I-State, Kansas Play Tonite For Big Six Championship

The Big Six basketball championship will be the high stakes tonight when the Kansas Jayhawkers and the Iowa State Cyclones tangle at Ames.

The Cyclones, fresh from their victories over Oklahoma and Kansas State, have been hard at work in preparation for the encounter which could mean the second championship for the Ames boys in two years if they manage to trip the Jayhawkers in the battle tonight.

The big threats to the Cyclones will be Gordie Reynolds and Charlie Moffett, the two starting forwards. In their recent game with Missouri, Moffett broke loose with a sensational burst of shooting that netted him a total of twelve points.

Myers and Feuerbach are set and primed for the Jayhawkers and unless something happens, Myers should annex the Big Six scoring championship.

The starting lineups:

Iowa State.	Kansas.
Myers	Reynolds
Feuerbach	Moffett
Mott	Heim
Block	Scott
Chamberlain	Peck

Conference . . .

(Continued from Page 1.) any of the suggested resolutions will choose a speaker to present the amendment at that time, according to the rules of procedure. The amendment and name of the speaker who will present it should be turned in at the Union office by Saturday noon, according to the planning committee. The Executive Committee will select from the suggested amendments those which it thinks best to bring to the attention of the plenary sessions on Monday and Friday.

Speakers Appear. The others will be referred to a Reference Committee and speakers will appear before this committee on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at 7 p. m. in the faculty lounge of the Union.

At the plenary sessions when amendments are proposed, the proponent will have five minutes to present the amendment. A person selected by the Executive Committee in consultation with the chairman of the interested conference committee will then be given five minutes to state an opposing argument. Five minutes will be allowed for questions from floor addressed either to the proponent or opponent of the proposed amendment.

Votes Taken. The vote on the proposal will be taken by voice or by a roll-call vote if there is a request for it. Consideration of amendments will be continued at the second plenary session.

After amendments have been disposed of, the second plenary session will hear the spokesman of the Axis powers for 15 minutes.

At this point in the second session the vote will be taken on the whole treaty as a unit together with amendments that have been adopted. This will be a roll-call vote with Great Britain, USA, USSR having 6 votes each, France and China with 4 votes each, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, the Netherlands, Norway, Poland, and Yugoslavia with two votes each, and the remaining United Nations and Denmark with one vote each.

Votes Cast. If the majority of the votes cast

Baseball Starts At Minnesota

The Minnesota baseball team, that promises to be one of the university's strongest teams in Gopher baseball, will take shape when the candidates report for spring practice this March 6 at the field house.

The team, under the able direction of Coach Dave MacMillan, will have eight lettermen by the time of their first game with Iowa on the 27th of April.

The lettermen will include catchers Hudson Mealey and Bob Graiziger, pitchers Matt Nolan and Jack Verby, infielders Al Diaz, Red Williams and Arnold Lehrman, and outfielder Earl Bruhn.

Pitchers Nolan and Kelly are slated for outfield work when not on the mound.

The schedule:

- April 27-28, Iowa at Minneapolis.
- May 4-5, Michigan at Ann Arbor.
- May 18-19, Wisconsin at Madison.
- May 26, Purdue at Minneapolis. (double header).
- June 1-2, Northwestern at Evanston.
- June 8-9, Indiana at Minneapolis.

Northwestern U Coeds Go All-Out For Date Bureau

ACP—A car, sufficient coupons, and two cute coeds will await two lucky men who call the Junior prom date bureau before Feb. 3.

The Northwestern university announcement of the opening of a date bureau for increasing attendance at the Prom had just appeared when Ellen McConnell, who with Nancy Sifford, and K. C. Snyder is in charge of the bureau, received an interesting phone call.

A jabbering race between two feminine voices was distinguished at first; then the following was heard: "We've got a car, we've got coupons. Furnish the date and we'll furnish the rest."

Naturally, every applicant must furnish full details about himself so that a date of matching disposition can be secured for him. Questions and answers for girls who phone in are somewhat as follows:

Height? Five feet seven and three-quarters inches. Age? Twenty. Color of hair? Dirty blond. Build? Well, I don't exactly look like Porkie the pig. Personality? Haven't had any complaint yet.

Calls for men are also coming in; however, many more are urgently awaited. An order was recently placed for two red-heads with auburn hair, five ft. one, brown eyes, and the rest.

