

AS I SEE IT

By

Chuck Peterson

Altho it's only the tail end of February; the baseball fans are all set to go. At least they're almost ready. It seems that the government has the baseball world in quite a dither with their new rules.

The government has asked to cut its travel down by 25 percent as compared to last year. However the action did come as a relief to some, who had expected that baseball might be cut out entirely. However, the "request" put the skids under the 1945 All-Star game, and perhaps the 45 World Series too. The directive stated: "The world series games will be held only if transportation and war conditions at the time permit." And that seems to be that for the 1945 baseball season...

The Chicago Cubs seem to have made another Dizzy deal only this time it was with the mad Russian, Lou Novikoff. It was only back in 1941 that the Cubs got Lou for only $100,000 and infielder Lou Stringer. That wasn't too much for the Russian had led the batting in every league that he had played in. But now it appears that the Cubs have released him outright to their Los Angeles club, and they don't seem to care who gets him. If you ask me any good outfielder will be quickly grabbed up and especially one that has as good a record as Novikoff. I guess the Cubs want to get rid of a "worthless" player, he and "worthless" Billy Herman.

Is Phog Allen sick, or is he just out of air? It's been over a week since his last blowout. Or did Lew's very true remark about the sour grapes drown him in (grape) wine?

Huskers Face Kansas State Tomorrow Nite

BY DON BAKER.

The Nebraska Cornhuskers will try to salvage their last Big Six game Saturday night when they face the Kansas State Wildcats at the Coliseum.

The Huskers have just returned from a week-long trip, during which they lost three games, but threw a big scare into the Cyclones and the Mizzou Tigers before going down to a two point and one point defeat, respectively.

The Husker improvement is almost sure to mean trouble for the K-Staters, who lost their last game to Kansas by one point. The Kansans have been slipping a little of late and this seems to be the Huskers' big opportunity to knock the Wildcats off, and take a little revenge on the Aggies for their last whipping.

The starting lineup for the Huskers will include big Art Peterson, the Big Six leading scorer, who leads with a total of 126 points. The other starters for Nebraska will be Jim Strahan and Bob Hahn at the forwards, Koenig and Hollins at the guard positions.

America's plans of hemisphere defense and successful prosecution of the war, Bryan exposed more than a hundred thousand feet of film to get the story of these nations.

Success Due to Films...

Bryan's success as a lecturer is due to the reality of his motion pictures and his natural eloquence and ability to translate the problems of another society into terms readily understood by an American audience, according to university authorities where he has spoken.

His detailed knowledge of the folkways of other countries have often led to his engagements by universities for series of lectures on a country or group of countries. He has given such series at the universities of California, Wyoming and Colorado and Dartmouth college.

Bryan is the author of two books, "Ambulance 464," an account of his experiences as a driver on the French fronts in World War I and "Siege," the story of the Polish capital's fall. He has also prepared a number of short film subjects for newsreel firms and has appeared on many network radio programs.

Bryan states that the secret of securing pictures in lands marked forbidden is to make friends with the natives and to be friendly and sincere.
