

Huskers Defeat K-State, 35-0

Political Parties Nominate Class Officers Tuesday

Politics will dominate campus affairs next Tuesday night when the two new parties hold their respective caucus and convention to elect party officers and nominate candidates for junior and senior class presidents.

Scene of the caucus for the Student Party for Democratic Government will be the Temple auditorium at 7:30, according to Bill Miller, temporary co-chairman.

The Progressive party will start its convention at 7:00 in the Union ballroom, it was announced by Ernest Larson, temporary chairman.

Elect Dec. 5.

The general election of class officers is scheduled for Tuesday, December 5. The purpose of the preliminary party meetings is to select the candidates whom the prospective parties will support in the coming election.

The heads of both parties have urged all their party members to take an interest in the nomination and attend their party the general student body Tuesday night will determine the success of the new political system.

Party members are urged to bring banners bearing the names of their favorite candidate and of their party, and to organize demonstrations at their meetings to carry off the caucus and convention is as enthusiastic and cooperative spirit as possible.

Nine Soloists Sing in Annual UN 'Messiah'

Nine soloists have been chosen to appear in the annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah," which will be given in the university coliseum on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 10, at 3 o'clock, by the university choral union.

The soloists are:

Sopranos.

Miss Charlotte Filter, "Rejoice Greatly."

Miss Ruth Ferguson, "The Recitatives."

Miss Elaine Lebsack, "Come Unto Him."

Altos.

Miss Helen Laird, "Then Shall the Eyes of the Blind" and "He (See MESSIAH, page 4.)"

Snow, Showers Assail Teams

BY NORRIS ANDERSON.
MEMORIAL STADIUM, Nov. 25.—In a wild and loose fray which seemed cut from a grossly illogical fiction plot, the young University of Nebraska Cornhuskers outscamped Kansas State, 35-0, here today.

Opening under April showers, the Huskers' semi-windup game of the season wound up under a blizzard which threatened to bury all participants.

Coach "Lew" Lewandowski's

Mock Peace Conference Begins Plans

Distribution of plans for the mock peace conference sponsored by the YWCA cabinet will be made in all organized houses Monday night by members of the planning committee for the conference.

Lincoln unaffiliated students will meet Monday at 5:00 p. m. in room 309 of the Union to organize. Ag students will be contacted and will take an active part in the peace conference.

To create a plan for the most just peace possible, under as accurate an organization set-up as can be predicted, each organized house, both affiliated and unaffiliated, as well as any twenty off-campus unaffiliates who sign up to work as a unit, will be given a country to study and represent.

These organized groups will study all plans, peace proposals, and probably demands of their particular country. A faculty committee chosen from the economics, social science, political science and philosophy departments will assist. (See CONFERENCE, page 2.)

Union Film Stars Morgan, Henreid

A timely film of France under gestapo terror is "Joan of Paris," today's Union variety show scheduled for the ballroom at 3 p. m.

Michele Morgan and Paul Henreid provide the romance with Thomas Mitchell and May Robinson in supporting roles.

This is the story of an R.A.F. flier who has never known fear and of a Parisian girl who has not known love, who are brought together in nazi-conquered Paris by the accidents of war.

Scarlet kids opened their scoring in the second period when Bill Betz brushed across from the one-yard stripe. Burkey's placement was good. A combined bit of defensive work by Keith Doyle and End Bob Koenig brought the next points. Koenig fell on the leather for a safety after Doyle had blocked Faubion's attempted punt from the K-State five-yard stripe.

Laterals Pay.

Seven minutes remained in the third period when Nebraska used an offensive weapon which was to bring two additional touchdowns.

Joe Kessler plowed thru the Wildcat forwards on the enemy 46-yard stripe, saw three tacklers closing in and calmly lateraled to Jim Selzer, running at full momentum. Selzer rambled the remaining 46 yards untouched. Burkey's placement made the count 16-0.

Possessed with the habit of exploding out of nowhere, the stocky Kessler exploded from 22 yards out for the third Husker touchdown shortly after the fourth period opened. Gradoville's attempted run on a placement fake failed for the extra point. Nebraska 22, K-State 0.

Chick Knight, out of action with (See FOOTBALL, page 3.)

Former Grad Adds $2,000 To Almy Fund

Mrs. Amy Bruner Almy has added $2,000 to the John E. Almy scholarship fund which she established for students in the University of Nebraska departments of physics last April. Perry W. Branch, secretary director of the University Foundation announced.

Mrs. Almy established the fund in memory of her husband, the late Dr. John E. Almy, for many years professor of experimental physics at the university.

In announcing the donation, Branch said that the fund is now sufficient to maintain a $100 annual scholarship. The scholarship is available to the university student who has satisfactorily completed one year of academic work and is majoring in physics. The general scholarship committee awards the scholarship from recommendations made by the staff of the physics department.

Dr. and Mrs. Almy were both graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1896.

NEBRASKAN

Vol. 44, No. 33

Sunday, November 26, 1944

New Exhibit, 'Contemporary Art of Western Hemisphere,' Opens Today in Morrill Hall

The exhibition of "Contemporary Art of the Western Hemisphere," a collection of 103 paintings assembled and acquired by the International Business Machines corporation, on view at the university art galleries in Morrill hall, from Sunday, Nov. 26, to Dec. 17, reveals the various schools and techniques which dominate the art expression of this hemisphere. In this collection, the universal language of the artist has been used to interpret the Americas to the Americas—how its people live, what their traditions and occupations are, and what they look like.

