remember we are carrying 2½ times as many passengers as we do in normal times.

If you must travel, we are here to serve you. See, or telephone our agent for the least crowded schedules and days. Know before you go.

[When traveling, be sure to put identification stickers on your baggage. We supply them free.]
