War Show Bills Two Surprise Comedy Acts

BY RUTH KORB.

Hubba! Hubba! Hubba! Come and bring your suppa! War Show promises suppa dupa surprise acts! Two great comedy acts to be kept secret! Come one, come all! Bring your friends, your families, your cellmates, your dogs, your pet snakes! Laugh till you lose a lung!

Dress rehearsals for the War Show will be held every night at 7:00 in the Union ballroom and at 2:00 p. m. today, Director Lucy Ann Hapeman announced today.

The entertainment has everything! Men, beautiful legs, beautiful scenery, beautiful legs! Jim Yanney chases a woman in the form of a dance to an original song! He may even succeed in pinching her! Fred Teller gives us a taste of the Mississippi river with his low bass tones! Helen Vennum and Dothea Duxbury favor us with frozen-face singing! Selma Mandelberg and Lorraine Waita exercise their fingers on the accordion! Ernie Larson takes off his parachute long enough for a comedy singing number!

Hot Lips.

Janet "hot lips" Krause will receive many "bravos" with her blues singing! Billy Trombla and Peggy Shelley take a walk thru Harlem for a jitterbug number! Carl "I have a profound statement to make" Ziegler puts aside his Shakespeare and Harvard dictionaries long enough to make like a comedian with a song! The Strain twins don their blonde masks and nimble fingers to trip those ivory keys! Pete Anderson is going on a diet and is buying thousands of bow ties for his Sinatra number! Phyllis Fischer xylophones on a marimba!

Put the date in your little book! Feb. 23, 24, and 25! A free set of dishes will be given away with every performance! A wedding will be performed on the stage! Oysters will be served during acts! You might find a pearl! Make millions of dollars! Take a trip around the world! Don't miss it!

Trustee Board States Benefits Of Foundation

Scholarship funds, contributions for purchase of books and contributions for research work are among the direct benefits to university students furnished by the University of Nebraska Foundation, according to the board of trustees of the Foundation at a meeting in the Union on Feb. 15.

T. B. Strain, president, presided over the luncheon meeting, at which last year's successes were reviewed by the board. Director-secretary Perry W. Branch stated that it was impossible to point out the most outstanding contributions of the year, but named some of the important ones. Among those named was the Franklin E. and Orinda M. Johnson Faculty Fellowship which provides for outside research by faculty members.

Express Appreciation.

Chancellor C. S. Boucher expressed appreciation for the fine work of the nine-year old Foundation at the meeting. Director Branch pointed out that the main objectives continue to be "the receiving and administering of funds to make the university more effective in its work, more inspiring to its students, and more useful to the state."

In addition to president Strain and director Branch, officers of the Foundation are: H. S. Wilson, vice-president, and John K. Selleck, treasurer.

Brains Choose Beauty Queens For Yearbook

BY GLADYS GROSBACK.

The old adage that brains and beauty don't mix has been repudiated at UN by the selection of 10 university faculty members to choose the 1945 beauty queens for the Cornhusker.

The judges were Karl Arndt, Glenn Gray, Eugene Powell, Dwight Kirsch, Curtis Elliot, Lloyd Teale, D. W. Dysinger, Norman Hill, D. Williams and Don Glattly.

Judges are being announced at this time because of criticism raised last year when they were not revealed, according to Myra Colberg, editor. The judges' decision will be announced in the

Students Observe Day of Prayer

A World Day of Prayer Service will be held in the faculty lounge of the Union at 9:30 a. m. today. The Y.W.C.A. office announced today.

The World Student Day of Prayer is observed by Students in nearly every nation of the world. The service is sponsored by the World Student Christian Federation and all university students are invited to attend, according to Mary Ann Mattoon, Y.W.C.A. president.

National Delegate Speaks

Board Names R. J. Hurley Staff Member

Richard James Hurley, of the Catholic University of America, has been appointed divisional librarian in education and assistant professor of education at the university, the board of regents announced today.

Mr. Hurley is a graduate of the University of Michigan. He also holds the degrees of bachelor of science in library science from Columbia university, master of science in library science from Michigan, and master of arts in education from Columbia. His experience includes work in various public, school, and college libraries, and several years in the teaching of librarianship in the Catholic university.

New Library Plan.