According to Dwight Kirsch of the art department, this exhibit is more than a group of paintings. In these difficult days, it is a gesture of understanding and admiration for our allies and in the words of Thomas J. Watson, president of I. B. M., "With this collection, we once more affirm our faith that through the language of the artist, people will be better able to recognize those traits common to all men that bind humanity together in universal kinship."

Director of '45 War Show Tells Tryout Changes

Changes and additions to the schedule of tryouts for the 1945 War Show have been announced by Lucy Ann Hapeman, student director.

Sunday night schedule is now as follows:

- 7:00 Erna Lou Fisher.
- 7:05 Barbara Jean Olson.
- 7:10 Peg Shelby, Arleen Heins.
- 7:15 Elizabeth Lamb.
- 7:20 Janet Mason and Dorothy Manifold.
- 7:25 Hesperia.
- 7:30 Lorraine Wolta.
- 7:40 Towne Club.
- 7:50 Jan Wilson.
- 7:55 Kenny Bedricks.
- 8:05 Cecil Smith.
- 8:10 Jean Chiquist.
- 8:15 Rita Maginn.
- 8:20 Delta Delta Delta.

Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 28:

- 5:00 Betty Jean Holcomb.
- 5:10 Sigma Alpha Iota.
- 5:20 Marjorie Horstmann and Marilyn Nelson.
- 4:00 Bob Evans and orchestra.

In every instance, the paintings were chosen by local art juries who selected the painting that best represented the art development and character of the state, country or province. By this process, the company contrived a collection that gives a bird's-eye view of the people, traditions, landscape and architecture of this hemisphere, from the Straits of Magellan to the northern tip of Alaska. As might be expected, the method of selection used results in uneven quality of work representing different sections, and many varied standards of excellence.

In the 53 canvases representing the United States, the gallery visitor will find that landscapes predominate—desert and mountain, dust bowls and rich pasture land, smoking factories and sleepy villages, oil fields, wheat fields and timberland. In the space of a few feet, he can see winter in Mis-

Dr. H. Lesourd Talks Monday At Convocation

Dr. Howard M. LeSourd, dean of the graduate college of Boston university and professor of religious education of the Boston School of Religious Education and Social Service, will discuss "Education for Democratic Living" at a Teachers college convocation Monday at 4 p. m. in parlors XY of the Union.

Dr. LeSourd, who has traveled extensively in Europe and the Holy Land, is appearing in several cities across the country in the interest of better international and interracial understandings and relationships. This tour, conducted during his sabbatical leave, is sponsored by the American Palestine Education committee, a Protestant group organized for Jewish welfare.

Conducts Radio Broadcast.

Active in many areas of religious and social education. Dean (See LESOURD, page 3.)

souri, spring in Indiana and summer on the Maine coast. Among its inhabitants are farmers, lumberjacks, fishermen and miners—people working, people talking and people resting on their doorsteps.

Lincoln Artist Displays Canvas.

Of unusual interest to Nebraskans is the canvas by Barbara Ellis Ross of Lincoln, "Boathouse Island." This windswept scene, based on Mrs. Ross' residence at Epworth Lake park, shows cropped tree trunks, the aftermath of

L. Hopp Takes Position as UN Military Head

Capt. Leigh P. Hopp, formerly personal affairs officer and assistant commandant on the campus, has been made commandant of military units at the university, replacing Col. J. P. Murphy, who leaves for Omaha tomorrow to take over the duties of director of the schools division of the Seventh service command.

Captain Hopp came to the university after completing a month of special schooling at Washington & Lee university, Lexington, Va. Before that he commanded a specialist company and was in charge of communications in the field at Camp Crowder, Mo., where he entered active service in 1942. (See HOPP, page 3.)

Registration

Registration for the two political parties, Student and Progressive, will be held in the Union Monday from 4 to 6 p. m., according to Jeanne Rotton, chairman of the Student Council committee on political parties. At that time students who have not yet registered for a party or who wish to change their registration to another party may do so.

This Week At War

By Albert Reddish

Independents are looking toward Sumner Welles as the man to take over Wendell Willkie's leadership of the internationalist element. Welles, who is heard on a weekly radio broadcast over a Lincoln station Wednesday night, is one of the best-informed men in the United Nations on world affairs and is particularly well-informed on Latin American problems. Holding settlement of international peace as more important than any personal gain, the former undersecretary of state presents disinterested interpretation of current events and problems of peace.

In western Europe American and French forces which have revitalized their drive on Germany Thursday tightened their pincers on Germans trapped between the upper Rhine and the Vosges and threatened the border fortress of Strasbourg. The entire German front angling across France was caved in by blows of Lt. Gen. Jacob Devers' Sixth army group and Patton's Third army, which accomplished for the first time since the days of Attila the capture of Metz by a frontal assault.

As these new attacks were unleashed against the Germans, President Roosevelt and General Eisenhower placed directly before the American working man the problem of supply, which they reveal is critical, with soldiers dying at the front because supplies are slow reaching them. WPB Chairman Krug also announced that 40 percent of the (See WAR, page 4.)

See a Tassel . . .

SUBSCRIBE PRAIRIE SCHOONER