Julian Bryan Describes Chile In Absorbing Movie-Lecture

BY SAM WARREN.

In a movie-lecture convocation at the Union Thursday, Julian Bryan, Princeton-educated photographer and foreign correspondent, presented an absorbing account of the country of Chile and the attitude of Chileans toward prospective world conditions following the war.

"As an outsider, I find your peace conference studies here at the University of Nebraska very interesting, as any one would," said Mr. Bryan in opening his lecture. "We mustn't fail in what may be our last chance, before the world destroys itself, to make a lasting peace," he continued. "What is so encouraging about this last Big Three conference at Yalta is not that momentous decisions are being made, but that countries are getting together over the round table to discuss problems calmly, and in person instead of by correspondence." Such

Coeds Receive Mortar Board Tea Invitations

University coeds receiving invitations will attend the annual Mortar Board tea honoring high scholarship, held Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 in Ellen Smith hall.

Invitations to the tea were sent to coeds who attended school both semesters of the 1943-44 school year, carried at least 12 hours each semester, retained an 80 or above average for both semesters, and registered for 12 hours the first semester of this school year. No graduate or freshman students were included in the list.

Present Awards.

At 4 p. m., presentation of senior and scholarship awards will be made. Senior awards will be given to outstanding senior women, not Mortar Boards, for exceptional work in scholarship and activities.

Freshman honor scholarships will be presented at this time also. The scholarships, each worth $75, will be given to four students showing unusual ability in some specific field and retaining an 85 average for both semesters of their freshman year.

Peace Committee Groups Announce Final Resolutions

Adoption of final resolutions was the business of the 12 conference committees of the experimental peace conference at their meetings Thursday afternoon.

Chairmen of the committees have been asked by the planning committee to have a copy of the final resolutions turned in at the Union office by 2 a. m. this afternoon.

Mimeographed Copies.

The planning committee has mimeographed copies of the resolutions already turned in by several of the committees and these copies will be distributed to all organized groups concerned in the peace conference today or early Saturday.

The mimeographed copies will be used by house delegations in proposing amendments in the two plenary sessions of the conference.

discussions as this university conference, he stated, are helping toward that lasting peace.

Chile Distrustful.

While Chile appreciates our Good Neighbor policy in itself—despite what Mr. Bryan described as the "unfair report of your Senator Butler"—Chile is distrustful of the constancy of this policy. "What will you Americans do tomorrow?" is a question which many Chileans have asked Bryan. "And although I reassure them that it will continue," he said, "they smile and turn away."

A question of great concern to Chile is this: Will the United States carry on a healthy two-way trade with Chile? Millions of dollars of goods will come into Chile, they know, but will America buy Chilean goods in return? Already 75 to 100 million dollars' worth of copper from U. S.

A committee headed by Roberta Collins will continue to investigate the possibility of obtaining more lights for the campus and increasing police protection on the campus at night. These precautions are taken because of reports that coeds have been bothered after dark. The council plans to meet again next Wednesday if peace conference meetings do not interfere.