Mr. Hurley's appointment is a step in accomplishing a new plan in regard to the organization of the new Don L. Love library according to F. A. Lundy, library director. The conditions prevailing in the old-style university will be changed to a great extent, he stated. This old-style university library provides the student with a large reading room on whose walls are shelved encyclopedias and other reference works and sets of bound periodicals. The book collection is housed in the stacks and direct access to these

Actors Stage Fourth Play Performance

BY WALLY BECKER.

After a conference with the theater director D. S. Williams, Dean T. J. Thompson announced Friday that an extra performance of "Skin of Our Teeth," will be given Monday evening at 8:00.

Demand for tickets has been so heavy that the three performances have been sellouts, prompting Dean Thompson to waive a university ruling against a fourth performance.

In the analysis of the play it was observed that whatever amateurism or lack of smooth action was present the opening night of "Skin of Our Teeth," was completely absent in the Friday night production. Action moved swiftly and smoothly. Actors punched their lines with vigor and fervor and the responsive audience was much more sympathetic and receptive than

Coeds Participate In ROTC Concert

The University ROTC Symphony band concert at 3 this afternoon in the coliseum will be the third in which coeds have participated. This year there are 56 girls, one less than the number of boys. In 1943 17 girls participated and last year there were 36, according to Mr. Donald Lentz, director of the band.

Mr. Lentz also states that altho 90 percent of the larger college and university bands have shut down completely or experienced a noticeable decrease in membership.

Sponsored by Col. J. P. Murphy, military commandant, the program for this afternoon will be:

- Overture in Spring Time, Goldmark.
- Seifried's Rhine Journey, Wagner.
- March Pantomime, Lentz.
- Triplets of the Finest, Henneberg.
- The Four Freedoms, Goldman.
- Malaguena, Lecuona.
- Andalucia, Lecuona.
- Gavotte from Classical Symphonic, Proloff.
- Italian Polka, Polish Folk Tune.
- Semper Fidelis, Sousa.

Miniature Peace Conference Session Formulates New Committee

Formation of a new committee on Education of Japan and Germany from delegates of committee 9 on treatment of Germany and committee 10 on treatment of Japan was a result of one of the conference committee sessions of the experimental peace conference yesterday afternoon.

A resolution was adopted in the meeting of committee 10 which stated: "A special committee should be organized from members of committees 9 and 10 to formulate a plan on education and report to the plenary sessions of the peace conference. The committee should organize a non-governmental 'International Education Association' to be based on work already done by the World Federation of Education Associations and the New Education Fellowship."

Janet Mason was chosen as chairman of the new committee and Dr. D. A. Worcester was named faculty advisor. Nations represented on this new committee are: France, United States, Russia, Great Britain, Belgium, Netherlands, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Norway, Denmark, Yugoslavia, Guatemala, China, Dominican Republic, Greece, New Zealand, Canada, Australia, Brazil, India, Union of South Africa, Philippines, Haiti, and Salvador.

Committee Reports.

The first report of this committee on education will be made at the March 1 committee session of committees nine and ten.

At the Big Three meeting called by Russia yesterday, the Crimean declaration was read and all three countries agreed to support it. China and France were also present at the meeting.

Committee one on world security heard reports of subcommittees at its session. The definition of "peace-loving" states as outlined in the Dumbarton Oaks agreement was clarified and two subcommittees were formed. The meeting ended with Bolivia calling a caucus of the small countries represented at the meeting.

Sub-committees Report.

Sub-committee reports on committee two, punishment of war criminals, also led the discussion in that committee. The sub-committee formed to list the war crimes of Germany turned in the list for Poland, Russia and France. The decision of the sub-committee on Japan favored the trial of the emperor of Japan and an army of reoccupation in Japan. Greece requested that war crimes committed by Bulgarians on Greece be given the same consideration as the war crimes committed by other axis countries, and the motion was passed.

Third sessions of conference committees of the experimental peace conference will be held Tuesday from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. Delegates are reminded of this next meeting by the planning committee, as preliminary resolutions will be drawn up at these meetings. Meeting rooms will be the same and if changed notices will be posted about the new room. The planning committee stated.

Motions to give Korea and Siam their independence and complete withdrawal of Japanese troops from the mainland of China were passed by committee three, territorial problems of East Asia. Protection of Korea and Siam was discussed in detail and the final decision was that the Security Council under the Dumbarton Oaks plan would provide protection for these and other countries. The questions of disposition of Indo-China, status of foreign concessions in China and the question of Manchuria were referred to subcommittees.

Criteria Voted On.

Criteria for disposition of territory reported by a subcommittee of committee four, territorial problems of Germany, were adopted at
