

Jayhawks Match UN Late Rally

Nebraska lost the first basketball game in her three road contests over the weekend as the University of Kansas tapped the Scarlets, 48-33. Coach Phog Allen used 18 players in his victorious conquest over the Huskers while Ad Lewandowski tried 10 Huskers in an attempt to stop the Jayhawks. The Blue and Crimson squad held a 23-14 lead at the end of the first half.

UN's Third Loss.

It was the third Big Six conference loss chalked against the Scarlets while the Kansans made their record stand at two wins and no losses.

To make a second half spurt Bob Hahn and Art Peterson tossed in a basket apiece plus a free throw each. Bob Costello marked a charity shot as did Dean Corder for the Kansans. The brief Husker rally brought the Nebraskans to within three points of the Jayhawks but the moment of nearness was short lived.

Rally Squelched.

Squelching the rally were Corder, Reynolds and Scott with three fast field goals making the count stand 30-21 and it was the last time in the game the Huskers came near to victory.

Two more games remain on the tour of the Huskers, tackling Oklahoma Saturday night and Norman Navy Zoomers the following evening.

Ottumwa Court Squad Battles I-State Quintet

The Iowa State College Cyclones will step out of the conference for their next game when they tackle the powerful Ottumwa Naval Base quintet at Ames Monday night.

The Skyers boast a veteran club which has chalked up five wins in seven starts. The only two setbacks were at the hands of the powerful Lincoln Air Base and the Iowa Seahawks. The Seahawk defeat was avenged last week in a thrilling overtime battle.

Every position in the starting Skyer lineup is filled by a cager who has had previous college experience. Leading the offense for the Ottumwa team is Jim Reese, high-scoring guard who was a member of the Wyoming N. C. A. A. championship team in 1943. His running mate in the back court will be either Jack Newell, who had three years of varsity competition at Idaho or George Leddy, former Seahawk ace. Leddy was recently transferred to the Ottumwa base and may break into the starting lineup against the Cyclones for the first time.

At the pivot position will be Russ Weiger who played varsity ball at Wisconsin and Marquette. Johnny Kraft, former Chapel Hill pre-flight star will give the Cyclone defense a rigid test from his forward position. Kraft, captained the Chapel Hill quintet in 1943. Rounding out the first five is Walker Lundberg who played at Marquette last year.

Coach Louis Menze will meet the Skyers' challenge with the same five who surprised many basketball followers by toppling Kansas State and Nebraska in conference games without too much difficulty. Judging from previous games, the Cyclones appear to be well balanced in scoring power. The latest scoring find was uncovered in the Nebraska Cornhusker game when Bob Mott came through with 18 counters. Expected to carry the brunt of the scoring attack along with Mott against the Ottumwa Skyers are Orlyn Feuerbach, rugged forward, and Jim Myers, who dumped in 24 points against Kansas State. In the back court to throttle the Skyer offensive, Menze will use the always reliable Captain Bill Block, defensive ace and Bob Petersen, outstanding floor man.

Following the Skyer game, the Cyclones will once again turn their thoughts to Big Six Conference play. They travel to Columbia, Mo., where they will meet the Missouri Tigers next Saturday night, Jan. 20.

Wings Easily Down Flyers

Lincoln Army Air Field's zooming Wings went through an easy tilt with the Fairmont Flyers Friday night, downing the Flyers by a 72-43 count at the Lincoln post.

Coach Stan Hall's second string played all of the first half and eight minutes of the last with the regulars finishing the contest. The subs had made a 31-21 lead at the half time and were out in front 45-28 when the high scoring regulars entered the game.

Shaddock Hot.

Bob Shaddock sparked the reserves scoring with 11 points, closely followed by teammates Red Mihalik and Ike Brady who accounted for 10 points each. Goose Tatum, clown prince of the Wings, tied for Lincoln scoring honors with Shaddock as he poured in 11 counters in the last twelve minutes.

Tom Dickson led the Fairmont crew with 14 points.

Although summer semester students signed honor pledges the system is being tried with the entire student body for the first time.

The Honor Council, which governs the functions of the honor system consists of both faculty and student members.