The attention of everyone is called to the fact that the person who calls for the bid will have to pay for it.

are for the treaty it will be regarded as adopted. If a majority oppose the treaty, it will be sent to the reference committee who will report an amended treaty back to the conference in 15 minutes. During this time speeches may be made, favoring or opposing the treaty. A roll call vote will then be taken on the revised treaty. In this case it will carry if Great Britain, USA, Russia and other votes totaling eight additional votes favor it.

owned copper mines in Chile are being taken from Chile to the United States. Although these mines were purchased completely legally by Anaconda Copper Company (with one check for 75 million dollars, equal to minimum yearly output) Chileans resent this exploitation. Untold amounts of nitrates, used all over America, are imported from Chile, the richest nitrate-producing country in the world, and the second richest Latin American country.

Resents Attitude.

But even more than this, Chile resents the condescending attitude of Americans toward Chile in particular and South America in general. Mr. Bryan's beautiful pictures of Chile's large thriving cities of Santiago, Valparaiso and Balboa, of the country's universities, of village festivals where poets are treated with great respect, and of families who speak any of four languages that a visitor would choose—all of these point out the irony in this condescending American attitude.

American and Chilean engineers working side by side today, many exchange students from universities and colleges all over America and Chile in the future, and the timeless common interests of both peoples will bring the United States and Chile close together.

Phone Calls Via Power

Research is to be continued after the war to perfect a system whereby telephone conversations can be transmitted over electric power lines. A similar system can be used over telephone lines to step up their capacity. The verdict: "It is physically possible to furnish telephone service where there are rural power lines but no phone lines . . ."

Phi Gams Beat Sig Chis 21-13

The Phi Gamma Delta quintet Tuesday nite defeated the Sigma Chis by the score of 21 to 13.

The Sig Chis took the lead with a quick basket, but from then on it was all Phi Gam. The Fijis, led by Mauser's clever play, ran the score up to 13-6 at the half.

With their victory, the Phi Gams drew up close to the Betas, pioneer Co-op, ATOs and the Sig Eps to make the race a five cornered affair. The outcome of the Beta-Sig Ep game last night should clear up the race as the Sig Eps need a win to stay in the race, and a win would all but assure a Beta victory.

DePauw Student Guild Presents Radio Quiz Battle

"What is the name of the woman who is head of the Spars?" "Who are three DePauw professors whose names begin with 'H'?" "Name three islands of the Marianas." "If there are two ducks behind a duck and two ducks in front of a duck, how many ducks are there?" Laughs, groans, chortles, guffaws, and loud applause—all were a part of a recent radio quiz battle presented by the student radio guild.

Student vs. Prof

Following the theme that DePauw university is a school where students can challenge their professors in a battle of wits and not be afraid of the after effects, the DePauw radio guild presented a quiz show, "Profs. vs. Coeds."

When questioned by master of ceremonies, John Olcott, as to whether men or women slept most in all his classes, Prof. Hixson replied that women, of course, slept more. "There are more of them," he said.

It was a good "fight," and the coeds finally came thru for the final honors. Nevertheless, the professors could claim an indirect victory. They're the ones who taught the courses that taught the coeds to learn to answer questions like the ones they did answer.

Ohio State Coed Returns as Grad, Through Accident

COLUMBUS, O.—(ACP)—Margaret A. Bagg, grad, returned to Ohio State at the beginning of the fall quarter to complete her senior year in the College of Arts and Sciences only to be greeted with "What are you doing here? You've already graduated!"

Miss Bagg, a major in English and arts, was astonished when she learned she had received 15 hours of credit for proficiency in French during her freshman year. Miss Bagg had merely gone into the college office to check on her credits for graduation in December, but discovered that officially she had been graduated the previous June, altho she had never applied for or received a diploma.

Miss Bagg, who had never given a thought to entering the graduate school, decided to do so without obtaining a diploma from the College of Arts and Sciences. Having filled out her fall quarter schedule and fee card as "senior," Miss Bagg was somewhat bewildered by the unusual procedure. Miss Bagg plans to enlist in one of the women's service corps after receiving her master's degree.—Harry Kohn in The Lantern.

In the confines of the AWS lounge at the University of Washington, there is a small, inoffensive brown door marked "Date Bureau." All a fellow has to do is describe his dream girl, and no matter how fussy or peculiar his desires may be, he'll have a chance to meet her the following Friday.
